Russians Oust US Envoys

Seems Retaliation Against American's Deportation of 3 Russian Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Russian diplomats — one of them attached to the Soviet delegation at the United Nations — have been thrown out of the United States during the past six months on charges of spying.

The Russian government, the State Department claims, has now retaliated by making espionage charges against two members of the U.S. diplomatic mission at Moscow and forcing their withdrawal.

The two Americans are military officers, as were the two Russians ousted from the embassy here.

The State Department declined to disclose any of the evidence against the Soviets, but Press Officer Henry Suydam said, "We got the goods on them and out they went."

The incident which the State Department announced late yesterday, after months of silence on the ouster of the alleged Russian spies, had more than ordinary significance because of the policy situation which is developing among Russia and the Western Powers.

The Kremlin has been making a big play for British and French cooperation in an obvious effort to place heavy strains on the Western alliance. Every evidence of difficulty between Washington and Moscow coming at such a time carries the risk of widening Western differences by emphasizing differing relations with the Soviet Union.

The two Americans whom the Russians accused of having engaged in "espionage work" are Lt. Col. Howard L. Felchlin of New York City and Arlington, Va., who was assistant military attache at the Moscow Embassy, and Maj. Walter McKinney of Santa Cruz, Calif., the assistant air attache. The Soviets declared them "persona non grata" or unwelcome on July 3. The United States rejected the charge as "baseless" in a note yesterday, but it informed Russia they would be withdrawn.

Maj. McKinney is on vacation outside Russia and will not return. Col. Felchlin will leave the Soviet capital Thursday. He will fly to Berlin with Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who is going on a month's leave.

A letter published in the Soviet trade union newspaper Trud on March 25 accused Felchlin and McKinney and two other Americans. Trud said the Americans had left behind on a train, after a trip to Vladivostok, an intelligence report on the main cities and stations between Moscow and Khabarovsk. The U.S. Embassy at Moscow declined comment at the time.

The three Russians whose ouster from the United States was disclosed were named by the State Department as:

Cmdr. Igor A. Amosov, assistant naval attache, Soviet Embassy, who was declared personally unaceptable last Feb. 3 and left Feb. 8.

Alexander P. Kovlyov, second secretary of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, who was asked to leave on Feb. 3 and who departed Feb. 10.

Lt. Col. Leonid E. Pivnev, assistant air attache, Soviet Embassy, ordered on May 29 to leave this country. He left June 6.

Pivnev's name made the newspapers on at least two occasions during his stay in the United States, once when he attended the 1951 Detroit air races and last April when he attended a meeting of the Baltimore chapter of the American Rocket Society to hear a discussion of the possibilities of atomic-powered flight.

The State Department announcement, while saying nothing of the kind of spying it accused these men of doing, suggested that the ouster of the American officers from Moscow was a retaliatory move by the Russians. It said this must be true since there "was no foundation whatsoever" for the Soviet action against them, and denounced as "baseless" the charge that they engaged in spying. In Moscow, Ambassador Bohlen said no specific charges were set forth in the Russian note.

Two Are Approved As Postmasters

James D. Williams, Ionia, and William R. Zink, Knob Noster, have been approved by the Senate for postmasterships in those communities.

Note of Thanks

After a long stretch of hot days and equally hot nights when sleep seems a joke, we express gratitude for last night's cool breeze that made a real snooze possible.

Mostly fair and continued hot tonight and Wednesday. High Wednesday near 100. Low tonight in the 70s.

One year ago today here high 99, low 70; two years ago 96, 69; three years ago 80, 59, rainfall 3.47 inches.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 79; 99 at 1 p. m., and 100 at 2 p. m. High on Sunday .101.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 55.8. Steady.

Last Year's Noise Is Not Repeated—

Sedalians Enjoy 'Safe and Sane' Fourth Marked by Calm Silence

Silently, quietly, calmly, Sedalians for the most part observed Independence Day and the usual popping of firecrackers, torpedoes and other explosives was practically nil.

In some of the outlying sections of the city over the weekend and Monday night sporadic booms of firecrackers could be heard, but it was as near a noiseless Fourth of July as had been experienced here for an exceptional term of years.

Merchants in the downtown section of the city, who in years gone by had stocked up on firecrackers and fireworks, desisted this year from purchasing them and the source of supply was limited to outlying stands just outside the city limits, and buying there was not too brisk.

The past three days, covering the holidays, were "not as a firecracker" and many who had contemplated trips decided to forego them. Then, too, as a safety precaution they thought it best not to venture out on the hot pavements and fight traffic, which due to the heat wave was more limited than had been expected earlier.

It was not a day, however, without its celebrations. Private picnic parties were held at the parks and elsewhere and relatives from other cities and towns were here.

Swimming pools at both Liberty and Hubbard Parks throughout the day and evening had unusually large patronage from those wishing to take a dip to cool off, while the theatres, air-conditioned, had large attendances.

The police, due the fireworks ban, had an easy time of it compared with the deluge of calls they were required to respond to in observances of the Fourth for several decades.

The youngsters made a happy time for themselves at the playgrounds of the two parks mentioned, and also at Vermont and Washington Parks. The various devices for their amusement were kept constantlly in action and as a whole the Fourth of 1954 was what was described as a "safe and sane" one.

Oklahomans Vote in Tense Primary Poll

Some Counties Have Guards, Plainclothes Officers Watching

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Temperatures as hot as the primary campaigning—in the 100-degree range—baked Oklahoma voters today as they balloted in an election that forced Gov. Johnston Murray to assign National Guardsmen and plainclothes officers to some counties.

An estimated 500,000 votes were predicted. Early reports said that the voting was heavy in Oklahoma County but light in Tulsa County—the state's two biggest counties.

Democratic and Republican primaries are being held for the U.S. Senate, governor, Congress, state and local races.

National Guardsmen turned out in five eastern counties—Sequoyah, Adair, Cherokee, Leflore, and Pittsburg—to carry out Murray's orders to assure an honest election.

Plainclothesmen were assigned to some precincts in Oklahoma, Tulsa, Pottawatomie, Latimer and Creek counties by Murray.

OKLAHOMA County, the most populous area of the state and which includes Oklahoma City, is expected to cast close to 100,000 votes.

A check of the martial law counties showed that most of the troops assigned to the polls were teenagers. They laughed and joked with voters. Their orders are to observe the voting. If they observe any irregularities, they have orders to report to the election inspector, who in turn will call the sheriff.

Murray ordered martial law for the five counties after charges were filed against 10 persons last week for voting irregularities.

Guardsmen will be in uniform and will have authority to make arrests. However, they will be unarmed. It is Oklahoma's first election day in history under martial law although the governor's father, former Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, gained nationwide fame in the 1930s by calling out the guard more than 30 times during his term.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr's bid for a second term has produced the hottest race of the campaign. Opposing him is former Gov. Roy J. Turner, who has criticized Kerr's attendance record in the Senate and expansion of his oil company interests in foreign nations.

Kerr and Turner, both former governors, are millionaire oilmen and have spent freely in the campaign. Observers rate the ract a tossup.

Republicans have contests in the Senate and governor races that are attracting interest but the total GOP vote will probably not exceed 50,000.

Northside Citizens Sponsor Gala Fourth of July Picnic

The second annual Fourth of July picnic held at Hubbard Park was attended by between 1,500 and 2,000 people Monday with nothing left of the abundance of food which consisted of fried chicken, hot dogs and fish, by the time the day was over.

The youngsters did a good job drinking up all the lemonade furnished them free by the Northside Citizens Club, which sponsored the picnic.

Wilson Foster, chairman of the picnic, and Ira Cason, chairman of park recreation, were more than pleased with the way people seemed to be enjoying themselves the entire day. In fact, as the day progressed more and more people kept coming until during the evening the park was filled and it was hard to get around. "We would like to see people take advantage of the park and its facilities like that all summer long," said Cason.

The Sedalia Park Board had offered $25 for the picnic.

The list of winners in the various swimming events follows: Diving—swan, Q. Jones, first, R. Cline, second and T. Hawkins, third; jacknife, R. Cason, first, R. Cline, second, and T. Hawkins, third; jackknife twist, R. Cason, first, R. Cline, second, and T. Hawkins, third. In the little experts relay race winners were O. Jones, T. Hawkins, H. Whitney and E. T. Sims. The losing team was R. Cason, C. Cason, L. C. Gay and S. Robinson.

Professional, Sedalia vs. Air Base: Swan, Parker, Air Base, first, Morehead, Sedalia, second, Marshall, Sedalia, third; jackknife, Marshall, Sedalia, first, Benton, air Base, second, Morehead, Sedalia, third; half gainer, Marshall, Sedalia, first, Parker, Air Base, second, Hawkins, Sedalia, third; one-and-a-half dive, Marshall, Sedalia, first, Hawkins, Sedalia, second, Morehead, Sedalia, third; jack swan, Morehead, Sedalia, first, Parker, Air Base, second, Marshall, Sedalia, third; full gainer, Marshall, Sedalia, first, Hawkins, Sedalia, second; Uarker, Air Base, third;p rofessional relay race, the Sedalia team, L. Boggess, T. Hawkins, M. Carter and E. Carter.

Buddy Carter is in charge of the swimming pool.

K.C. Chamber Group Will Arrive Here Wednesday for Talks

Members of the Area Development Committee of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce will come to Sedalia Wednesday where they will meet for a dinner at the Bothwell Hotel with members of the Agricultural Committee the Farm Marketing Committee and the board of directors of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be in the form of a round-table discussion with Donald S. Lamm as narator. The topic will be "Agriculture."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has returned from a 19-day vacation trip and his office said he would be back at his desk this afternoon.

Sedalia Scouts Return Tired But Proud of Camping Awards

It was about 11 o'clock Saturday night that the 13 Boy Scouts of Troop 52 arrived home from camp where they had been since about 1:30 a.m. the previous Sunday.

Nearly of the boys had earned their own money for the week of camping and they earned lots of other things, too, while they were there as they passed tests for various ranks.

The 13 boys from Sedalia were Dickie Luper, Clayton Allcorn, Waymon Hofheins, Billy Dennis, Gordon Corson, Larry Owen, Donald Edde, John Strain, Eddie Arquitt, Clyde Decker, Larry Decker, Carl McIntire, Jr., and Perry Fairfax.

The boys had two cabins and Charles Hofheins was mighty proud of some of the things the boys did. Why, they even won a prize for the neatness of one of the cabins. Hofheins was with the boys at camp the entire time, and while it was hot, and he had a hard time keeping track of the boys and seeing that they did the things they should, he had a grand time too. The hardest thing he had to do was getting them up in the morning and seeing that they brushed their teeth and gave themselves a little extra grooming that they would have rather not done.

One of the boys, Carl McIntire, Jr., was chosen by his fellow Scouts for the honor campers award, the Order of the Arrow, a national organization.

It was the great outdoors for the boys and one of the things they did was hiking. In fact, some of them would get up at the crack of dawn and start out. Those boys were working for ranks when they did that.

They liked the swimming and canoeing and one of the biggest things at the camp was the water carnival in which Troop 52 won first place in three events and second place in two events.

The boys worked for the Pa-he-tse patch. Divided into groups, the boys work to pass two out of four in the field of sports tests which include rifleman, archery and bait casting. In axmanship they had to know how to use an ax and how to take care of an ax. The group on nature study had to be able to know ten different kinds of birds, ten different plants or trees, two hours of conservation, the planting of trees or plants around a pool. Then there was the aquatic group, continuous swimming for 15 minutes.

It was a busy week for the boys and something they liked was the mess hall. Always they were ready to eat. The food was prepared for them by cooks who spend the summer at the camp preparing meals. But the whole week was fun, doing the things that help boys to be better Scouts, climbing a little higher in their ranks by passing tests and doing things all boys like to do.

Young Teacher Found Dead In Culvert

Body Appears Beaten, Decomposed; Had Laid There 2 Days

DELTA, Mo., (AP)—An attractive 20-year-old rural school teacher, her neck broken and her jaw fractured, was found dead in a culvert near here last night.

The teacher, Miss Bonnie Loretta Huffman, had been reported missing since Saturday morning. Her half-brother, Bobby Thiele, found her abandoned car with the lights burning in the middle of the road, six miles from here.

Police found no signs of a struggle at the spot where her badly decomposed body was discovered by members of a searching party. But her dress had been torn and hrere were signs of a struggle near her abandoned car.

Glasses she had been wearing and her purse and a necklace were missing. Authorities today were searching for them as they grasped for even a meager clue to the girl's violent death.

Miss Huffman, who had been teaching in this area for three years, was popular in this southeast Missouri town of 450 persons. She graduated from Delta high school in 1950 and later attended Southeast Missouri Teachers college at nearby Cape Girardeau.

Miss Huffman had gone to a movie at Cape Girardeau Friday night with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Bess of Oak Ridge, Mo. After the show, she left for home alone.

Her mother, Mrs. Killy Thiele, was not upset when her daughter failed to return Friday night because she understood Miss Huffman might spend the night with the Besses.

Deep impressions in the gravel near the abandoned car, police said, indicated another car had beens tarted at high speed. They said the gravel indicated her car had not been stopped suddenly.

Police said they found an earring on the left running board and the other earring and a small seat cushion in the road. Police said they believe the victim stopped the car for someone she knew, then was forced into the other car.

Miss Huffman, who had brown eyes, brown hair and was five feet 10 inches tall, taught rural grade school children at Buckeye School near here.

An autopsy showed that death was caused by a broken neck and dislocated jaw. The body was so badly decomposed, the doctor said, that it was impossible to tell if she had been raped. The date for the coroner's inquest has not been set.

She was to have started work yesterday in a summer job with Missouri Utilities Company in Cape Girardeau.

Her brother, Bobby told police he thought her car had broken down when he found it Saturday morning. He said he called a boy friend of hers, Douglas Hiett of Delta, and that Hiett said he had not seen her.

Bobby said he then called the Besses, who told him they had last seen her at the movie in Cape Girardeau. Her brother then returned home and his mother notified police.

The body was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eakins of nearby Allenville as they were driving along the road at 9 p. m. yesterday. They had volunteered for the search.

Two Die In Local Mishaps

One Accident Occurs At Cross Timbers, Another at Green Ridge Over Weekend

Two local deaths marred a clean traffic slate over the July 4th weekend, with another person in critical condition at Bothwell Hospital.

In the first accident, a 1950 Chevrolet pickup truck and a 1942 Ford collided head-on 2½ miles north of Cross Timbers on Highway 65 at 11:30 Sunday night. Donald Dee Cothern, 15, of Cross Timbers was killed, and Thelma Nesselbusch, 15, Fristoe, is in critical condition at Bothwell Hospital. They, along with Myrtle Darlene Baily, 14, Fristoe, Jimmy Clark, 17, Cross Timbers, and Ruth Clark, 12, Cross Timbers, were riding in the Ford. Cothern is thought to have been driving.

Miss Bailey suffered severe shock and undetermined injuries while Jimmie Clark had a back injury. Ruth Clark suffered lacerations of the forehead and an injured right arm.

Riding in the pickup truck was Martin A. Charlton, 40, Macks Creek who received chest injuries, and his wife, who received lacerations of the forehead and chin. Five Charlton children were with them at the time of the accident, Jo Ann, 7, Ardeth, 9 months, Delbert, 3, Martin Ray, 5, who received lacerations of the forehead, and James, 10, who received a fractured right ankle.

Also in the Charlton vehicle was Alfred Clevinger, 15, Kansas City, who received back injuries, and Don Campbell 16, Cross Timbers, who received possible chest injuries.

In the second accident of the holidays, M/Sgt. Harold Lewis Murray, 43, assigned to 340th Headquarters, SAFB, was killed around 5:30 p.m. Monday when his 1950 Ford coach blew a tire and ran off temporary highway B, three miles west of Green Ridge.

Riding with him at the time of the accident was his wife, Mrs. Orlette Murray, 35. She received lacerations of the face and leg, but her condition was considered good.

According to Mrs. Murray, the car was traveling west on the gravel surface when a tire blew out. The car started skidding, and swerved off the road into a ditch. Murray was thrown through the front of the windshield.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed for Sgt. Murray. His body was taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Wheat Harvest Peak Is Evident In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The peak of the 1954 wheat harvest was reflected in thousands of cars of grain jamming rail terminals here today.

Receipts over the 3-day holiday week end were somewhat below earlier expectations.

Arrivals late Friday night, Saturday, Sunday and yesterday totaled 2,428 cars, as against earlier estimates of 3,000 to 3,500.

The new shipments poured in on top of 4,749 cars on track here at the start of the week end, according to R. E. Clark, chairman of the closed car section of the Association of American Railroads.

This makes a toal of 7,177 cars, but many of these were unloaded as grain trade employees worked over the holiday period to keep the wheat moving.

Trade sources cited the high government support level as compared to market prices, as being responsible for keeping a large share of the crop in storage on the farm.

The support price announced last week is equivalent to a price of $2.54 at this market. Today wheat here was bringing $2.13½ to $2.42½ in early trading, the higher figure for the scarce high protein wheat.

Mexico Wheat Harvest Tops Expectations

MEXICO, Mo. (AP)—The wheat harvest, about ended in this area, was excellent with just about everybody's yield doing better than they thought it would.

Ninety per cent of the 300,000 bushels received by the MFA Cooperative Grain and Feed Co. here has graded No. 1 Yields have averaged about 40 bushels to the acre, which is higher than in 1953, and the moisture content for most has been 10 to 61 per cent, according to Maurice Maze, mill manager.

H. E. Stone Jr., Centralia, had 61½ bushels per acre on a 13-acre plot. Leopold Brothers of Auxvasse averaged 54¾ bushels to the acre.

Dies of Head Injury

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Six-year-old John Richard Moore died here yesterday of a head injury suffered Sunday in a fall from a horse.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard John W. Moore of Independence, Mo. The accident happened 15 miles north of Springfield at the farm of his uncle, H. E. Moore.

A TRAGIC END—Death spoiled the 4th of July weekend of M/Sgt. Harold Lewis Murray, 43, whose body is shown behind the steering wheel of his wrecked car on temporary highway B, three miles west of Green Ridge, Monday evening. Mrs. Murray, who was riding with him, received lacerations of the face and leg and possible other injuries, but her condition is good. (Walch Photo)

Traffic Accidents Take Toll Of Eight People in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Traffic accidents killed eight persons in Missouri over the 84-hour Independence Day weekend, the State Highway Patrol reported today. Several others are injured so seriously they may have to be added later to the list of fatalities.

The patrol record showed there were 243 accidents on Missouri streets and highways from 6 p. m. Friday, July 2, to 6 a. m. this morning. Besides the eight fatalities there were 188 injured.

Over a 60-hour Fourth of July holiday in 1953 the record was 192 accidents, 7 killed and 166 injured.

Patrol safety experts figured drivers are careful by fits and starts. With the tremendous amount of holiday traffic the accident record for the weekend was lower than in usual three day periods.

"We'll have more accidents next weekend than we did the weekend just passed," one patrol spokesman predicted gloomily.

That was the case, too, during the month of June. With no long weekends but with drivers apparently driving too fast and with too little caution, a total of 81 persons died in wrecks during the month. That almost wiped out the reduction in traffic deaths established earlier for this year. In June, 1953, there were 56 traffic fatalities in Missouri.

For this year, up to 6 a. m. today the patrol reported traffic deaths totaled 434, compared with 471 for the same period in 1953.

US, Britain Push German Sovereignty

Poltical, Legal Experts Open Talks To Draft Program

LONDON (AP)—The United States and Britain pushed ahead today with plans to give West Germany almost full sovereignty—including rearmament powers—in their two occupation zones if France does not ratify the European army plan.

Political and legal experts of the two Allied nations opened meetings at the Foreign Office yesterday to draft a program of joint U.S.-Briish action to be launched if the European Defense Community is not set up soon.

The conferences here are expected to conclude before the end of this week. Under study are proposals to:

1. Give the West German government almost complete independence in the American and British zones, including powers to raise a defense army.

2. Abandon the U.S. - British.-French High Commission in Bonn and set up American and British embassies.

Such action would leave the French zone, in southwest Germany, the sole occupied territory in the federal republic and would put the French under acute German pressure to get out of that.

The drafting of plans here was ordered by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill at their meeting in Washington last week. They agreed then that West Germany should be given "its place as an equal partner in the community of western nations."

The French were not invited to take part in the talks here, the first such omission of France from joint Allied planning on Germany since the war.

Report Hits Tom Clark For Silence

House Group Claims High Court Post Was No Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee, in a disputed report, criticized Justice Tom C. Clark today for declining to testify after he joined the Supreme Court but said it had turned up no proof of wrongdoing by Clark while he was attorney general.

The document drew immediate fire from Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Colo), one of the five subcommittee members, who said Chairman Keating (R-NY) pulled a "sneak play" by his "unwarranted political release . . . of his proposed libelous report."

Rogers defended Clark, an appointee of former President Truman, and said most of the report had not been approved in subcommittee or even considered by the parent judiciary group.

The report, dealing with the subcommittee's inquiry last year into operations of the Justice Department, said the investigators were "troubled" because some controversial actions were traced back to Clark. Clark was attorney general in 1945-49 before going to the Supreme Court.

Keating said in an accompanying statement that Clark's failure to testify was "unfortunate" because "we were deprived of the benefit of any light which might have been shed by a former member of President Truman's Cabinet."

Clark could not immediately be reached for comment. But Rogers called Keating's statement "completely baseless" and accused the New York Republican of violating his own fair play code in making the report public.

The 135-page printed report contained no signatures of subcommittee members in its major sections. At various points "Minority views" were contained under Rogers' name. Separate views were also entered by two congressmen who were members of the full committee but not the subgroup.

There was no explanation why the report, transmitted to the parent committee 11 months ago, has not yet been acted on there.

Here are some of the cases about which the committee wanted to question Clark:

James A. Mullally, a criminal division attorney during Clark's service as attorney general, was involved in an investigation concerning his work for a private client while still in the hire of the government. Clark advised the committee he received no deragatory reports about the attorney.

Reunion Is Held by Airmen Formerly Stationed at SAFB

Sunday, July 4, was a gala day for some 25 families, all formerly stationed at the Sedalia Air Base during the years of World War II.

It was a reunion of some of the old boys at the base, held at Liberty Park Sunday afternoon. There had been cards sent out to most everybody whose address could be found, but of course there were some complications.

"I go to the post office once a week," was the comment of Diamond Gorache, of Smith Center, Kan., "When I got my card Saturday night, I jumped in the old buggy and started driving. Here I am." After lunch, Gorache was a little tired, but he was preparing for another 400 mile drive back that night.

This was typical of the spirit of these fellows. They spend an hour just looking over their old "yearbook" of the base, reminiscing over war experiences, and coming upon pictures of some of the fellows that weren't as lucky as they.

Next year this annual reunion will be held on July 3, with a much larger attendance expected, since this was only the first year.

The following were present from out of town: Virgil W. Potes, Kansas City; J. C. Alford, Apalachicole, Fla.; Diamond Gorache, Smith Center, Kan.; A. C. Hodges, Kansas City; William Osborne, Kansas City; Edward K. Schutt, Otterville.

A much larger group of Sedalians and their families was present, those being: Lester Hepburn, Larry Riley, Antonia Reis, Roger Fuller, James P. Cowan, Jr., Samuel H. Green, Jack Faber, G. P. Reiniger, Ernest Roy, Walter O. Jacobsen, Robert Stalling, Bob Susmilch, Al V. Domingue, Garland Frost, Joe Wolf, and Bill Yarboro.

Traffic Deaths Top 300

Toll Is Much Less Than Was Expected; Total Violent Death Roster Nears 600

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's traffic deaths over the long Fourth of July weekend today appeared running around 100 below the estimates of safety experts.

The death toll in automobile accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday was 333. This figure compared to the National Safety Council's estimate of 430 traffic fatalities for the 78-hour period.

Late reports may boost the death toll but the council expressed admiration for the "good sense" demonstrated by the nation's motorists during the holiday weekend.

"Congratulations to the drivers on a good job," said Ned H. Dearborn, council president.

Drownings and miscellaneous accidents boosted the country's violent death toll to nearly 600. The Associated Press survey showed 184 persons drowned and 79 lost their lives in a variety of accidents.

Fireworks were blamed for the deaths of three youngsters compared to only one death from fireworks during last year's two-day July 4 holiday and two in 1952. Killed were Carol Hayward, 12, Harvey, Ill.; David Colby, 13, of Augusta, Maine; and Walter Kesser, 15, Ebensburg, Pa.

The traffic deaths compared to the record July 4 three-day traffic toll of 366 in 1952 and to 262 in last year's two-day holiday. A survey over a comparable nonholiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, June 18, to midnight Monday, June 21, showed a total of 430 violent deaths, including 225 traffic; 135 drownings; and 70 from miscellaneous causes.

Every state except Utah reported at least one traffic fatality. California, Michigan and Texas were the leaders in violent deaths.

The toll by states (traffic, drowning and miscellaneous):

Alabama 13 7 1, Arizona 10 0 0, Arkansas 5 7 0, California 31 15 2, Colorado 2 1 2, Connecticut 3 0 0, Delaware 2 1 0, Florida 11 5 2, Georgia 12 5 0, Idaho 1 0 0, Illinois 9 5 4, Indiana 14 5 5, Iowa 5 2 1.

Kansas 5 1 0, Kentucky 8 5 1, Louisiana 1 9 2, Maine 1 3 2, Maryland 5 2 2, Massachusetts 3 2 5, Michigan 31 7 6, Minnesota 3 4 0, Mississippi 4 4 1, Missouri 7 8 3, Montana 4 5 0, Nebraska 5 1 1.

Nevada 1 0 0, New Hampshire 2 3 2, New Jersey 10 2 1, New Mexico 2 2 1, New York 9 9 6, North Carolina 15 9 0, North Dakota 1 0 1, Ohio 20 2 4, Oklahoma 5 2 0, Oregon 1 0 1, Pennsylvania 12 2 4, Rhode Island 1 0 0, South Carolina 4 14 3, South Dakota 2 0 0, Tennessee 5 6 4.

Texas 24 13 4, Vermont 1 0 0, Virginia 7 3 4, Washington 3 4 1, West Virginia 5 2 2, Wisconsin 7 6 1, Wyoming 1 1 0.

Thieves Take Watches At Ellison Sport Shop Early Monday

Thieves broke into the Ellison Sport Shop, 211 West Main, early Monday morning, gaining entrance through a plate glass window.

A complete list of the loss is not yet complete. However, there are at least six watches missing and $35 worth of damage done to the window.

Upon making an investigation, police found that a glass cutter was used on the window, the thieves pushing out a square portion of the glass. A further investgiation later in the day disclosed that there might have been a break-in attempt at the Kanter Used Furniture Store, and there were marks on the window which appeared to have been made by a glass cutter.

Man Killed by Car

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Frank M. Beck, 78, a baker, who was sruck by a motor car Friday, died last night at General Hospital.

Beck's death was listed as the 23rd traffic fatality here this year as compared with 37 at the same time last year.

Crossroads Comment . . . by G.H.S.

Right while I'm reading a fascinating article on "Oil's Fascinating Past" in Cities Service "Service magazine"—a hot weather topic if I ever read one—and thinking maybe I'll get the germ of an idea for an overheated comment, Guy Peabody telephones a suggestion:

How about putting a pan of water out in the backyard for the birds? One wonders what the feathered creatures do during times like the past few weeks when there's precious little dew for even the insects to get their feet wet.

If you want a little sideshow place a big pan of water in the yard and sit by a window while the birds come to take a drink and a bath.

And don't forget your own dog or cat these hot days. Animals need extra liquid intake, too.

Guatemala Turns Back On the Reds

GUATEMALA (AP) —Guatemala's new government has turned its back on the Communist world in a bid to get on better terms with its Western Hemisphere neighbors.

Elfego Monzon and Carlos Castillo Armas, top colonels in the five-man junta, told a news conference yesterday their administration would reverse the policy of the ousted government ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and would refuse to deal with the Soviets or their Iron Curtain allies.

The colonels said Guatemala also would rejoin the Organization of Central American States (ODECA) and support the Organization of American States (OAS) and the United Nations.

This was considered an appeal for diplomatic recognition. So far two countries—Costa Rica and El Salvador—have served notice they will take up formal relations with the five-day-old military regime.

The leftist Arbenz government dropped out of ODECA last year accusing the other members of aggressive intentions toward Guatemala. Six weeks before Castillo's anti-Communist revolution toppled Arbenz from power, his government received a 10-million-dollar arms shipment from behind the Iron Curtain.

Monzon, who is titular head of the junta until it elects a permanent chief July 17, said yesterday the police have completely filled the country's jails with 2,000 Communists suspects and now are preparing new places of confinement.

Monzon said 1,000 persons have taken refuge in foreign embassies. The case of each of these will be studied, he said, and no safe conducts out of the country will be granted for any persons wanted for crimes.

He said no request for safe conduct has been made by Arbenz, who is in the Mexican Embassy.

The colonels announced they would suspend the national land law, under which Arbenz cut up and redistributed large land holdings, until a new constitution is drafted. They said, however, public works projects started under the old government will be continued and social gains consolidated.

Campaigner Does Good Deed For Another

MOBERLY, Mo., July 3 (AP) —While out campaigning for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney, Ray Falzone spotted smoke coming from a parked car as he drove into Thomas Hill.

Falzone found a fire in the glove compartment, emptied the contents, and put out the fire, suffering a burn on one finger in the process.

Later Falzone found he had performed a good deed for his opponent. The car belonged to John Carmody, incubment and also a Democratic candidate.

Oppenheimer? He'll Return To Secluded Science Life

PRINCETON, N. J., July 3 (AP) —In one sense, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is returning to the ivory tower from which he was shaken loose 12 years ago to direct the making of history's first atomic bomb.

Stripped of access to his country's secrets, the famed physicist makes it clear he will now devote himself again to the relatively cloistered life of abstract science.

But in another sense, the ivory tower will never be the same.

For Oppenheimer also makes it clear he will never again be the politically naive professor he was back in the '30s. In those days, he has said, he was so indifferent to the affairs of the world around him he didn't even read newspapers.

"I should think," he says now, "that you wouldn't step twice in the same river. History doesn't repeat itself that way. At least, I've learned to read newspapers since then."

Is he ever sorry he "learned" to read newspapers?

His gaunt, bird-like face broke into a wry grin. His intense blue eyes relaxed. "I think I am."

The scientist, who lost his long fight for security clearance reinstatement because of "fundamental defects of character," was interviewed in the office where he directs—and expects to continue to direct—the Institute of Advanced Study.

Like the rest of the building, the office was serene. Somewhere upstairs, Albert Einstein was working alone in a small room on his profound theories. In Oppenheimer's office, the blackboard was clean.

The office was serene. The man in it wasn't.

He chain-smoked and fidgeted, but then he always has. He talked cautiously and nervously of his future, but only in response to questions. He volunteered little or no information. One got the impression there was much he wanted to say especially about his own feelings—but didn't because he was reluctant to appear to be seeking sympathy.

Would he comment on reports that he was so bitter he intended to live and work abroad?

"It is not true," he said, "that I have ever thought of leaving this country, nor can I imagine circumstances under which I would."

But what of his own feelings? Was he bitter? Did he feel mistreated by the government he had worked for? Is there a deep, abiding sense of hurt? Oppenheimer, refusing to "bare his soul," as he said, declined to answer such questions.

Does he think he had a fair hearing?

"I hope," he said, "people will study the record of this case and reach their own conclusions. I mean not only people interested but scholars who have a legal background. I think there is something to be learned from it."

Would he make a last appeal of his case to President Eisenhower—as the President says he can?

"It is a pretty unusual procedure," he said. "It never occurred to me before. Beyond that, I have no comment."

Britons Enjoy First Unrationed Meat in 14 Years

LONDON (AP)—Britons have regained a freedom they haven't enjoyed for 14 years. They are now able to go into a butcher shop and say:

"Give me about three pounds of lamb chops, and while you're at it toss in a couple of pounds of bangers." Bangers are mysterious sausages.

Meat rationing is ending.

"It is a coincidence," said Prime Minister Churchill in a recent speech, "that this freedom should come to us on what the Americans call Independence Day. We are in a mood to value the restoration of this bit of our independence."

Actually, meat supplies have been good—and off-ration purchases often possible—for some months, but tomorrow the whole ration book becomes a relic.

There are going to be some roast beef binges.

Meat is the last of the rationed foods. Ration books have been part of the British way of life since 1940.

Nuns Enroll For Printing Course

PITTSBURG, Kan., July 3 (AP)—Two Catholic nuns have enrolled as student printers at Pittsburg State College printing school.

They are Sister Mary Loretta Schirmer and Sister Mary Stephen Pendergast, both of the Order of St. Benedict.

Sister Loretta, who is from Atchison, Kan., now teaches home economics at Lillis High School, Kansas City, Mo. Sister Stephen, also from Atchison, teaches home economics at St. Joseph's School, Beatrice, Neb. Both expect to teach printing courses at their schools next year.

Both of the nuns spend six hours daily in the print shop, studying hand composition and learning how to use presses.

Gets Shot After His Remarks About Texas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philip E. Ahlm, 49, movie stunt man shot a week ago during a Hollywood party after making derogatory remarks about Texas, died last night in general hospital.

The shooting took place during a party at the home of oil heiress Barbara Clampitt. Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder was Ed Neely, 61, of Texas. He is the husband of the former Leah Clampitt, sister of the hostess.

After his arrest, he told officers the shooting occurred after Ahlm "kidded" him about his Texas accent and made derogatory remarks about that state and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Neely is free on $10,000 bail.

Autopsy on Sar's Son

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — An autopsy today is expected to determine if the son of radio's Andy suffered a fatal kidney ailment because of accidental poisoning.

John Joseph Correll, 7, succumbed yesterday after being hospitalized four days. He was the son of Charles J. Correll of the Amos 'n' Andy show.

The coroner's office said the boy may have contacted an insecticide or some other poisonous substance that affected his kidneys, but only the autopsy could provide a definite answer.

Suspenders Industry Worries About Trend To Elastic Trousers

LONDON (AP) —The British suspenders industry says it can't be self-supporting if trousers are.

Feeling the pinch since a recent trend here toward elastic waistbands, the National Assn. of Brace, Belt and Suspender Manufacturers has sent 100,000 leaflets to British men's shops. It warns the retailers they will lose the profits on eight million dollars worth of suspenders sold each year if they go out of style.

Also, the association contends, it is unhealthy to constrict one's waist. And it asks: What will happen when the elastic gives out and a citizen is left with no suspenders?

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pharmacist David Karlin reported to police that exactly the same thing happened to him last night as last Friday:

A gunman walked into his drug store and robbed him of $75. Moreover, the bandit was the same man—a Negro about 24 years old, dressed in a blue sports shirt and brown pants.

Truman Can't Leave Hospital Right Now

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman continued to make progress in recovering from his operation but there was no indication when he'll be able to leave the hospital.

"It's still too early to say how soon Mr. Truman will be leaving," Robert E. Adams, acting administrator at Research Hospital, said last night. "Visitors still are limited. If they were not, there would be an almost constant line waiting to see him."

The former President's gall bladder and appendix were removed in an emergency operation June 20.

Ancient Skull Found Near Midland, Tex.

SANTA FE, N. M., July 3 (AP) —Scientists have found in a prehistoric water hole near Midland, Tex., what could well be the oldest human skull ever discovered in the Western Hemisphere.

Experts say the man lived here more than 12,000 years ago during the ice age when huge mammoths, ancestors of the elephant, roamed the area. How much earlier the bones date back to is impossible to say.

The find of the human bones coincides with discovery that there was a previously unrecognized period of extreme desert conditions in what is now the American Southwest that far overshadowed dryness of the region in modern times. That drought, in fact, may have lasted for thousands of years.

There have been several other reports of human remains found in the new world dating back to the end of the glacial period, but archaeologists who worked on this one consider the evidence here to be the most satisfactory and non-controversial of any so far.

The discovery was disclosed today by Dr. Fred Wendorf, archaeologist with the New Mexico Laboratory of Anthropology, and Dr. Alex Krieger, Archeaologist with the University of Texas. They had held up the informational until validity of the find was confirmed by several months of chemical tests.

The archaeologists are anxious to avoid making any extravagant claims that this is the oldest or first of its kind in this part of the world. At the same time, they consider it of great significance.

For 25 years scientists have hoped to find skeletal remains of Folsom Man, who inhabitated the American continent 100 centuries ago. They have found his camp sites near onetime water holes. Spear points and implements have been discovered, but human bones definitely tied to that period have not been unearthed.

The discovery made public today was found below a Folsom site.

"It is considerably older than Folsom," Krieger said "The geology shows that at least two periods of great climatic upheaval must have elapsed between the time this person lived and the beginning of the Folsom era."

NATO Plans Big Maneuver For July Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today a major maritime exercise will be staged by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Channel Command July 16-25.

Ships and aircraft of the NATO forces will be provided by Belgium, France, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. They will include about 20 destroyes, escort vessels and patrol craft and 45 minesweepers, as well as some 30 naval vessels and auxiliaries making up convoys. There will also be merchant ships in the convoys.

The "attacking" forces will include submarines from the Netherlands and the United Kingdom, fast patrol boats of the Norwegian, United Kingdom and United States navies, and aircraft of the United Kingdom and Allied air forces in central Europe.

The convoys will be defended from "attack" by aircraft of the United Kingdom Coastal Command operating in conjunction with the surface escort. Surface and air forces will work in close conjunction throughout the exercise, the department said.

The defense of the convoys against air attack will be provided by the air defenses of Belgium, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

Yacht Hit by Cannon Firing Salute for Win

BOSTON (AP)—When Francis Leblanc's yacht Glee won a race in the South Boston Yacht Club's holiday regatta yesterday, the judges' boat fired a small cannon in salute—and the wad encasing the powder charge went right through the Glee's sail.

Leblanc said the wad missed him and his two-man crew by inches and "scared the life out of us. We'll probably have to buy a new sail."

He said the mishap occurred because the cannon had been pointed across the finish line instead of away from it.

CIO Says Wage Boost And Tax Cut Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wage increases and income tax cuts, the CIO says, are what's needed to give a lift "badly needed for a sagging economy."

Citing Commerce Department figures showing the nation's wage and salary income dropped from 202 billion dollars last August to 193 billion dollars in April, the CIO publication Economic Outlook said yesterday the best way to halt this "recession" is to put more money in the hands of the consumer.

Woman Wins 19 Year Battle For Freedom From Mental Hospital

NEW ORLEANS, July 3 (AP) — Mrs. Louis Hartway 61-year-old widow freed from Michigan mental institutions after a 19-year battle, said she wants to aid other patients she believes confined illegally.

"I'd like to clean up the mental institutions," she said after her arrival here by plane from Detroit. "Those places must be exposed. I want to help those other poor souls. But I want to recuperate first."

Her release was granted in Detroit yesterday by Circuit Judge Lila Neuenfelt who ruled that she had been committed illegally.

Mrs. Hartway said she was aided by Miss Mary W. F. Speers who spent 16 years in mental institutions in Michigan until released by Judge Neuenfelt on June 23, 1952. Last June Miss Speers, through her attorney, filed suit at Detroit against the State of Michigan, Wayne County, the City of Detroit, four doctors and others for 18½ million dollars. Miss Spears was arrested in September 1936, on a bad check charge and was committed while awaiting disposition of her case.

Mrs. Hartway was arrested in 1935 during an argument over a debt owed her and then held for observation.

She charged that patients in Michigan institutions are "humiliated" and victims of "brutality." She said that she was "nearly murdered" Jan. 11, 1936, in the Wayne County General Hospital during a quarrel with an unidentified attendant over food.

Mrs. Hartway, a native of New Orleans, was interviewed at the home of her daughter. The two women had not seen each other since Mrs. Cassiday was five years old. Mrs. Hartway also has three brothers and six sisters here.

Congress Highlights . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators and congressmen return from a July 4 holiday breather for the last lap of a session President Eisenhower has predicted will produce a constructive program.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California says any fair appraisal by the voters in November will credit the GOP-controlled Congress with more accomplishments than those achieved by recent Congresses under Democratic presidents.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) takes a different view, saying that while some important measures will be on the books he thinks the Republicans have "come up with nothing new."

Miss Helen Sousley Exchanges Vows With Mr. Seth Edman Friday Evening

Miss Helen Sousley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sousley, 402 South Engineer, became the bride of Mr. Seth N. Edman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Edman, Kelly Lake, Minn., at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, June 11, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street length dress of white organdy with white accessories and her corsage was of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Irene Gustason, sister of the bride, was attired in a street length dress of salmon pink shade and her accessories were of white. Red roses formed her corsage.

Mr. Melvin Sousley, brother of the bride, served as best man.

The dress selected by the bride's mother for her daughter's wedding was of navy blue nylon and her corsage was of pink roses.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home with guests numbering 64. The three-tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the bride's table and assisting at the reception were Mrs. Melvin Sousley, Mrs. Opal Marcum, Mrs. Charley Peoples and Mrs. Cecil Bohon.

The bride will reside at the home of her parents while the bridegrom is stationed at Elemdorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska.

Emmett Crowley Drowns In Lake of Ozarks On Weekend Outing

Emmett Edward Crowley, 23, Kansas City, drowned in the Lake of the Ozarks eight miles south of Barnett Sunday.

Crowley, who with his wife and three other couples, were on a weekend outing with Robert Dysart, 24, Fayette, decided to swim across a cove at Golden Beach to Twin Bays and he was almost ten feet from the bank when he sank. Dysart made a dive for the body but was unable to locate it immediately. Two hours later it was recovered. It was taken to the Kidwell Funeral Home, Versailles, and later to Fayette, his former home.

Past German Air Head Gets Parole

RATINGEN, Germany (AP)—July 6 (AP)—Air Field Marshal Erhard Milch, 62, who built Hitler's great World War II bomber fleet, has been released from the U. S. war crimes prison at Landsberg and now lives in a modest three-room apartment here with his pretty 29-year-old blonde niece.

Milch was released several days ago. Conforming to a new policy, U. S. authorities did not announce that the one-time state secretary in Hermann Goering's air ministry had been paroled. News of Milch's release was made public by the social welfare office here, where he was required to register after his return.

He was convicted at the Nuernberg war crime trials and sentenced in April, 1947, to life imprisonment for advocating and exploiting slave labor in Nazi aircraft factories. The sentence was reduced to 15 years in 1951.

The terms of his parole were not learned. U. S. High Commissioned to comment.

Milch was not in today when news reporters sought to interview him. His niece, Ingeborg Gehl, said "He's out seeing about his job."

His return to freedom was so quiet that not even his neighbors knew he was back until they read about it in this afternoon's newspapers.

Information Director After 'Imperialism'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Director Theodore C. Streibert of the U.S. Information Agency has told his men to hit hard on this theme: "Red imperialism" is the only imperialism on the march in the world today.

In a message to USIA' 217 operations posts in 76 countries, Streibert said yesterday the Communists—who constantly raise the cry of "imperialism" against the United States and others—have in fact "led country after country into the iron tentacles of Red colonialism."

"It is up to the U.S. Information Agency," he said, "to help make sure that people everywhere know with whom and with what they are dealing, before the conspirators succeed in their evil designs for seizing power."

Call In Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee called witnesses today for questioning about what Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) termed Communist efforts to use the Army education service to indoctrinate GIs in World War II.

Knowland Raises Bigger Issue—

Reappraisal of Foreign Policy May Be Tougher Than Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is beginning a reappraisal of its foreign policy which may prove to be much more "agonizing" than Secretary of State Dulles foresaw.

Dulles was talking only about a reshaping of U.S. policies in Europe when he served notice on France several months ago that this country might undertake an "agonizing reappraisal." But now Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California has raised a far more sweeping issue over the possibility of United Nations membership for Red China.

The issue essentially is: At what point in its efforts to get along with allies should the United States decide the struggle is not worth the result, and strike out on its own.

What Knowland has proposed is that if United Nations members override America's objections and bring Red China in one U.N. door, the United States should walk out the other.

He has not claimed that this is an administration view. Indications are, in fact, that he would be opposed in the State Department. But he has said that he would resign the majority leadership and crusade for his proposal. He has asserted, furthermore, that he is getting many expressions of popular support.

While some members of Congress have aligned themselves with Knowland, others have declared that U. S. policy toward Red China should not be frozen, and that withdrawal from the U.N. would be a grave error.

The whole purpose of U.S. postwar diplomacy has been to work with friendly nations in expectation of greater security through collective strength.

But in the past year the process has become increasingly difficult. France has persistently delayed action on a European defense treaty which would make West Germany independent and rearm it. It was to prod the French into action that Dulles spoke of a possible agonizing reappraisal.

Now the long-impending danger of a break with Britain over Red China is becoming much more acute. This, coupled with the probability that France will recognize the Chinese Reds as part of an Indochina peace deal, has forced the issue of Red China's membership to the fore again.

There is great opposition in the Eisenhower administration and in Congress to letting Communist China into the U.N. The question thus arises: What should the United States do about it if Allied nations force it anyway.

The present answer to that question in the State Department, so far as it can be pinned down, is that the United States should stick with the U.N. and its allies whatever happens.

But Knowland, by giving an answer of an entirely opposite nature, posed the issue whether Red China policy may not mark the breaking point with the Allied governments. Taken in conjunction with Dulles' restudy of European policy on which State Department officials have been quietly at work for some time, this raises a fundamental question of what basic American foreign policy should be like in the future.

There have been enough recent debates on foreign policy to make it clear that the choise of basic direction is limited to about four possibilities. Those are:

1. Preventive war — The Truman administration repudiated this possibility when it was widely talked about several years ago. The Eisenhower administration has committed itself to a policy of peace. Yet in some official quarters the idea of making war on Russia occasionally pops up, the argument being that the West presumably holds an edge. But the idea is foreign to all U.S. traditions. And the European nations are frightened to death of the whole idea of war and could not be counted on to provide any support for such a policy.

2. Western Hemisphere fortress —This concept was much talked about in the early debate preliminary to the 1952 election. The idea was that United States has ample power and resources for its own defense, that its allies are not too dependable anyway, and that if they cannot stand on their own feet they cannot forever be propped up. This notion was disputed by those who contend that the United States is dependent on many vital raw materials from foreign sources and that it could not exist as the powerful nation it is without cooperation of countries outside the Americas.

3. Island strategy — This concept, representing a kind of bridge between the "fortress" policy and the policy of alliances—fits with many of the facts of America's position in the world today but does not embrace all of them. Essentially it holds that America's best allies are those on islands—Japan, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Britain. By extension it would include stout anti-Communist nations like Spain and South Korea—both peninsulas. It does not make provision, however, for a defense in the heart of Europe based on either Germany or France. It is in line with some speculation at the State Department that an alternative to a French-German reconciliation is a peripheral strategy, meaning a system based around the rim of Europe in places like Britain, Spain and Italy.

4. Security through strength — This is the policy which the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have both followed. It depends for its success on strong and reliable allies and on getting along with them. It has cost the United States many billions of dollars in military and economic assistance and it is the policy which administration officials presently intend to pursue to the limit.

Nevertheless, it is also the policy which would have to undergo the acid test of congressional and public support in any future great debate. And such a debate seems certain to develop by the end of the year if Britain, France and many other nations join with Russia and various cold war neutrals to vote Red China into the U.N., and if France meanwhile persists in blocking the European Defense Community with Germany.

Wholesale Users Will Have Higher Gas Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale customers in Missouri and Kansas would be among those forced to pay higher natural gas rates if an application for increased rates by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., Kansas City, is approved.

The company has asked the Federal Power Commission for an 18 per cent increase in wholesale natural gas rates, amounting to $12,128,000 annually.

The new rates would go into effect Aug. 1 and would be in addition to higher rates established May 1.

Oops! Wrong Picture

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Tulsa World didn't get a picture of a Fourth of July traffic jam yesterday—it got a picture of a plane crash instead.

The World said it sent commercial photographer Howard Hopkins aloft to get a picture of a traffic jam. The plane ran out of gas and it crash-landed at the intersection of U.S. 66 and State Highway 33.

Hopkins and the pilot both walked away from the crash unhurt. The big traffic jam the photographer had been looking for all day formed around the crashed plane.

But Hopkins found, to his horror he had used his last film taking pictures of the crash.

County Agent Gives Report On Poisoning

(Ed. Note: Several reports have reached the Pettis County extension office of poisoning from sudan grass. To alert farmers to the problem, we are reprinting at County Agent Merle Vaughn's request some observation made on prussic acid poisoning made in 1953.)

Some cattle were affected by prussic acid poisoning on sudan pasture this past summer. And the trouble consistently showed up within a few minutes to an hour or so after the cattle first entered the field. This was shown in a survey conducted by county agents in 18 counties. Prussic acid poisoning in these counties was reported on 39 farms. These were located in Southwest and South Central Missouri—the areas hardest hit by the drought. However, thousands of acres were safely pastured.

J. Ross Fleetwood, University of Missouri field crops specialist, checked reports. He said that occurrence of poisoning soon after the stock first entered the field and started eating sudan seemed to be about the only consistent factor in the several cases.

In 29 cases, poisoning occurred on the day cattle were turned into the pasture. In four cases, where cattle had previously been safely pastured in the field but taken out to let the sudan recover, poisoning occurred immediately after they were turned back into the fields. In six cases additional cows going into fields being safely pastured were poisoned. This occurred immediately after these new additions got into the field. Poisoning occurred on certified and uncertified—both sweet and common. Also trouble was reported on certified Piper sudan. Soil treatments on the fields involved varied from none to heavy applications.

Fleetwood summed up the situation with the statement that we are justified in continuing to use sudan grass for summer pasture, but always remembering that it can be dangerous. He suggested waching cattle closely when they are turned in and to have a veterinarian either present or alerted to give quick service if needed. during the first two hours after turning in.

"Reduce the number of breakins, too," he said, "by having a good fence around the sudan field."

RLDS Church Leads Vacation Bible Class

A Daily Vacation Bible School was conducted at the RLDS Church in Knob Noster each afternoon the past week. There were 49 enrolled in the Bible school.

Mrs. Lyle Green was general superintendent and the teachers were: Miss Marilyn Ginn, Mrs. Carl Vick, Mrs. Uel Butler, Mrs. E. L. Yokley, Jr., Mrs. J. T. Nutt, Mrs. Roger McCarroll, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Don Chick and Mrs. Fred Brendel.

Elder J. T. Nutt assisted with the worship service and Mrs. E. L. Yokley Jr. was the pianist.

Refreshments were served by the women's department of the church. There was an achievement program at the church at 8 o'clock Friday evening, when there was an exhibit of the work.

A picnic was held Saturday afternoon.

SAFB Team Manager Invites More Games

M/Sgt. Calohan, manager of the Sedalia Air Force Base baseball team, informed the Democrat - Capital that several games which the Airmen were scheduled to play have been canceled. He said that because of the cancellations and the changing of the dates for the state semi-pro tournament, his team's schedule is incomplete.

The Air Force team would like to schedule games with baseball teams in the area of some 100 miles. The manager specified that if necessary the team would even travel a farther distance and would play all their games away from Sedalia. A couple of Sundays in August are open for the Air Force as well as numerous week nights.

Teams interested in scheduling games with the Air Force team are asked to contact M/Sgt. Calohan personally at the SAFB, telephone 6100, extension 260.

CAA Agents Arrange Stop Here Wednesday

The Civil Aeronautics agents will be at the U.S. Highway 50 West airport July 7 where they will conduct written examinations and answer questions concerning aviation in the locale.

They will journey on to another scheduled destination unless business in the territory compels them to stay longer. They will probably leave around 11 a.m. unless appointments are made for the afternoon.

Dean of Engineers Dies in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Julius Eppes, 87, dean of the Missouri Pacific Railroad's locomotive engineers who died of heart disease at the line's hospital here Saturday.

Eppes, who lived in suburban Clayton, retired in 1943 after spending most of the previous 60 years in a locomotive cab. He began his railroading career in 1882 as a roundhouse cleanup boy at Belmont, Mo. A year later he became a fireman and was promoted to engineer in 1902.

He is survived by one daughter and one son.

US Gives Over $2 Billion To Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has poured more than two billion dollars in military and economic aid into Indochina over the past four years.

An additional billion dollars is tentatively scheduled to aid French and anti-Communist Indochinese armies in the year which began July 1—unless a truce ends the 7½-year-old war.

The biggest share of American aid—about a billion in arms and economic supplies — moved into Indochina in the last fiscal year after the Eisenhower administration decided to double American help in a determined effort to crust the Communist threat.

This increased flow of guns, planes and military equipment meant the United States was carrying 65 per cent of the bill for prosecuting the war in the 12-month period. The percentage would remain the same in the forthcoming year, barring a truce or military collapse.

Prior to the decision to boost the volume of aid, American assistance had averaged about 350 million dollars a year since 1951. This was about 30-35 per cent of the financial cost of the conflict to the French government.

The sergeant and his wife, Barbara, have three children: Joanne, ten, Gary, seven, and Ricky, two. Detraz was gratuated from the Grave Center High School, Kentucky.

Former GOP Chairman Turns From Politics

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Wesley Roberts apparently has turned his back on Kansas politics for the time being at least by accepting employment with a New York investment and brokerage firm.

Associates of the former Republican National chairman here said he has disclosed that Lehman Brothers has retained him as a consultant in its municipal bond department.

Roberts' employment has been confirmed by Frank Mannhem, a partner in the New York firm.

Lehman Brothers has been a major handler of millions of dollars in turnpike bonds and other bond issues throughout the nation.

It was one of the bond houses which sought to handle the 140 million dollars in bonds to be issued for the Kansas Turnpike. Management of the Kansas bonds, however, has been awarded to two other firms, Smith, Barney & Co., New York, and First of Boston.

Fishing Party Tackles Tough 45-Foot Shark

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The master of a party fishing vessel told today of "the big one that got away"—and fifty witnesses backed up his story.

Capt. J. B. Mathews, skipper of the Capt. Bae Strickland, and his crew fought a losing seven-hour battle with a 45-foot whale shark in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday.

"It was the biggest thing we've ever seen outside a plaster cast of a whale in the New York Museum of Natural History," said Karl Dronke of Newark, N.J., who was aboard with his wife and son, Karl Jr.

Mathews and his crewman, Milton (Sonny) Payne, had an idea they's run into a specimen of the world's biggest fish when the Capt. Bae Strickland shoved off Sunday for a day's fishing in the Gulf, with more than 50 persons aboard.

Mathews had spotted a hugh whale shark in the fishing grounds 50 miles off John's Pass a week earlier. He hooked the whale shark on a 370-pound test line then but the line snapped like a thread.

Sunday, he was prepared with "tackle" that included a foot-long shark hook, three-foot chain leader and 500 feet of five-eighth manila line. This was double spliced into the anchor cable which was an inch thick, with the capstan as a "reel."

When the customers began hauling in cobia up to 25 pounds, Mathews knew the whale shark was nearby, for these are free-loading fish which trail the shark for tidbits.

The Capt. Bae Strickland made a dozen passes at the whale shark before Payne sank the hook into the big fish's lower jaw.

"The crew played it like any other fish," Dronke said. "Mathews kept a tight line on him and Payne handled the capstan reel. They'd throw the boat in reverse now and then to take up slack, then shut off the engine and let the whale shark tow us. Some aboard complained because the captain wouldn't stop and let them catch grouper.

"The whale shark didn't seem to bleed. At least it didn't attract any other sharks.

"The party fishing boat Atlanta came alongside and took off those who'd had enough, but we stayed. So did about 25 others."

The ship's log showed the whale shark towed it 18 miles during the seven hours the fight lasted. Then it gave a lunge, snapped the line and left. Mathews estimated it would weigh 15,000 to 20,000 pounds.

Jewish People Have 300th Year Fete

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Jewish Tercentenary, commemorating the 300th anniversary of Jewish settlement in this country, was proclaimed formally yesterday.

Ceremonies were held on the steps of the congregation Shearith Israel, founded in 1730 by descendants of a small group of Spanish refugee Jews who landed in 1654 in New Amsterdam, the old Dutch name for New York.

The proclamation fixed the period of the tercentenary between Sept. 12, 1954, and May 29, 1955.

Three rabbis read the proclamation, which was signed by leaders of Orthodox, Conservative and Reform Jewish rabbinic and synagogue bodies.

The proclamation, addressed to the nation's five million Jews, called on them "to pray for the continued peace and prosperity of our country and all its inhabitants and to dedicate ourselves to the ideals of our faith within the freedom of American democracy."

Blame Communists For Broadcasts

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—French officials accused Communist-ruled Hungary today of broadcasting radio appeals in Arabic for an uprising against the French in Tunisia.

Officials said they had traced the three-times-daily broadcasts beamed to the strifetorn North African protectorate to a station in Budapest, the Hungarian capital.

The broadcasts advise Tunisians not to negotiate with France, declaring that "only fighting can bring the complete independence of Tunisia." They are addressed to 'nationalists and Communists."

Big Problem Is How to Face Daily Rut After a Vacation

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The big problem facing millions of Americans today is "How can I go back to the daily rut?"

Some, worn out by the long holiday weekend, are overwhelmingly anxious to return as quickly as possible to the security and order of their job in factory of office.

Freedom is a great thing—no doubt of it—but it has meant to them nothing in the last three days but traffic jams, indigestion, sunburn, crying children and mosquito bites. The only place they would like to go this morning, other than to the office, is to a restful hospital on a quiet street.

Others, however, have been spoiled by the ecstatic freedom that went with the 168th anniversary of Amerian Independence. They hate the idea of returning to responsibility and yearn to run barefoot and kneedeep in liberty until the snow flies.

No matter what your attitude toward getting back into harness may be, you will find some consolation or grounds for self pity in the following literary aspirins for your holiday-wounded mind:

"It is not good to have too much liberty. It is not good to have all one wants."—Blaise Pascal.

"I tell you, liberty is the best of all things; never live beneath the noose of a servile halter"—Sir William Wallace.

"Every vat must stand upon his own bottom"—John Bunyan.

"Every man for himself, and God for us all"—Cervantes.

"Liberty in the lowest rank of every nation is little more than the choice of working or starving"—Samuel Johnson.

"If all the year was playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work"—Shakespeare.

"Nothing befalls any man which he is not fitted to endure"—Marcus Aurelius.

"Endure and persist; this pain will turn to your good by and by"—Ovid.

"Of all the ways of life but one—the path of duty—leads to happiness"—Southey.

"There is no substitute for hard work"—Thomas A. Edison.

"Let us go forth and resolutely dare with sweat of brow to toil our little day"—Milton.

"Who first invented work, and bound the free and holiday rejoicing spirit down to the ever-haunting importunity of business? —Sabbathless Satan!"—Charles Lamb.

"Work is not a good. Then what is a good? The corning of work?"—Seneca.

"A life of pleasure is the most unpleasing life in the world."—Oliver Goldsmith.

"A perpetual holiday is a good working definition of hell"—Bernard Shaw.

Mars Loses a Lake

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese astronomers were puzzled today over the disappearance of a "lake" on the planet Mars, now making one of its rare close approaches to the earth.

Tsuneo Saeki, a leading Japanese authority on Mars, said observations made from the Osaka Electrical Science Hall failed to disclose the landmark.

It was clearly visible in 1939 under similar conditions, Saeki said.

Benson Says High Supports Hurt Farmers

WARSAW, Ind. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson told a Farmers Day audience today that farmers, already caught in a cost-price squeeze, are being hurt further by high support prices.

He cited specifically the rigid support on the nation's basic feed grain, corn, and the encouragement of wheat and cotton production beyond the country's demands.

"Artifically high supports for the basic commodities in the face of declining demands," Benson said, "have resulted in continued production at levels far above current market demands. The result is back-breaking surpluses of crops such as wheat and cotton and the necessity for more stringent production controls than most farmers will wish to live with, year in and year out."

Benson said he has recommended that eight million acres of wheat, planted under stimulus of World War II crop needs and maintained under high price supports, be returned to grass. He said it costs about $700,000 a day to store the present surplus.

He explained that under the administration's plan of flexible price supports a farmer could study market prices and determine for himself which crops would be profitable for him.

This alternative is far preferable, Benson said, than having the government, under a rigid support program, tell the farmer what to grow.

"If farmers kept supplies within manageable proportions," the secretary said, "allowing for normal carryovers the level of price support would always be at or near 90 per cent under the flexible system."

Firemen Are Barred By Russians in House

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Fire Department ran into a Russian veto last night when two fire companies were barred from the Park Avenue building housing the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

The equipment responded to an alarm by a passer-by that smoke, sparks and possibly flames were coming from the delegation building.

The firemen were turned back by the guards, however.

A Russian, who described himself as the "officer on duty," said the delegation personnel was "only using a fireplace" and there was no reason for firemen to have come.

A fire official surmised that paper had been burned inside the building, as firemen saw sparks and paper ash, apparently rising through a screen covering an incinerator chimney.

Strong Earthquake Shakes Desert Area

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A "very strong" earthquake which would have caused widespread damage in a populated area shook the barren northwest Nevada desert early today.

It was centered near Fallon, Nev., where it toppled chimneys and cut off power.

No other damage was reported.

Don Tocher, assistant seismologist at the University of California here, said the quake had a Richter magnitude of from 6¾ to 7. It was the biggest shock in this area since the Tehachapi-Bakersfield earthquake in July, 1952, which was rated at 7.45 on the Richter scale.

Tocher said the temblor began at 4:41.11 a. m. and was recorded for 30 minutes.

The 1906 San Francisco quake was 8.25 on the Richter scale.

Today's shock was felt as far west as the San Francisco-Oakland area. It also hit Elko, Nev., Lodi, Modesto, Stockton and Bridgeport in California.

Lepers in Italy Go On Hunger Strike

BARI, Italy (AP)—Lepers in a local hospital went on a 24-hour hunger and medicine strike yesterday, demanding government aid for their families.

They said they would go on another, and perhaps make a mass escape, unless a Senate commission made haste in approving a bill to provide the aid.

Mae West Advises Marilyn To Win Over the Ladies, Too

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mae West has some advice for Marilyn Monroe: you'd better win over the ladies, baby.

Miss West, still the epitome of sex, is a logical party to hand out advice. She made millions by muttering spicy comments. She can still command a top salary, as she will when she opens at Las Vegas' Sahara July 27.

I won an audience with the fabulous star in her sixth-floor apartment near the heart of Hollywood. The living room was unbelievably garish. It was all done in white, with Louis XIV furniture trimmed in gold. On one wall was a nude painting of Miss West, for which she says she has refused a $100,000. Atop the piano was her nude likeness in white marble. Beside the statue were tintypes of her parents.

Miss West's entrance was in character—she sauntered into the room in a flowing negligee. She looked impressive. The record books indicate she's around 60, but she seems 20 years younger. Her figure is still plump and curvesome, her skin smooth and her chin singular.

I asked her how she felt about Marilyn Monroe.

"I haven't seen her on the screen", Miss West said in her soft, nasal voice. "But folks tell me she is using a lot of the things I do. The walk, for instance. They tell me she walks the say way I do. And the humorous things she says. I don't know whether she has said them herself or not. At any rate, the press boys have done a good job on her.

"But if she's as great as they say she is, why isn't she saving the studio, the way I did with Paramount I paid off the mortgage on the place."

Miss West reflected on her own rise to fame and said she "broke records everywhere" because she didn't alienate the female audience.

"You'll notice in my pictures I never went after a married man or took a man from another woman," she said. "I always treated other women with respect. That was all part of my plan to keep the women in the audience happy."

Man Killed by Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 35-year-old man was burned to death early today by a fire that swept through the second story of a residence here.

The victim was identified as Wilbur Anderson. His body was found near a bed in a second floor bedroom of the home he occupied with his mother. The mother escaped from the home without injury.

Fire Chief Thomas Cook said the fire apparently started from a burning cigarette dropped when the victim fell asleep.

The fire enveloped the entire second floor of the house and required three streams of water.

Ex-Jap Aces Get American Jet Training

CAMP MATUSHIMA, Japan (AP) Former Japanese air aces—in uniform again — stood shoulder to shoulder today with American fliers who will teach them to fly jets.

About 100 Japanese airmen stood at attention with U.S. Air Force men at ceremonies opening a new Japanese air force flight school here.

Daylight poured through hundreds of bullet holes in the big old imperial navy hangar, riddled by strafing U.S. Navy planes a decade ago.

Japan's new 6,000-man air force, which came into existence only last Thursday, is equipped with 60 light trainers and helicopters. But the Japanese expect the United States to supply Sabre jets and other modern planes later this year.

The first flight class of 16 former imperial captains, majors and lieutenant colonels includes some of Japan's leading Zero aces of World War II.

Among them are Kanshi Kishkawa, credited with 19 American planes, and Shigehisa Yamamoto, who claims 15 U.S. kills.

The graduates will become instructors for the Japanese air force, which the United States hopes will be strong enough to guard this island nation from invasion.

Peter Edson's Column—
Dealers' Complaints Bring Investigators to Auto Row

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—Sweeping changes in the $20-billion-a-year automobile industry trade practices may be in the making from an investigation by the antitrust division of the Department of Justice.

First steps in this reform have already been taken. It will be many months before the business surveys are completed, however. Ultimately it is possible new legislation will be asked for to regulate what has become one of America's largest industries.

The automobile industry has always been under the eye of government agencies like Treasury, Justice and Federal Trade Commission. But an increasing number of complaints from automobile dealers themselves in the past year has stepped up antitrust division investigation.

In general, the dealers complain that they have been put under increasing pressure by the manufacturers during the business recession in which car sales have been down.

Judge Stanley N. Barnes, assistant attorney general in charge of the antitrust division, says his investigation now covers seven different fields of automobile industry trade practices.

He stops there. He will not disclose what the seven fields are, but he does say that no one manufacturer is involved in all seven fields.

The scope of this investigation is fairly obvious to anyone who has been at all aware of what has been going on in Auto Row during the past year or so.

General Motors today has approximately 45 per cent of the business and Ford has about 32 per cent.

The rivalry between these two—now controlling over three fourths of the business—for still greater supremacy has made competition from smaller companies extremely difficult. Though there are now 18 makes of cars, General Motors has five, Chrysler four, Ford three. Kaiser and Willys have merged. Nash and Hudson have merged. And the Packard-Studebaker merger wipes out the last two independents.

In the process the control of the manufacturers over the distributors has become much tighter.

While it is recognized that the manufacturers have to sell cars to keep going, attempts to force sales beyond what the market will take have worked hardships on many dealers.

While there is fierce competition among dealers, restraints in dealer franchises are criticized as not permitting the kind of free competition which lets prices fall for the benefit of the ultimate consumer, who is the car buyer.

This has resulted in the "bootlegging" of new cars as used cars so that dealers can get rid of the quotas forced on them by manufactuvers.

Instead of running speedometers backward to make used cars seem newer, the trick now is to run speedometers forward so that dealers can unload unsold new cars as used cars.

In mid-April Department of Justice refused to approve a General Motors "railroad release" which would have permitted GM to buy back from its dealers any unsold cars, to prevent their being bootlegged at cut prices. This was the first move on the government's part toward an overhaul of the industry.

Control over parts manufacture and sale is also under scrutiny by Department of Justice investigators.

In January General Motors introduced a new practice whereby it sold its parts to its own dealers exclusively. Sales to independent parts jobbers and warehouses were discontinued. This forced the "alley garages" to buy parts from GM dealers.

Ford and Chrysler have long operated under similar practices. The system helps dealer sales volume.

But when GM began this, many of the independent jobbers began to fear that they would be forced out of business. So here was another field for antimonopolistic investigation.

In May the National Automotive Parts Association, a combination of some 25 warehouse jobbers, was forced by the Department of Justice to discontinue monopolistic controls voer the output of favored parts manufacturers. The consent decree by which this restraint of trade was broken up grew out of an antitrust action begun in 1950.

When Doling Out Hard Cash Pop Just Has to Pop Off

By Ruth Millett

Who is more likely to hand out a lecture along with the teenager's weekly allowance—Mom or Pop?

It will surprise few women to learn that Pop's the one who talks poor mouth and makes statements beginning with "When I was your age . . ." when he doles out Sis or Junior's spending money.

At least that is what the teen-agers say, according to a recent survey.

The reason Mama won't be surprised at this news is that she knows Pop well enough to know that he is generous with everything, but cold cash.

He'll pay for the things she charges; perhaps spend far more on her than he should when her birthday, wedding anniversary, or Christmas rolls around.

He'll go out and buy Junior the fanciest, shiniest bike in town, when Mom herself would have probably looked all over town for a bargain in bikes.

He'll glow with pleasure over giving his family an expensive gadget to make life easier or more fun.

Men Aren't Really Selfish

But he doesn't like to hand over cash for someone else to decide how to spend.

Grandma got around this reluctance of the male to part with cash by keeping the egg money for herself.

Granddaughter gets around it by charge accounts, and often a full or part-time job of her own.

Women who can't manage either of those solutions sometimes resort to holding out a little from the grocery money.

It's not that men are selfish. They'll give their families almost anything. Only a great many of them just can't help but hurt when they have to dig down into their pockets and shell out cash.

So they ease the pain by handing out a short lecture along with the cash.

Best Product of Hearings Was Education Given Public

By Bruce Biossat

The Senate subcommittee which heard two million words of testimony in the Army-McCarthy hearings must now weigh and sift this mountain of material for some kind of official report.

Meanwhile, an outside observer may hazard comment on some aspects of the controversy which seems to stand out plainly, without a line-by-line study of the record.

The issues were whether, on the one hand, Senator McCarthy and his aides used improper pressure to obtain favors for Pvt. David Schine, and, on the other, Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counsel John Adams employed "blackmail" to get McCarthy to halt his inquiry into communism in the Army.

In testifying on these central matters, one or more of the principals in the case must surely have committed perjury. For the record is replete with direct conflicts of statement, with flat contradictions by each side against the other.

Unhappily, these clashing points are so encased in the fuzz of hazy recollection on the part of virtually all the principals, that a finding of perjury by Attorney General Brownell would come as a surprise.

Out of this welter of conflicting and confusing testimony, it would seem to be terribly difficult to extract proof that a particular principal was lying at a particular time.

It would seem hard, too, to show conclusively that impropriety existed on either side, or, if it did, to what degree it was present.

But these things probably struck most average citizens who either viewed the hearings or read about them:

1. Both the Army and the McCarthy staff spent altogether too much time haranguing over the fate of Private Schine.

2. Stevens and Adams again and again got down on bended knees trying to appease McCarthy and Committee Counsel Roy Cohn.

3. There was no indication in the record that Schine ever did sufficient committee work to warrant all the fuss over him.

Chairman Mundt, thrust onto center stage in the inquiry, wielded his gavel as though it were made of putty.

5. Nobody showed any talent for keeping the hearings on the main track.

6. The country got its first long, hard look at Senator McCarthy in action.

They saw his capacity for throwing up protective smoke-screens to guard his staff, for endless speechmaking in the guise of questions and points of order. They saw him used a "cropped" photograph and a fake letter.

They heard his long speeches filled with patriotic assertions and denunciations of Communist infiltration of government. And those who are his adherents undoubtedly were impressed by these, as those who opposed him were not.

Whatever the committee's verdict, the people who have seen or read all this, who have watched not only McCarthy but many lawmakers and officials in action under test, have had a vital lesson.

We are all better educated about the men who govern us. Maybe that's almost enough to have justified the whole incredible spectacle.

About Emotional Upsets

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Rarely does the writer of this column receive a letter which shows so clearly as the one which follows the effect of the emotions on bodily behavior.

Q—I am 18 years old and for the past four years every time I start writing an examination, got to an dance, show, or out for dinner I get sick at my stomach. I can't throw up but I do gag. I cannot sleep the night before and I shake all over. Should I be this way?

A—It is evident that this 18-year-old youngster is suffering for an exaggerated form of emotional upset whenever faced with excitement or anticipation of strenuous events. The writer of the letter should be encouraged to go right on with her activities as though the emotional reaction centering in her stomach did not exist. By constant repetition and with the help of growing older this unpleasant reaction to emotion should gradually become less and less severe.

Q—I had surgery on both my eyes 3½ years ago for glaucoma. Now I have cataracts and the doctor wants me to have one eye operated on. What chance do you think I will have?

A—It is certainly bad luck to have so much trouble with the eyes. One gathers from the letter than he operation for glaucoma was successful and there should be a good chance that the operation for cataracts would also come out well.

Q—Would the passing of pure blood in the intestinal waste two or three times a month be considered a symptom or indication of impending ailment?

A—The ailment is not only impending, it is there. This is a serious symptom and steps should be taken immediately to trace the source of the blood and take appropriate steps at treatment.

Safe Question

More evidence that automobile salesmen aren't on the job in these recession days—plugging their product and pinning down prospects—has been furnished by Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphery.

At a "Borrowing Committee" meeting of about 30 leading bankers from all over the country, brought to Washington every so often to review groverment loan programs, the secretary asked how many of the group had been called on by an automobile salesman this year.

Only two of the bankers raised their hands.

Secretary Humphrey then asked how many of the group would now be in the market for a new car if solicited and sold.

Fifteen raised their hands.

P. S. to salesmen. Secretary Humphrey himself isn't in the market. He just traded in the old convertible which he drives around town himself when it developed mechanical trouble. This is what made it safe for him to raise the question.

The World Today—

Congress Tries Surplus Help

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—This country's mountainous farm surplus, ranging from wheat to cotton, is bulging in bins and warehouses. The government has had to take it over from farmers. It's worth $6,187,000,000.

Congress last week passed a bill to let the government get rid of the billion dollars of it: 700 millions through sale to foreign countries; and 300 millions as a give-away to countries in need. For instance, where there's famine.

That will leave Uncle Sam with five billion dollars worth of the stuff still on his hands. Some of it, like cotton, can keep for years. It would come in handy in an emergency, like war. What can't keep will have to be disposed of somehow.

The government can't sell it on the open market in this country. That would ruin farm prices. The very reason for buying it from farmers and storing it is to keep prices up and save farmers from the ruin of their overproduction.

If this seems like a crazy program, it's at least long-established and repeatedly has been approved by Congress. It's based on the theory that, when necessary, the government should step in to avert a farm depression which might soon hit the rest of the country.

This is an example of how the new sell-and-giveaway law, to get rid of some of the surplus, would work:

France wants wheat but doesn't have enough dollars to pay for it. This country will sell France the wheat it needs — not at the high American price but at a lower foreign price — and accept French money in payment. With this French money the United States buys goods from France, perhaps raw materials, or pays the cost of an American air base in France.

Or, some other country has a famine, needs wheat, but can't pay for it. In that case the government can give away up to 300 million dollars worth of its surplus wheat.

This will give an idea of the enormous surplus the government now has on its hands:

Wheat — 889 million bushels; corn — 810 million bushels; cotton — 7,785,000,000 bales; tobacco — 619 million pounds; rice — 1 million bags; peanuts — 255 million pounds; butter — 364 million pounds; cheese — 361 million pounds; dried milk — 656 million pounds. That's not all.

The government acquired this vast surplus from the farmers because of price support laws.

These laws say a farmer should get a certain percentage — sometimes a high percentage, sometimes a low one — of parity. Parity is a price Congress has fixed as that which a farmer should get to stay on a par with nonfarmers in his ability to buy things he needs.

The parity price on wheat is now $2.48, but to simplify the illustration $1 will be used.

The government says the farmer should get $1 a bushel for his wheat. So it guarantees him he will get at least 90 per cent of parity—in this case 90 cents a bushel—if the government itself has to buy it and never use it.

But so much wheat has been produced the price on the open market goes down and wheat sells for less than 90 cents a bushel. In that case the farmer can do better dealing with the government.

He gets a government loan of 90 cents a bushel for his wheat. If the price of wheat on the open market goes up above 90 cents, he sells his wheat and repays the loan. It it stays below 90 cents, he keeps the 90-cent loan and lets the government keep the wheat.

On six basic crops — wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, and peanuts — the government must, under present law, guarantee farmers 90 per cent of parity. On some other crops - still according to law — the government can fix this support price at anywhere from 75 to 90 per cent of parity or even zero to 90 per cent.

The Eisenhower administration says there should be more flexibility, particularly in the case of those six basic crops which now are protected by a guarantee of 90 per cent of parity.

The theory is this: in times of surplus, the guarantee can drop as low as 75 per cent of parity to discourage production; and in time of scarcity it can be raised as high as 90 per cent to encourage production.

The House on Friday voted to let the guarantee range somewhere between 82½ and 90 per cent on the basic crops and at other figures on some other crops. This isn't final unless the Senate approves. It may not.

The Mighty MILO

by Phillips Rogers

Copyright 1954 by Ramsbuge Press, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: Fred Anspach, who works in a supermarket and likes to wrestle, has met Milo, a wrestler, and they work out together at the Y. Milo cannot speak English very well and when Mr. Dunkelberger at the Y. M. C. A. desk tries to stop Milo from going into the gym, Milo stuffs him down the towel chute.

• • •

III

SOMEHOW the thought of Old Man Dunkelberger, my ex-Sunday school teacher, down in the chute with all those dirty towels struck me funny, which it shouldn't have.

I called down, "Mr. Dunkelberger, are you all right?"

"Get me out of here!" he shouted from underneath the towels.

Milo was wringing those big hands of his while I tried to think. The towels! I said, "Tie these together and make a rope out of them. We'll have to pull him out."

Then I thought. Suppose he's been down there head first all this time? How will we get the towels past him?

I called down, "Mr. Dunkelberger, are you head first?"

It was hard to make out the sounds he began to let out. They seemed to be made fuzzy from all those wet, dirty towels.

I tried again, louder this time "Mr. Dunkelberger, are . . . you . . . head . . . first?"

Milo was already working away, tying towels together. He was trying so hard to help repair the trouble that he had caused that I felt sorry for him in spite of Mr. Dunkelberger's predicament. He touched my arm and began to shake that funny-shaped head of his. "No, Fed."

"You put him in feet first?"

He was really sweating now, shaking his head and rocking his body, while his eyes filled with tears.

"How did you put him in?" I asked.

"Head up, feet up. Is rassle bol'. No want hurt." His body rocked more than ever and he was really crying now. "Milo want rassle. Him say no. . ."

I figured out what had happened. Mr. Dunkelberger was stuffed down the chute with both head and feet up.

There was a tinny, banging noise and I shouted down, "Don't worry, Mr. Dunkelberger. This is Freddy Anspach and Milo, who is even stronger than I am. We'll have you out in a minute."

We did, too. Even a man as thin as Mr. Dunkelberger couldn't have gone down that chute very far, the way Milo had put him in. We didn't need to use the towels that Milo had tied together at all. We only threw out 40 or 50 more towels and there was Mr. Dunkelberger.

I got a good hold on his wrists and pulled as hard as I could, while Milo hung on to my legs to keep me from falling in on top of Mr. Dunkelberger. He was sure wedged into that chute, but I gave a superhuman effort and he came free.

I explained to him that Milo was Greek and spoke very little English. All Milo wanted, I said, was to go down to the gym and wrestle. Naturally, when Mr Dunkelberger wouldn't let him, he was upset, which was why Milo dumped him in the chute, thinking it was only a box.

Mr. Dunkelberger used language that I hated to hear from a Sunday school teacher.

• • •

AT the Y that Saturday night, I expected trouble, because of all the dirty towels that had been thrown on top of my ex-Sunday school teacher while he was stuck in the towel chute, and I waited for Milo on the steps outside the Y.

A lot of other fellows were standing there, but they were only watching the girls go by, the way girls do when there are a lot of fellows standing in front of someplace.

When Milo came along, he was dressed the way he always was, in shiny black pants and that gray turtlenecked sweater. His egg-shaped head was shaved so smooth it reflected the colors of the neon signs and street lights.

"Fed. Me late."

"Fred," I cut in. "F-R-E-D." Even as I tried to explain and pronounce I knew it was hopeless.

"Fed, tink fall' no hate?"

I was surprised how quickly I was catching on to what Milo tried to say. When I try to tell you this way it sounds like a combination of what Indian chiefs and Chinese immigrants are supposed to say when they talk English, but I guess there's no law against their speaking our language the way we speak theirs, and believe me I had a harder time with Greek in high school than Milo was having with English. At least I had an idea of what he was talking about.

"He'll get over it," I said, but I was afraid that my ex-Sunday school teacher might not be as Christian as he should be.

• • •

IT turned out that I was right, and when I got a chance to reply to Mr Dunkelberger I could only stammer, "After all, Milo did apologize. Whatever you are entitled to say as my ex-Sunday school teacher, I do not think that you should employ such language as an employe of the Young Men's Christian Association." I put emphasis on "Christian," because they are supposed to forgive their enemies.

Mr Dunkelberger finally got into a more Christian frame of mind and let Milo go down to the gym with me.

Now there is no place I can think of that I liked better than that old gym. The equipment was pretty beat up. It smelled of sweat, liniment, witch-hazel, and the stuff they put around to prevent athlete's foot, but I even liked that.

Milo made a face. "Place is bad for rassle," he said. "Open air. Breat' in, breat' out, is good. Sun is good. Fed, we fin' place rassle in country."

Social Security Payments Here Total About $45,665 Monthly

Retired workers and their dependents in Pettis County were getting about 75% of the $45,665 in old-age and survivors insurance payments being made monthly in the county at the end of last year, Scott Webber, manager of the Sedalia social security office, reported today.

Beneficiaries of all groups on the social security rolls in December totalled 1236 in Pettis County, he said.

In making this announcement, Webber released newly available figures showing the number of persons in the several beneficiary groups in the county and the total in benefits being paid. In December, 740 retired workers received a total of $32,037: 276 aged wives and widows get $7211: a total of $5029 went to 177 children, including a few children of retired aged workers; 38 mothers with minor children in their care were receiving a total of $1201 monthly; and $187 in survivors payments went to four dependent aged parents on the beneficiary rolls.

Retired insured workers continued to be the largest group of beneficiaries. These are persons age 65 or over who qualified for monthly payments through employment or self-employment covered by the social security law.

These local figures for old-age insurance payments as a whole, more than six million persons were receiving such benefit payments at the end of 1953, almost a million more than in December 1952.

In the nine-county area serviced by the Sedalia office, a total of 5373 persons were receiving Old-age and Survivors Insurance benefits at the rate of $82½ million at the close of the year. In the Sedalia and Pettis County area alone, the annual rate amounted to over one-half million dollars.

"While these statistics may seem to be just so many figures in cold print," Webber said, "The payment monthly of $45,665 to 1236 persons in this county is of real significance to the economic well-being of the community at large, and in many cases represents the greatest or only source of income to the individual family concerned."

Johnson County Fair Sept. 9, 10, 11

Furtherance of steps for a Johnson County Fair, Sept. 9, 10 and 11, were taken Thursday at a breakfast for solicitors of funds at the offices of the Gas Service Company in Warrensburg, coffee and doughnuts were served the group by Paul Wagoner, fair board president.

Merchants and individuals, who contributed in past years are asked again to give financial assistance, the fund subscribed being used to purchase an advertisement in the fair catalogue.

A total of 4,300 of these catalogues will be mailed out.

The fair will be held at the Saddle and Bridal Park. Some exhibits will be seen at the Armory, but all livestock will be shown at the park and a carnival will be located there.

C. L. Parks, chanrman of solicitors, hopes to secure enough money to bring some free entertainment acts to the fair.

Premiums will total $4,200, of which half will be used for the 4-H and FFA district show.

Livestock entered in last year's show was not housed adequately and additional livestock pens will be built to care for all animals entered, Mr. Wagoner has announced.

The usual beauty show is scheduled, the winner to be entered in the contest for queen of the American Royal in Kansas City, and there will be a baby show. These two contests will be limited to residents of Johnson County. An amateur contest is scheduled, also the usual street parade which is expected to be enlarged over that of last year.

THE FAMILY had all the closets cleaned and the things they no longer needed were taken out to make room for new clothes and placed in a box. The next morning the father of the household called the Salvation Army and while the rest of the family was away from home someone from the Salvation Army came to get the box.

Father was right proud of himself when the family returned. He had the little job all taken care of.

"I hope you didn't send anything we didn't want to send", said mother, a little skeptically.

"No, I didn't", he said with confidence.

Then the young daughter of the family wanted to go swimming. Where was her swim suit? The family hunted. It couldn't be found, and everybody had an idea.

The swim suit was packed in the box, picked up by the Salvation Army and the girl had to go down there and get it.—H. L.

IT WAS AT a wedding reception and the large punch bowl was filled with orange ice, lime ice, juices of various kinds, wine and all sorts of things to make the reception punch. They just had the bowl filled and were getting ready to serve when evidently there was too much punch to the punch—the big glass bowl popped half in two and punch went all over everything before anybody even got a taste — H. London Paper Deplores Move To Stop Reds

LONDON (AP)—The independent, influential Times strongly deplored today a proposal by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that the United States cut off financial support of the United Nations if Red China is admitted to membership.

"On the whole, British opinion looks at the problem of Peiping's admission to the United Nations as one of law, not of morals," the Times said editorially.

"Recognition of one government by another is usually seen here as part of the mechanics of diplomacy, and not as a gesture of approval. In the same way the United Nations is regarded as a forum for the peaceful settlement of disputes, not as a club of kindred spirits.

"This is not the same as urging that the admission of Communist China to the United Nations would be immediate. Many of the American arguments against immediate admission are strongly based. The continuation of Chinese help to (the) Vietminh has inevitably held up consideration of Peiping's candidature.

"But in any Asian settlement, whether local and temporary or general and long term, the status of Communist China cannot be ignored. It can certainly not be ignored simply by legislating against it."

The Liberal News Chronicle described the Knowland proposal as one of many recent signs that the tide of isolationism is rising in the United States.

"After intense effort and unprecedented generosity," the News Chronicle said, "the Americans see that the peace and stability they have sought to bring are still unrealized. No clear way has opened. No solutions are in sight.

"Now, in this American mood of disappointment and disillusion, the British disposition to pursue a different course—to try out negotiation as an alternative to implacable opposition—evokes resentment and reproaches."

Preliminary Hearing Of Obstetrician Has Been Continued

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A preliminary hearing will be held today for Dr. Hugh G. Hamilton, wealthy obstetrician charged with the attempted murder of his wife.

Mrs. Martha M. Hamilton has charged that her husband tried to kill her by allegedly substituting cyanide for her digestive aid tablets.

Dr. Hamilton has been free under a $10,000 bond. He has denounced his wife's charge as "fantastic and absurd."

Photography Leader Dies in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—William J. Woeger, 46, head of the photography department of Monsanto Chemical Co. and member of a photographic expedition to Africa, died of a heart attack at his home here yesterday.

Woeger was chief photographer on an expedition to Africa a year ago to make wild-life movies for the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The expedition was led by Edgar M. Queeny chairman of the board of Monsanto.

He is survived by his widow, three children, his mother and a sister.

Irishman Watches Chicago's Top Reconstruction Program

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—It was an Irish lady's cow, they say, whose careless footwork touched off the Chicago fire.

But the famous Mrs. O'Leary would be pleased to know there's one of her countrymen here now who plans to be watching when this city takes on its biggest reconstruction project since that catastrophic conflagration way back in 1871.

For 31 of his 65 years Dick Murphy — who left the old sod in 1907 — has gazed from the tower of a bridge across the Chicago River at Michigan Avenue and watched the face of Chicago change.

And change it has. To the east toward Lake Michigan, Murphy can see cars whizzing north and south on the fabulous "Outer Drive," an expressway which bypasses the heart of the business district and carries traffic over what once was part of the lake itself. Up Michigan Avenue itself Murphy has a perfect view of what proud Chicagoans call the Magnificent Mile and the 200 million dollars in construction that steadily is converting it into a Midwestern "Fifth Avenue."

To the southeast, this Irish bridgetender makes a daily check on the progress of the Prudential Insurance Co.'s 40-million-dollar office building. The Chicago park district is digging a vast underground garage for housing 2,600 cars directly to the south.

But the northwest, Murphy looks upon decaying buildings by the score, dilapidated structures with an average age of 50 years.

"It'll be a wonderful thing to get rid of all those old shacks over there," he says.

These unsightly "shacks" would vanish into still another vista of modern progress if a plan called the Fort Dearborn Project ever gets under way. A sponsoring committee of Chicago business men considers it a far-reaching development which would transplant a great chunk of civic activity to the far side of the Chicago River and give a new direction to the city's continual expansion. The cost would be 400 million dollars.

The proposed 151-acre Fort Dearborn resettlement is bordered by Rush St. on the east, Ontario on the north, and west and south by the Chicago River.

Its grand esplanade would be one level above present streets. It would provide parking for 6,000 cars in the area below, where north and southbound traffic would move on present grades.

The project would provide 5,000 apartments in high-rise elevator buildings for convenient, close-to-the-Loop living quarters for office workers.

The purpose of 7½-million square feet of floor space in the government Administration Center is easily explained by the paternalistic bridgetender:

"You see, they've outgrown everything they got. When this is finished, they can bring all the courts together instead of being scattered all over town."

The 62-acre, 165-million-dollar government center would include a hall of justice for consolidating courts, a federal building, city hall, county building and municipal agencies. They now operate in 85 different places.

A new public library would be built, too. The present one on Michigan Avenue, within sight of the Prudential Building, would be abandoned for commercial development.

The present County and City Hall Building at LaSalle and Washington Sts. would be razed and the square-block area made into a Loop park. The site of the old Federal Building at Adams and Clark would receive the same treatment.

The project envisions a city campus for the University of Illinois, to be located just north of the Merchandise Mart. It would provide facilities for 20,000 students. The buildings and land would cost 88 million dollars.

The man who conceived the project is Arthur Rubloff, who takes a back seat to no one in developing real estate. He visualizes the Fort Dearborn enterprise as a practical solution to Chicago's growing pains.

Rubloff pitched the idea to Nathaniel Owings of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, architects and engineers. Owings, a former chairman of the Chicago Plan Commission, drew up the plans.

The project could very well be completed in five years, Rubloff says. He has received encouraging support from the Chicago Plan Commission and Mayor Martin H. Kennelly. Financial support from investment-minded insurance companies also is indicated.

Meanwhile, like many Chicagoans, Bridgetender Murphy optimistically expects the Fort Dearborn plan to become a reality within his lifetime.

Assault Charge By Blonde Thrown From the Court

LONDON (AP)—A 32 - year - old blonde's assault charge against wealthy socialite Earl Beatty has been thrown out of court. The woman testified the spirit of the earl's naval hero father told her to "get help" from his son, but he socked her instead.

Magistrate Frank Milton, dismissing the case yesterday, declared the woman, Margaret Evans, was prompted "either by the wildest of hallucinations or by the deepest of malice."

Beatty denied ever meeting the woman, who served 28 days in jail in 1947 for disobeying a court order to stop bothering him. Since 1945 she had written him numerous letters asking for money.

Beatty's father, Adm. Lord Beatty, was a British naval hero of World War I. He died in 1936. His mother was Ethel Field, Chicago department store heiress.

The earl's American wife, Lady Adelle Beatty, currently is disputing with her first husband over custody of their 7-year-old son Timothy.

The father, California Dep. Atty. Gen. William V. O'Connor, flew from London to America with the boy last week while she and the earl were yachting in the Mediterranean. Lady Beatty said she would seek U.S. court action to have the youngster returned.

O'Connor said last week he had decided to get his son back when he heard "Lord Beatty must stand trial for assault of a young lady on a London street."

New Zealander Would Admit Red China

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Foreign Minister T. Clifton Webb tonight urged the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. New Zealand is linked with the United States in the Anzus pact and is a sponsor of the projected Southeast Asian defense alliance.

Speaking in a parliamentary foreign affairs debate, Webb said the Peiping government should be brought into the international organization in an "endeavor to drive a diplomatic wedge between Russia and Red China."

Webb admitted he felt previously China should not be allowed in the U.N. until she worked her "way back into the good graces of the free world." But he said as a result of Chou En-lai's actions over Indochina "it would be hard to deny them entry." He did not elaborate.

"China is a great nation, a force to be reckoned with in world affairs," Webb declared, "together with Russia, the two countries occupy an enormous slice of territory and have nearly half of the world's population.

"We must look at our policy in the fight against communism and see it is in the right direction. We should endeavor to drive a diplomatic wedge between Russia and Red China and the first step would be its admission to the United Nations."

Will Refuse Mental Test In Hearing

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Thomas P. Hermann, former mental patient accused of murdering his next-door neighbor, will refuse to submit to a mental examination in connection with his sanity hearing, his attorney said yesterday.

The lawyer, Henry G. Morris, said there is no justification for the hearing.

Probate Judge Walter F. Stahlhuth, who ordered the hearing, said the hearing will be held even if Hermann refuses the mental test. He said in that event testimony will center around lay witnesses rather than medical experts.

Hermann is charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting a week ago of Dr. Cecil A. Z. Sharp, area medical administrator for the United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund. The doctor was shot when he went to the door of his home in Ladue to investigate a disturbance outside.

Morris said he would request a continuance of the hearing, which was set for Thursday, because he will be out of town that day.

The 22-year-old Hermann was treated at the state mental hospital at Farmington.

Prisoners Are Led From Police Station When Fire Breaks Out

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Twenty - four prisoners were escorted out of the Lucas Avenue police station early today, coughing and choking, as firemen battled a stubborn fire in the basement of the building.

The prisoners were transferred under heavy guard to the central district police station in two vehicles.

Fifteen firemen were overcome or affected by heavy smoke and were given oxygen.

The fire broke out in sound proofing material in the basement target pistol range in the fireproof building, sending up thick clouds of smoke. Firemen wearing gas masks fought the blaze for about three hours before it was brought under control.

Police officers at the district stations were unaware of the fire until they were notified by persons living across the street who noticed smoke billowing from the building.

Damage was estimated at only $1,000.

Abilene Churches Lead Mass Prayers For World Figures

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—Prayers for President Eisenhower and other world leaders were offered by about 2,500 persons last night at a "Faith and Freedom" rally in Eisenhower Park.

All of the 21 churches in Abilene joined in the day of prayer which included morning services.

Gov. Arn of Kansas and governors of 11 other states had issued proclamations designating yesterday as a day of prayer as something new in the Independence Day celebration.

Dr. Louis H. Evans of Washington, pastor-at-large for the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., was the main speaker.

"If in one generation we would spend as much on missionaries as we spend on the Marines—and I respect the Marines — we would have no more wars," Dr. Evans said.

Urging prayers for President Eisenhower, Dr. Evans said, "We are looking not for men who speak but for men through whom God speaks. Let us not forget that a great part of the President's power will be rooted in our prayers for him."

Snore May Be Sign Of True Love, Ladies

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—if your husbands snore, ladies, it may be just a sign they're really fond of you.

So says Dr. A. H. Douthwaite, a British physician who discussed the irritating habit today at a British Medical Assn. conference.

Douthwaite said snoring may be "based on race memory and that atavistically the male made the noise at night to keep marauders from the den."

Thus, he said, a wife kept awake by assorted grunts, groans, whistles and snorts from her ever-loving spouse "might be encouraged to regard snoring as a sign of deep affection."

Big Leaguers Celebrate 4th With Barrage

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Big league ballplayers celebrated Independence Day with a home run barrage that rocked eight baseball stadiums from dugout to bullpen and sent the harried, defenseless pitchers running to cover.

The day of double-headers resounded with 35 home run blasts, only five short of the major league record for most homers in one day. A total of 315 hits were peppered about the parks and 75 pitchers were used. That's an average of almost 20 hits and more than 4½ pitchers a game.

Cleveland's Bill Glynn was the merriest celebrant. The normally light-hitting first baseman exploded three home runs in the 13-6 opening victory over Detroit and drove in eight runs. Ray Boone and Wayne Belardi homered for Detroit. Glynn's bat, along with the rest of the Indians, was silenced in the second game, which went to Detroit 1-0 in 11 innings.

Three others — the New York Yankees' Irv Noren, Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and the Chicago Cubs' Randy Jackson—walloped two homers in one game. Dusty Rhodes of the New York Giants and Ted Lepcio of Boston also hit two homers, one in each game. Glynn, Lepcio and Roy Sievers of Washington had grand-slammers.

Only nine of the 32 starting pitchers went the distance with four of them turning in shutouts. The flashiest performance was exhibited by George Zuverink of the Tigers. Zuverink blanked the Indians with three hits.

The split, which snapped an eight-game winning streak for the Indians, cost them a full game to the Yankees and trimmed their first-place American League lead to 3½ games.

The Yankees trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 7-4 and 11-2, to win their first doubleheader in almost a year. Successive homers by Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle and a run-scoring double by Gene Woodling provided the margin of victory in the opener. Noren drove in five runs with his two homers in the nightcap.

The Giants and Dodgers swept double-headers leaving the National League-leading Giants still 3½ lengths in front of Brooklyn.

Johnny Antonelli won his 13th game with a three-hit, 10-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies in the opener. Rhodes homered and doubled in the first game. In the second game, he hit two singles and a homer to give the Giants an uphill 4-3 triumph.

Rookie Walter Moryn cracked four hits, including a homer, to help Brooklyn down Pittsburgh 8-6 in the first game. Duke Snider banged his 20th four-bagger in that game too. Junior Gilliam homered for the Dodgers in the second game but it was Carl Furillo who drive in five runs to account for the 7-2 victory.

Milwaukee won two slugging matches from the St. Louis Cardinals 8-6 and 10-4 as each team slugged four homers. Besides Mathews' pair, Bill Bruton and Del Crandall homered for the Braves while the Cardinal homers were hit by Solly Hemus, Rip Repulski, Ray Jablonski and rookie Joe Cunningham.

Cincinnati's Redlegs defeated Chicago 6-5 in the opener despite two homers by Jackson of the Cubs. The Reds also took the nightcap 8-7. Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski hit his 21st homer in the first game.

Boston's Red Sox and Washington divided a twin bill. Boston won the first game 14-0 as Lepcio batted in five runs with a triple and single besides his grand-slammer.

Washington took the second 7-1. Sievers' four-run wallop offset a 1-0 Red Sox lead provided by Lepcio's second homer.

Only one homer was hit in the Chicago-Baltimore double-header, won by the White Sox 3-0 and 2-1. The only homer was hit by Ron Jackson, a 20-year-old bonus player subbing at first base for Chicago.

Aged Golfer Determined To Win British Open

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Gene Sarazen, the greying links master from Germantown, N.Y., smiled today before teeing off in the second qualifying round of the British Open Golf Championship and said:

"I am going to catch that little guy."

Squire Sarazen, who won this same title back in 1932, astonished everyone yesterday by shooting a 67 over the hillside course. The "little guy" he referred to was 29-year-old John McGonigel, who led the big field with a 65.

The field of 300 golfers reversed today, with those who played the first round at Hillside moving to Birkdale and vice versa. Both Sarazen and Irishman McGonigle will have their try at the tougher Birkdale layout.

The testing Birkdale course, where the championship proper will be played, holds no fears for Sarazen.

"I think Birkdale is a fairer course than Hillside," he said. "If you are hitting the ball well, then the course will treat you real nice. And I cerainly am hitting well."

Frank Sranahan of Toledo and Bobby Locke, the favorite from South Africa, each had a 69 on his first round.

Ben Hogan to Appear In Kansas City July 11

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Golfdom's great Ben Hogan will appear here July 11 in a golf exhibition and clinic for the benefit of the Ozanan Boys Home at Martin City, Mo.

Hogan will team up with Bill Webb, current Kansas Ciy champion, against Leland (Duke) Gibson, Kansas Ciy pro, and Tom Stephenson, former city champion.

Little League—
Rotary, JCs Win Monday

Monday night Rotary fought the Elks all the way to become victorious in an extra inning game, 11-10, and the Jaycees breezed by the Kiwanis, 11-10, in two well-executed games played at the Little League Stadium.

The first game saw the "hot-quick" Elks take a 9-1 lead in the second inning and the Rotary had to fight back the entire contest to take the game in the extra inning. Benner, Zey, and Tom Morgan were the leading hitters for the winners, getting three hits each. Nichols connected for two hits as did Todd.

Rotary's big rally came in the top of the sixth as four big runs crossed the plate. Singles by Benner and Zey and a double by Holderman and another important single by Tom Morgan, knocking in the tying run. The winning run for Rotary came as Tim Morgan hit safely, scoring Morgan all the way.

The last game of the evening found the Jaycees taking Kiwanis by the same score the first encounter, 11-10. As in the first game, almost the entire scoring pattern was done in the final two innings of the game. The Kiwanis team had the Jaycees, 10-6, at the end of five innings but the Jaycees fought back as the Rotarians did in the first game and took the game 11-10, Mulcahey pitched the first five innings but he needed help from Horner who was credited with the win as he held the Kiwanis team below the winning margin.

Mo. Valley Tennis Meet Won by Bernard Bartzen

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—To nobody's surprise, top seeded Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Antonio, Tex., stroked easily to the men's singles championship yesterday in the Missouri Valley Tennis Tournament.

His final opponent was Lt. Gil Bogley of Ft. Sill, Okla., former National Junior champion from Chevy Chase, Md. He sizzled his serve past he soldier for a 6-1, 6-3 victory.

Bartzen and Hal Surface Jr. of Kansas City won the men's doubles crown by default from Alex George and Leonard Prosser, veteran Kansas City doubles team.

Lucille Davidson, also of Kansas City fought off match point six times and finally won an uphill battle over Doris Popple of Des Moines, Iowa, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3 for the women's singles title.

Mrs. Davidson teamed with Nora Prosser of Kansas City to take the women's doubles crown 6-4, 6-3 in a match against Judy Mills, Chickasha, Okla., and Suzy Hamilton, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

John Been, Universiy of Houston netman from Shawnee, Okla., teamed with Miss Mills to win the mixed doubles championship. They defeated James A. Schulze of Com- 6-2, 6-4.

Industrial—
P-C, Knights Win Easily At Housel

In Industrial League play Monday night, the Knights of Columbus beat the East Sedalia Baptist and the Pittsburgh-Corning routed the First Baptists, 11-1.

The first game saw the smooth-sailing Knights of Columbus, behand the fine pitching of Belsha, shutout the East Baptist. Belsha, in taking the win, allowed three hits, struck out one and walked one. Morton suffered the loss. He gave up five hits and walked one.

In the second game. Pittsburgh-Corning found it easy in beating the First Baptists. Harms was the leading hitter for Pitts-Corning, having three hits.

Hoeman was First Baptists big hitter in getting two hits in as many times at bats. Borchers took the win while Burgess was credited as the loser for the First Baptists.

Indians Lead AL as Result Of Reliefers

DETROIT (AP)—Alfonso Ramon Lopez, the confident senor who manages the Cleveland Indians, credits a brilliant bullpen for his team's torrid .697 pace in the American League.

The senor, he say simply:

"We're in first place because our bullpen is a lot stronger. I can give my 'Big Three' more rest. Now I can yank Lemon, Wynn and Garcia a lot quicker than in the past.

Speaking before yesterday's holiday double-header with Detroit, Lopez admitted "it's a nice feeling" to hold a lead on the New York Yankees.

"But it would be nicer if this were September instead of July," he added. "It's rough down the stretch, but I think we can make it this time."

The Indians split with Detroit, winning the first 13-6 but losing the second 1-0 in 11 innings, and their lead over the Yankees was cut to 3½ games. Still, the Cleveland bullpen had a chance to shine.

Art Houtteman, an ex-Tiger, replaced a wobbling Dave Hoskins in the fourth inning of the opener and checked his former teammates for his ninth win against only four losses.

"That's why we're winning," Lopez explained. "Houtteman, Hal Newhouser, Don Mossi and Ron Narleski have been doing a wonderful job for us in the bullpen.

"Newhouser has been excellent. All he needs is a little time to warm up. He stopped the Yanks in relief a week ago and that was the biggest game of the year for Newhouser, making a comeback with the Indians, has a 4-1 record in 27½ innings, allowing only five earned runs.

Many Women Pilots Finish Flight Derby

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Seventeen more light planes with women pilots were ready to swarm across the finish line here today in the eighth annual Powder Puff Derby.

The 17 got as far as Chattanooga, Tenn., by nightfall yesterday in the straggling daytime-only race which began in Long Beach, Calif., Saturday with 95 pilots in 51 airplanes.

Junior Legion Team Defeats Warrensburg

Post 16 Junior Legion took an easy victory over the Warrensburg Legion team Sunday afternoon at Liberty Park, 11-2.

Gary Wickliffe and Clyde Kubli held the Warrensburg boys to nine hits, and with good support, to take the win.

Bobby Abney hit an inside-the-park home run in the first inning of the game.

Charles Barnes tripled, Larry Mines and Lloyd Lane each got two doubles and Bob Abney and Charles Barnes each hit one double.

Sedalia scored two runs in the first and second innings, three in the fifth and four in the seventh.

Warrensburg's two runs came in the first and in the third.

Post 16 will play a return game at Warrensburg Thursday night.

Stengel Names Pitching Roll For All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, who will manage the American League team in the annual All-Star Game at Cleveland July 13, named eight pitchers for the battle today.

The others are Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland; Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox; Bob Porterfield of Washington; Allie Reynolds of New York; and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

The American League released Stengel's choices along with the other players who, with the eight starters selected in a poll of fans, will represent the league.

The eight American League starters, announced Sunday night, are Al Rosen, Cleveland, first base; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, second base; Ray Boone, Detroit, third base; Chico Carrasquel, Chicago, shortstop; Orestes Minoso, Chicago, left field; Mickey Mantle, New York, center field; Hank Bauer, New York, right field; and Yogi Berra, New York, catcher.

Each of these eight top vote vetters must, according to the regulations governing the game, start and play a minimum of three innings.

For possible use in later innings, Stengel chose the following players to round out his 25-man squad:

Catcher—Sherman Lollar, Chicago.

Infielders—Ferris Fain, Chicago; Jim Finigan, Philadelphia; Nelson Fox, Chicago; George Kell, Chicago; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit.

Outfielders—Larry Doby, Cleveland; Jim Piersall, Boston; Ted Williams, Boston.

Stengel presumably stacked a right-handed pitcher deck because of the National League's rought lineup of right-handed batters, at least in the fans' lineup. It includes Gran Hamner of Philadelphia, Ray Jablonski of St. Louis, Al Dark of New York, Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn—all righthanders and all, with the possible exception of Dark, respected sluggers.

The pitchers and other members of the National League squad will be named by Manager Walt Alston of Brooklyn in Wednesday morning papers.

Sports Roundup—
Charlie Grimm Not Being Held Responsible for Braves' Slump

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Private reports reaching this corner that Charlie Grimm was on the griddle at Milwaukee and might not last out the season appear upon investigation to have been greatly exaggerated. The normal amount of second-guessing seems to be going on, but there is little indication that the popular manager is being blamed for the Braves' plight.

Russ Lynch, sports editor of the Milwaukee Journal, explaining why a club which one year ago was fighting Brooklyn tooth and nail for the lead now is dropping more than a dozen games off the pace, has this to say:

"Johnny Antonelli's fine pitching for the Giants has led to many slurs at the deal in which the Braves gave Antonelli and another left-handed pitcher, Don Liddle, to get outfielder Bobby Thomson, who broke his ankle in spring training and may not get into a game this season.

"General Manager John Quinn of the Braves knew what he was doing, however. The Milwaukee club's inability to make runs shows how greatly a hitter of Thomson's caliber was needed.

"Bobby averaged more than 100 runs batted in over the last five seasons. At the same pace, he would have driven in 40 or more so far this season. The Braves have lost 14 games by one run. How many of those might have been turned into victories by Thomson's bat? How much more potent might Eddie Mathews have been, with Thomson backing him up? How much of a lift would the additional power have given the rest of the team?

"The writer has no doubt at all that with Thomson in the lineup from the start of the season the Braves now would be right up there with New York and Brooklyn. John Quinn made a shrewd deal. He got what the Braves needed. What a catastrophe Thomson's accident was is becoming more and more apparent."

Saddler Still Away From Pre-Army Peak

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Saddler, the featherweight champ, still is five or six fights away from his pre-Army peak despite a knockout victory over game little Libby Manzo.

The champ showed only flashes of his old form in disposing of Manzo in 2:35 of the 10th round last night at St. Nicholas Arena but he didn't forget any of his rough-house tactics. Referee Al Berl warned Saddler repeatedly for wrestling and once for a borderline left hook.

"I thought he was improved on his last fight," said Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager, "but he still isn't in shape. He hasn't got back his old sharpness. We're going to take our time."

Saddler was quick to admit his own shortcomings.

"I forgot a few things I knew before I went in the Army," he said. "My legs felt fine but the reflexes aren't up to par yet. Maybe I'll be ready by September. When I'm ready I'll take anybody. Percy Bassett or anybody they want if I can get a good payday.

Manzo was Saddler's 94th knockout victim in 148 pro fights. Although the 24-year-old was cut around both eyes and needed seven stitches in the gash over the right eye, he gave the champ a good fight. He gave away reach and height. He outweighed Saddler 134½ to 131½ pounds in the nontitle bout.

Sandy tagged Manzo with a left hook and then dropped him with a right uppercut in the 10th. Manzo got up at seven and then collapsed in a neutral corner. Referee Al Berl ruled a knockout, not a TKO.

Bill McNeece, a rough brawler from Central Islip, N.Y., earned an Aug. 23 Eastern Parkway date with Bobby Dyles by stopping Jackie La Bua of New York on a TKO at the end of six rounds last night at the Parkway.

Referee Pete Scalzo said he stopped the fight because La Bua looked tired and open for more punishment after being rocked with two solid right-hand punches in the sixth. La Bua was cut over the left eye.

McNeece weighed 163¼, La Bua, 162½.

Post 16 Legion Plays Buffalo At Park Tonight

At Liberty Park tonight, the Post 16 Junior Legion baseball team will meet the Buffalo Legion team.

Meryln McCown will make his first start of the season on the mound for Post 16.

Buffalo won the first game between the two teams by scoring the winning run in the ninth inning.

The local Junior Legion team is sponsored by the W. A. Smith Motor Co.

Mixed Foursome Tourney Sunday At Countryview

The Country view Club and Golf Course, under the management of George Thomasetti, held a mixed foursome golf tournament on Sunday, July 4, in which three foursomes competed. They were W. F. Wertz and Maxine Wertz, competing in mixed foursome play against J. A. Middleton and John Zahringer; Roy Russell and Babs Shanafelt playing Bob Moss and Hughey Johnson, Jr.; and Sam Watson and H. W. Brown vs. Art Shanafelt and Jackson Wilt.

Mixed foursome play consists of two members of the team taking alternate strokes playing the same ball throughout the round.

W. F. Wertz and Maxine tied for first prize in the mixed foursome affair with J. A. Middleton and Zahringer.

Roy Russell and Babs Shanafelt were awarded second place honors.

Ag Research Uncovering New Benefits

Here's an example of how agricultural research often leads to entirely unexpected benefits.

As part of a federally supported project aimed at producing better varieties of alfalfa and sweet clover, University of Wisconsin scientists sought to find the cause of occasional deaths among cattle consuming sweet clover hay. Their search led them to the discovery of a chemical substance in spoiled hay which slowed the natural clotting of blood. When absorbed in sufficient quantities over a prolonged period...it could cause death in a warm-blooded animal.

The scientists, envisioning some constructive uses to which the chemical might be put, went on to develop a substance now well known to the medical world as Dicumarol. Surgeons have put it to good use in preventing post-operative blood clots. Doctors also use it to treat certain types of heart disease.

Warfarin, a chemically related substance developed by the same agricultural scientis', has become the most effective rat killer known. Mixed with a grain bait, Warfarin is more acceptable to rats than other poisons. It is now being used throughout the world to reduce rat populations which cause untold human misery and enormous economic loss.

The Wisconsin scientists estimate that their research has already paid for itself many thousand times over in benefits derived from these two chemicals. Yet the same project also achieved its intended purpose...the development of a new, high - yielding, winter - hardy alfalfa and several promising lnes of improved sweet clover varieties.

Lists Problems Facing Dairy Industry

Improvement of production costs, quality, prices, and marketing are among the most urgent problems facing the dairy industry today, believes the chairman of the University of Missouri dairy department.

In elaborating upon these problems...Professor A. C. Ragsdale says the surest way of cutting production costs is by culling out low producers. Other cost-cutting methods include production and use of more high quality roughage, use of labor-saving equipment and practices, and higher production per cow.

Ragsdale believes dairymen can help themselves by producng and marketing a higher quality product. He also believes the present method of pricing milk is outdated and unfair to dairymen. Instead of basing milk prices on the price of butterfat...Ragsdale suggests a system whereby dairymen would secure prices based on wholesale commodity prices, department store sales, and feed and labor costs.

Promotion of effective adulteration, misbranding, and misleading advertising laws, and increased advertising of milk products would also stimulate the dairy industry, says Ragsdale..

Cull Diseased Cows

This is a good year to streamline your dairy herd by culling out low producing, unprofitable cows. The first cows that should go are those infected with brucellosis. These cows are usually low producers, difficult breeders, and a menace to health.

During the past few years a milk test for brucellosis has been used successfully to spot infected herds. The State Department of Agriculture's portable laboratory is expected in the SEDALIA area in early AUGUST to continue that work.

If your herd has not been tested lately...or if you suspect brucellosis ...get in touch with your local veterinarian, the state veterinarian's office at Jefferson City, or your county agent. They'll be glad to give you information about testing facilities in your area.

70 Extension Workers Visit In Missouri

Seventy extension workers from 11 states were in Columbia for three days (June 21 to 23) for a farm and home planning conference.

The program, under the direction of the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service, was designed to give the visitors a view of Missouri's Balanced Farming program. Extension specialists from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, and North and South Dakota took part.

The conference was one of the first steps taken by extension services of the North Central States in inaugurating the expanded nationwide program of farm and home planning recently authorized by Congress. Missouri was selected for the conference site because of its pioneering work in this field.

The program started with a field trip to Lafayette County to visit four farm families carrying out Balanced Farming plans on their farms. Wednesday morning was spent visiting a Boone County farm to observe field problems in farm and home planning. The Wednesday afternoon and evening program were devoted to discussions of how Missouri's Balanced Farming program operates.

The three-day conference ended Thursday with discussions by visiting extension workers on how farm and home planning work would be carried on in their states.

Now Is Good Time To Use Phosphates

Most all Missouri soils are deficient in phosphorous, say University of Missouri soil specialists, and phophorous is needed for top crop production. The specialists suggest you anticipate your phosphorus needs for fall crops and place your order now.

The Home Rule for Ireland movement started in 1870.

Fumigate Stored Wheat in 4 to 6 Weeks

Walter Raabe of Hughesville was asking me at a picnic the other night what the recommendations were about further treatment of stored wheat. He had put "grain protectant" with the wheat as it went into the bin.

Recommendations are to fumigate small grain four to six weeks after putting it in storage. This will get rid of any insects that might have flown or crawled into the grain after it was put in the granary.

Check bins regularly for signs of insect damage. Do this by sifting grain on top of bins every two to four weeks.

Keep milled and sacked feeds away from the storage granary.

Area Near Syracuse Working on Hoppers. 1200 Acres Sprayed

Gib Owens was telling me Saturday evening of an area north of Syracuse in Cooper County that was going all out to clean out the hoppers. To date half the total acres sprayed by local planes is in an area 2½ to 5 miles north of Syracuse.

He said they started spraying there last Sunday. The following morning Mr. T. M. Brumbach came in to report that the Sunday spraying had given good results and he listed 120 acres of his own and 100 acres for neighbors to be sprayed. The total now has climbed to around 1200 acres.

For the area as a whole Mr. Owens reported 2445 acres had been sprayed at 5 p.m. Saturday and 850 acres were listed as awaiting spraying. Two materials are being used, toxaphene and aldrin. Two planes are also now being used in the spraying.

Aldrin Gets Hoppers at Wear's

J. J. Wear of Green Ridge was in the office this past Saturday with a much different story than a week earlier. A week ago the hoppers were eating him up and his attempts at spraying had met with only fair success.

On that visit he had been assured that a treatment for every field would be necessary to get control. Also, that at proper strength the recommended insecticides would kill the hoppers.

He left the office, bought a field sprayer and started spraying the next morning. From his story he really slayed them. The sprayer did put on a little more material than he had anticipated so he actually put on about 1½ pints of aldrin rather than a pint per acre but he did get fine results. Forty-eight hours after spraying he could find practiacally no hoppers in the corn field.

At the end of the week the poison was still killing hoppers but he did make another circle around the field in an attempt to keep more from moving in.

Some difficulty was encountered in clearing up an infestation in a timothy field. He is using a broomless sprayer and first sprayed rather high on the timothy. The less sprayer and first sprayed results were not too good so he lowered the sprayer nearer the ground and sprayed up on the grass. Of course, the earlier spraying can not just be taking effect but he reports he cleared the hoppers from the field.

Harms Gets Hoppers with Bait

Karl and Ernest Harms of near Ionia were in the office early last week and asked questions about spraying and baiting the hoppers. Karl was back in the office Saturday with a report. He first tried spraying one fence row with aldrin in a compressed air, garden sprayer. Results were not too good, he said.

He then tried the poison bait. He put a cup of sugar in with each ten pounds of bran and he mixed the poison a little stronger than recommendations. The bait was spread clear around several corn fields.

Recommendations also were for two quarts of water with the ten pounds of band and then to add more water. Mr. Harms said for spreading the bait with an engate seeder the two quarts of water was sufficient. He said the seeder spread a swath six feet wide and really did a fine job. He later helped a neighbor who used the full amount of water and he said the bait would stick to things rather than spreading properly.

Mr. Harms had written out a little report for me and in that he said "I got the grasshoppers all right". Apparently he did just that. He said befoer spreading the bait the corn was yellow with hoppers while after he went around the fields with the bait there were very few to find even out in the corn a ways.

Essentials Given For Safe Farm Wheat Storage

Storing wheat will pay handsomely this year. But with commercial storage space tight...you'll probably have to store your wheat on the farm. There are a few essentials for safe farm wheat storage.

1. The storage structure should be tight to prevent leakage...and to keep out rats, mice, and birds.
2. Don't store wheat containing over 13 per cent moisture unless your bins are equipped with drying equipment.
3. Fumigate the wheat four to six weeks after storage.
4. Check the wheat regularly to see if it's in good condition.

Wheat can be dried satisfactorily, with unheated air. But if mechanical drying is used...use a false bottom or duct system in the bin to properly distribute the air.

Be sure to operate the fan continuously until the wheat is down to 15 per cent moisture. Then operate it only during drying weather until the moisture content goes to 13 per cent or below.

These steps should give you high quality wheat, and an extra 40 to 50 cents per bushel above storage costs.

ASC Announces Wheat Price Support Raise

Advice has been received that the 1954 wheat price support rate has been increased 4 cents per bushel from the previously announced rate to reflect 90 per cent of parity on July 1 in accordance with the price support regulations, stated Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the local ASC committee

As a result of this increase, the Pettis County price support rate on No. 1 hard winter wheat stored on the farm is $2.34 per bushel. The rate on soft wheat is 4 cents less and on mixed wheat 6 cents less than the basic rate on hard wheat. The regular grade deductions are applicable on each type wheat grading less than No. 1.

Wheat eligible for price support may be stored on the farm or in an approved warehouse. Farm-stored wheat must be in storage for a period of 30 days prior to sampling for grade and loan application at the county ASC office for the loan after completion of wheat harvest and before the end of the 30-day storage period. At the end of the 30-day storage period the loan inspector will obtain a sample of the grain and determine the number of bushels in storage. As soon as a reports is received from Kansas City grain inspection department on grade determination the loan documents may be completed at the county office.

This same storage period is necessary on all small grains before taking of sample grades determination. The Pettis County loan rate on farm-stored oats, No. 3 or better, is 78 cents per bushel; on barley, $1.18 per bushel; and on rue, $1.46 per bushel.

Producers who have eligible wheat stored in an approved warehouse may present the warehouse receipt at the county ASC office where the loan documents will be executed. Loans may be disbursed by approved leading agencies or at the county ASC office at the option of the producer.

P.C. Wheat Growers Vote Soon on Quota

July 23, 1954 is the date when Pettis County wheat growers will join other wheat growers throughout the nation to determine whether or not the wheat marketing quota will continue in operation for the 1955 wheat crop. This, in effect, is the decision which wheat growers will make in the coming wheat referendum, says Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The marketing quota will be in effect if it is approved by at least two-thirds of the wheat growers who plant within their 1955 acreage allotment will be eligible to market their 1955 wheat free of marketing penalty.

If the vote in the referendum is favorable wheat growers who exceed their allotment will be subject to a 45 per cent-of-parity on their excess wheat. If the vote is unfavorable there will be no penalty.

To be eligible for price support on any crop produced on the farm in 1955 the producer must comply with all acreage allotments established for this farm for that year. On farms where the crop allotments call for a diverted acreage of more than ten acres, a total acreage allotment will be established for the farm and, in that case, the farmer must stay within that total as well as individual crop allotments to be eligible for price support.

In making his allotment proclamation, Secretary Benson stated, "The long range interest of agriculture and the national economy will best be served when we can have less—and not—government regulation and contral"

He added, however, that under present conditions "we have no immediate choice. With approximately a two-year supply of wheat expected to be on hand when this year's crop is harvested there is no question at all about the requirements for marketing quotas and the establishment of a national wheat acreage allotment at the level prescribed by law."

Referring to the cross-compliance requirement, making it necessary for the farmer to stay within all acreage allotments established for his farm to be eligible for price support, the Secretary said: "Neither is there any question about need to require cross-compliance with established acreage allotments. It does not make sense to encourage the building of new problems through the unwise shifting of acres from one surplus crop to another."

Rissler advises that conseniently located referendum poling places will be announced in advance of the referendum.

In the referendum conducted a year ago, for the crop now being harvested, the vote was 390,221 to 57,536. By special act of Congress the acreage allotment for the 1954 crop was set at 62 million acres. The allotment for the 1955 crop is 55 million, the minimum acreage permitted under the law.

Keep Eggs Cool

The high temperatures of recent weeks make it doubly - important to keep eggs cool.

Hens do a good job of producing top quality eggs but from there on it's the poultryman's responsibility. To maintain this high quality, gather the eggs three to four times daily in wire baskets and cool them out thoroughly before casing them.

Some producers find wind tunnel egg coolers very efficient for cooling eggs. Others like the sandbox type of egg cooler. But no matter what type of cooler you use, the important thing is to cool the eggs as rapidly as possible. After cooling, store the eggs at 55 to 65 degrees fahrenheit and at a humdity of between 70 and 80 per cent or as near these conditions as possible. And to complete the job...market the eggs at least once and preferably twice a week.

Tax Financing

BERLIN, Conn. (AP) — To pay taxes on some land this town owns in the nearby city of Middletown, First Selectman John W. Graham was authorized to ask the board of finance for an increased appropriation. The board had allowed $3 for the taxes. The tax bill was $3.58.

Missouri Is Reaping Another Top Wheat Crop; Good Quality

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Missouri which never claimed to be a wheat growing state is harvesting another bumper crop of the golden grain.

Reports of 40-bushel-an-acre wheat are common as the harvest moves into the northern sections of the state. Many areas report yields of 60 bushels or more. The grain is of good quality.

Missouri's production probably will be under the 1953 record crop of 41 million bushels, but it will be far above the 10-year average.

"Never anything like this," is the concensus of many county agents, farmers and grain buyers.

Never can anyone of Montrose, in southwest Henry County, ever recall when they had to pile wheat on the ground because storage facilities and loading of rail cars were not keeping up with the volume of grain.

Henry County produced 800,000 bushels in 1953, and may exceed that by 100,000 bushels this year, despite a 36 per cent reduction in acreage.

Southeast Missouri farmers have just completed what appears to be the biggest wheat harvest on record with an estimated 2,500,000 bushels flooding storage facilities in an area from Perry and Cape Girardeau counties south to the Arkansas line and from Mississippi County west to Butler County.

Grain buyers and officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee predict a 300,000 bushel crop for Butler County alone. Just a week ago buyers in the county bought more wheat than they did during the entire season of 1953.

"This is undoubtedly the best wheat crop Boone County has ever had in both quality and yield," reported Jack Zanels, manager of the Boone County Missouri Farmers Association exchange. "It's not unusual to hear the farmers talking about 40 and 50 bushel yields, which is at least 15 bushels higher than the average for the Columbia area."

And as in many other areas, Boone County's yields are offsetting the 29 per cent acreage reduction imposed by the government marketing program to give the county a total about the size of last year's crop.

The state's record crop last year was grown on 1,741,101 acres. The 1954 crop was restricted to 1,311,848 acres, under the allotment program.

However, there was a 15-acre automatic allotment allowed all farmers. Many of them took advantage of that for several reasons. In the southeast there was a reduction on cotton acreage. There also was a pressing need for winter pasture after two years of drouth.

The need for cattle feed sent some Cole County farmers back to the old binders for harvesting in order to save the straw for emergency feed.

Farm experts point out increased yields are generally the results of fertilizer, better soil management and use of green manure crops.

Butler county farmers, whose average harvest has been only 15 to 19 bushels an acre in previous years, are getting an average of 30 to 35 bushels.

Everett Linneman of near Moberly said he lacked only 100 pounds of producing as much wheat on 23 acres this year as he did on 40 a year ago. William P. Sander, in the same area, reported a yield of 60 bushels an acre on a 20-acre field.

Farmers near Boonville have been reporting yields of 25 to 50 bushels an acre. Mississippi, New Madrid and Stoddard county agents report averages of well over 40 bushels.

Virgil N. Sapp, Jasper county agent, summed up the harvest there as "good with 30 bushel yields the common thing with 40 to 50 bushels also reported."

The Callaway county average is about 35 bushels, with some fields up to 50.

In Northwest Missouri early reports show some areas producing 33 bushels. A. B. Carmichael, St. Louis county agent, said yields there were running, on the average, 80 to 85 per cent of last year, with a county average of about 25.

The unusually high yields have resulted, however, in one big headache — storage. Many farmers have been forced to sell their grain on open market. Those eligible farmers with storage available are able to put the wheat on government loan and pocket the rate of $2.29.

In some areas, the storage situation is critical. In others, among the Buchanan, St. Louis and Boone counties, on-farm storage facilities have been increased in the past year.

Keep Safety Shields In Place on Machines

Play it safe this summer by keeping safety shields in place around power take-offs and other moving farm machinery parts. University of Missouri agricultural engineers say the stakes are too high for you to gamble against having an accident by working around machinery without guards. If you lose...it's too late to be sorry. They suggest you see your machinery dealer if you do not have standard power take-off hitches and shields. In addition, check the shields on fans, chains and gears. Be sure they're in place before using the machine.

ASC Office to Adopt New Schedule July 12

As a reminder to Pettis County farmers and business organizations it is being announced again by Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, that the local county office, 209½ South Ohio, is adopting a new work week beginning July 12. After that date the office will be open to the public on Monday through Friday, 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. and will remain closed each Saturday.

This new policy is being adopted in accordance with recommendations of the district ASC fieldman.

Can't Scare Them

The Indians and Negroes of northern Venezuela are so fond of the oil made from the cave-birds that they make annual raids on the caverns where the birds nest. The young birds furnish the fat from which the oil is made. They are such confirmed cave dwellers that they will not fly out when a raid is taking place.

Thieves Make Off With Private Plane

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Add an airplane to the list of things thieves have stolen.

St. Louis County Deputy Sheriff Roy Beck said yesterday two men flew off with a $6,000 private four-place plane after telling attendants at the St. Louis Flying Service Sunday they had permission to take the craft.

He said the men produced a key to the cabin door. The plane was located at the Municipal Airport just northwest of the city. Co-owner William F. Parker of suburban Brentwood, who just bought the plane a week ago, discovered the loss when he went to the hanger yesterday.

April 19 is the most frequent date for Easter.

BETTER PENETRATION IN ALL SOILS
The new MM Disc Harrows have an exceptional combination of light weight and strength . . . . light enough so you can work in soft ground without too much reduction in angle and sacrifice of quality work; strong enough so you can add as much weight as needed to give you good penetration in hard soils. The new MM deep pan weight boxes enable you to use soil from the field you are working in for needed weight.
The harrow is designed so that all discs penetrate at a uniform depth and follow the contour of the ground. Disc bearings never require lubrication, and the disc gang assembly is designed to protect the bearings against wear and to assure long-life trouble-free performance.

Kansas Pupils May Not Use Missouri School Facilities

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — For some reason about 14 youngsters from Crawford County, Kansas, have been attending Missouri public schools in the Mindenmines school district of Western Barton County, it was disclosed today.

In the past year, the Missouri attorney general, the State Education Commission and the Missouri auditor's office all have been interested in the situation but none was able to turn up any evidence beyond the possibility the debt-ridden school board could use money paid by Crawford County in tuition.

And it has resulted in this legal conclusion from Missouri Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton: Missouri law does not permit children from outside the state to attend Missouri public schools—grammar and high schools — even if tuition is paid. Special laws permit admission of persons from outside Missouri to state-supported colleges and universities.

The legal opinion was supplied for the Barton County prosecuting attorney, Gordon R. Boyer of Lamar. He asked whether it was legal to transport the Kansas residents in Missouri school buses. He told the attorney general last fall that the youngsters were met on the Missouri side of the state in the morning and hauled to school in Missouri buses. In the evening, Boyer said, the Missouri buses dropped them off at the state line.

Boyer said he was told no Missouri state school aid was claimed for educating the Kansas Students.

Dalton, in an opinion written by Assistant Atty. Gen. John Inglish, held that the question of transportation need not be touched upon—that the primary issue was whether the Kansans could go to school in Missouri public schools.

He ruled they could not.

Missouri has a law providing for state aid to pay tuition of Missouri youngsters who find it convenient to attend a public school in an adjacent state. Another law permits students to go to school in a district other than the one they live in.

But, Dalton held, the latter act does not mean they can cross state lines to attend Missouri schools. He said the Legislature apparently designed that law only to permit Missourians in one district to go to school in another Missouri school district.

The state auditor, Haskell Holman, was asked to check the accounts of the school district. His auditors found that the District was almost hopelessly in debt. The little district, his report indicated, was $12,000 in the red and had little hope of ever catching up.

The State Education Commission's staff also looked into the situation. The record showed that Crawford County, Kansas, made tuition payments to the Mindenmines district. A spokesman said there might be a "few" other such cases along Missouri's borders.

Under the attorney general's opinion the practice now must end.

Ray Maxwell, president of the Mindenmines school board was not available for comment. He was reported on a vacation.

American Business May Pay Billions for Consultations

NEW YORK (AP)—In good health or bad, American business tends to call in a consultant. This year it may pay around half a billion dollars for outside advice on how to run its own affairs.

Maybe the advice is for a special job, such as how to make a ranch profitable, or how much to pay a salesman for use of his car on company business. Maybe it's for a general job on how's the best way to improve a sick business or make a healthy one still more profitable.

The 1940s brought out a rash of advice-for-a-fee men and the number is growing every year, come good times or bad.

"Consulting looks like a glamour occupation to a lot of people," says Horace G. Crockett, president of the Association of Consulting Management Engineers. "So a fair number take the plunge and go into business every year. And, as in most small businesses, the proportion of casualties is high."

The association has surveyed 1,753 consultant firms in the land. It reports today that almost half of them started handling other people's troubles since 1940, and that since 1950 the number of consulting firms has grown by 10 per cent each year.

The firms deal with management problems of manufacturing, trade and the professions. The list does not include those struggling with the rituals of advertising or the mysteries of relations with the public or press.

The association also excludes a "somewhat transient group" which it defines as: "retired executives who take up consulting almost as an avocation; college professors with part-time and summer clients; free-lance consultants who, as a class, are seldom stable."

Consultant firms tend to the small side, the association says. The largest did an eight-million-dollar gross business last year, but only 3½ per cent of the firms report gross income of a million or more. The typical one doe a $60,000-a-year business, has six or seven employes, with two or three classed as partners or officers.

Leaders Open Talks

SINGAPORE (AP)—Military representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Australia opened a four-day conference here today. Their chief task was a thorough new assessment of the Allied defense position in Southeast Asia in the light of recent French withdrawals in Indochina.

An American spokesman described the talks as "purely routine," terming them a continuation of those held periodically over the last two years in Saigon and Singapore.

Clinton Woman Heads Girlstown Foundation

CAPE GIRARDEAU (AP) — Mrs. C. W. Kemper of Clinton was elected president of Girlstown Foundation, Inc., at Cape Girardeau yesterday.

Mrs. Henri Sursa, Fredericktown, attorney for the foundation, was elected executive secretary.

Other officers are Mrs. A. L. Darby, Kansas City, vice president; Mrs. John D. Mackey, Jackson, secretary, and Mrs. A. F. Burt, St. Louis, treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mountain Grove, was appointed courtesy chairman and Mrs. W. E. Fuetterer, Pevely, contact chairman.

The next meeting will be in Jefferson City Sept. 9 at which time consideration will be given to a permanent location for Girlstown Foundation.

The foundation is sponsored by the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs which has a membership of 16,000 women in 540 clubs. Mrs. Leonard E. Oliver of Kansas City is president of the federation.

Perilous Sleep

DETROIT (AP) — Fatigue and sleepiness are among the most dangerous problems faced by motorists says L. M. van Noppen, auto finance company official.

Most drivers, try to travel too far in a day he says.

"If you get sleepy while driving, pull off the road and go to sleep. If you doze off on the highway, you probably never will wake up," he adds.

Link To Past Broken

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the day when three smiths in his shop shoed 86 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down.

Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man unable to find a place to tie his horse took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

Knowland Says Appraisal Favors GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today any fair appraisal by the voters will credit the Republican-controlled Congress with more accomplishments than any which operated under recent Democratic presidents.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a separate interview that while some important measures have been approved or seem likely to have "come up with nothing new."

With the July 4 holiday breather behind them, lawmakers start work today on the last lap of a session President Eisenhower has said he is confident will produce a constructive program.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he thinks the voters who will decide on party control of the Senate and House at the polls in November are going to be impressed by the quality of legislation, rather than the quantity.

"I have never believed the public was enthusiastic about having a great volume of legislation," he said. "I think the people are more interested in the proper administration of government and that is what they are getting under the Republicans.

"Any fair appraisal must be that this Congress has enacted more bills of national importance than anything done in the last several presidential terms."

He said the program for the scheduled final four weeks of this session will be reviewed at a White House conference of congressional leaders with Eisenhower tomorrow.

Sparkman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1952, said in support of his thesis that the GOP has produced "nothing new" that the groundwork for social security legislation which is expected to get final approval before Congress quits at the end of the month was laid by studies under the Truman administration.

He chided the administration for what he called a "surrender" on Eisenhower's proposal for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with authority to lower tariffs further. The President later said he would settle for a one-year extension, without that additional authority, and would press for the broader program next year. The one-year extension has now become law.

Easier to Get Drunk Legally in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's easier to get intoxicated in St. Louis now, from a legal standpoint.

The board of aldermen has changed an ordinance to provide that any person found by an intoximeter test to have an alcoholic content in the blood of "at least" .15 of 1 per cent shall be considered intoxicated. The ordinance formerly set the standard at "in excess" of that figure.

The new standard conforms with that in several other large cities. A taxi driver recently was freed on a drunken driving charge when he tested exactly .15.

Useful Magic

Magic is useful to primitive man because its rituals enforce order and punctuality on him, especially in regard to forming, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

GOP Was Begun on Another Hot July 6 in a Shady Grove of Oaks

JACKSON, Mich., July 3 —It was broiling hot under the July sun. Minute by minute, the town hall was filling up with densely packed, steaming humanity.

And still they came. On horseback and afoot . . . in wagons and buggies . . . aboard trains drown by bell-stacked locomotives snorting black smoke and cinders . . .

The day was July 6, 1854.

The event was the first convention of the nation's new-born Republican party.

Drawn by a common purpose, Whigs, Free Soilers and "Anti-Nebraska" Democrats descended 5,000 strong upon this community in southwest Michigan to protest the threat of spreading slavery. Their numbers reflected the popular resentment over congressional passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act, which permitted slavery in territory that had been free for the 34 years since the Missouri Compromise.

Long before 1 p. m., when the convention was scheduled to begin, the Jackson town hall was filled to overflowing. Shirt-sleeved delegates, sweltering in the heat, adjourned with cheers to a shady oak grove near the county race course.

There, the Republican Party was organized with the adoption of a platform and the nomination of a full state ticket.

A speech by a fugitive slave named Lewis Clark, often cited as a prototype of George Harris in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," dramatized the moment in history.

Clark, son of a Revolutionary War soldier and a Kentucky Negro girl, related how his family was sold on the auction block and how he finally managed to escape to freedom in Canada.

With Clark's recital fresh in their minds, delegates summed up their views toward the Kansas-Nebraska Act and Southern slaveholders:

"Resolved, that . . . in view of the imminent danger that Kansas and Nebraska will be grasped by slavery, and a thousand miles of slave soil will thus be interposed between the free states of the Atlantic and those of the Pacific, we will act . . . faithfully in unison to avert and repel this gigantic wrong and shame.

"Resolved, that in view of the necessity of battling for the first principles of Republican government, and against the schemes of an aristocracy, the most revolting and oppressive with which the earth was ever cursed or man debased, we will cooperate and be known as 'Republicans' until the contest be terminated."

So it was that the Republican Party formally was launched on a course that was to erupt in bloody civil war less than seven years later and elect Republicans to the White House 15 times down the years from Abraham Lincoln to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Today a marker commemorates the history-changing event of that July afternoon long ago. It bears this legend:

"Here, under the oaks, July 6, 1854, was born the Republican party — destined in the throes of civil strife to abolish slavery, vindicate democracy and perpetuate the Union."

Starting tomorrow, men wearing beards and arriving on horseback and in wagons will begin a seven-day pageant here celebrating the 100-year history of the Grand Old Party. It will feature a cast of 1,500 performing on a 300-foot stage.

Vice President Richard Nixon, chairman of the GOP Centennial Committee, will speak next Tuesday.

Although Jackson is recognized as the site of the first formal GOP convention, the honor of being the party's "birthplace" is claimed by Ripon, in neighboring Wisconsin.

The Republican Centennial Committee, in a newly issued "History of the Republican Party," reports:

"The first recorded meeting of 'Republicans' was held . . . in the Congregational church at Ripon on Feb. 26, 1854, at the call of Maj. Alvan E. Bovay, a prominent Whig.

"A resolution was adopted providing that if the Kansas-Nebraska bill passed, the existing Ripon party organizations should be abandoned and a new party, to be called the Republican, should be formed."

When the Senate passed the bill, Maj. Bovay called a second meeting on March 20 in the town's little white schoolhouse, and a committee of five was appointed to form the new party.

The historic Ripon schoolhouse now proudly proclaims in black letters across the front: "Birthplace of the Republican Party."

The official GOP history notes the spring and summer of 1854 saw many meetings that brought other Republican organizations into being in Iowa, Ohio, Maine, Massachusetts, New York and other Northern states.

It was not until two years later that a gaunt, shambling Illinois lawyer named Abe Lincoln, destined to be the nation's first Republican president, entered the picture.

Lincoln attended the state convention at Bloomington, Ill., in May 1856, called to appoint delegates to the party's first national convention at Philadelphia June 17.

The Resolutions Committee, struggling to write a platform, called on Lincoln for help. Said the future Great Emancipator:

"Let us, in building our new party, plant ourselves on the rock of the Declaration of Independence and the gates of hell shall not be able to prevail against us."

The term Republican, or Dmeocrat-Republican, was originally used by Thomas Jefferson, now hailed as the founder of the present-day Democratic party, in describing his own anti-Federalist party in 1792.

In addition, John Quincy Adams ran as a "National Republican" in winning the 1824 presidential election. Four years later Andrew Jackson won as the first plain Democrat without the hyphenated Republican appendage.

Students Return Home for Holiday

By Mrs. Harold Conway

HUGHESVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jolly, Webster Groves, spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandhorst. The Jollys were enroute to their home, after spending a week with relatives in Marble Falls and Waco, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wiley and daughter, Louise, Kansas City, spent the past weekend with the Jim Wileys, Art Martins, Con Scotts, and Mrs. Clarence Johnson.

Ralph Foster and son, Gary, Hutchinson, Kan., spent Thursday night with Mrs. E. E. Foster and Bill.

Miss Marjorie Leicher, who underwent an operation in Research Hospital in Kansas City last week, is getting along nicely. Mrs. Clara Leicher, Miss Norma Jean Leicher, and Miss Emma Kraft, Sedalia, are with her. An aunt, Mrs. Will Brandhorst, spent the first of the week with her.

Miss Ila Mae Hoffman and Miss Barbara Conway, Columbia, will spend the 4th of July holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoffman, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheeler have had their grandchildren as their guests for the past week, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norwal Wagner, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gerken, Sedalia, have spent their vacation at the Oake of the Ozarks.

Commies Raise Fuss Over 'Information'

ROME, Italy (AP)—The Communists are needling Italy's government again about something U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce is supposed to have told newsmen in America.

Red party boss Palmiro Togliatti told the Chamber of Deputies Mrs. Luce, arriving in America recently for a vacation, told reporters Italy plans to intensify the "struggle against communism."

This, Togliatti said, seemed to indicate the envoy has access "even to secret plans of the government." He formally demanded whether Premier Mario Scelba or Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni were going to "do their legitimate duty and protest" to the U.S. government.

Such a formal demand requires a reply by Scelba or Piccioni.

Last winter a large group of Communist and left-wing senators asked, without success, that the government declare Mrs. Luce unacceptable last winter. They charged her with criticizing Italy in a conference with Washington newsmen.

Outlaw Communists As Peace Danger

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) —East Pakistan's new military government has outlawed the Communist party as a danger to public peace. The Reds, who supported the regime of ousted Chief Minister Abdul Kasem Fazlul Huq, were accused of inciting riots in April in which more than 500 persons were killed.

Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, the state's new governor, signed an order declaring the party and all its branches illegal in East Pakistan.

Following the April riots and statements by Fazlul Huq demanding provincial autonomy for east Pakistan, Governor General Ghulam Mohammed fired the chief minister and his government.

To The Rescue!

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — A telephone operator called the police and said there was a woman on the line calling for help. Officers listened in, agreed it sounded bad. Four patrolmen sped to the address and found all doors locked. Entrance was gained with a pass key.

They found a drunk woman in bed with the telephone receiver off the hook. She said she was all right wondered if the officers would get her a glass of water. They did.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Dugan's Paint and Wallpaper.

War Threat Existed, Now Has Subsided

TOKYO, (AP)—Informed military quarters said today there has been a very real threat of World War III exploding in the Pacific in recent weeks, but the danger has subsided.

These sources, who are extremely well informed, said that up to a week ago patrol planes anxiously scanned the skies north of Japan while warships on the alert sped through the South seas.

The tension has eased considerably in the past three weeks, these sources said, but the Russians still have 35 army divisions and 700 jet bombers poised for a possible attack on Japan.

The tension was said to have resulted from the possibility that U.S. forces would intervene in Indochina. Sources here said such intervention might well have reopened the shooting war in Korea. And Russia was poised for a possible attack on Japan, rated by both East and West as the cornerstone to control of the Pacific.

Russian forces still are poised for attack, but the tension has eased and military authorities say late spring thaws in Siberia probably have softened the ground too much for quick movement of men and supplies.

Redeployment of Allied ground forces in the Pacific is under consideration, now that the threat of war has lessened, it was reported.

There was speculation that the six U.S. divisions now in Korea would be pulled out, leaving 20 South Korean divisions to guard the demilitarized zone.

The ROK divisions are rated capable of holding off an attack by the estimated half-million North Korean and Chinese soldiers in Korea.

Plans also are under consideration to shift the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division from Japan's northern island of Hokkaido, leaving Japanese units to defend it.

Carpenter Is Killed In Fall on New Job

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 45-year-old carpenter, Dawson Hough, was killed in a 20-foot fall just five minutes after he reported for work on a new job yesterday.

He fell from the framework of an addition to the Fisher Body Plant. Hough had just recovered from a major operation.

CAUTIONS FRANCE—United States Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon has warned France it must decide soon between a controlled German rearmament within EDC, or the re-creation of an independent national German army. He said that if changes were now made in EDC, France might be seriously harmed.

HANDS, HANDS, HANDS—They're only ceramic, but they form a clutching frame about the portrait of Mrs. Fred Richardson, of Hutchinson, Kan. Making detailed replicas of her friends' and relatives' hands is only one phase of her ceramic hobby. The hands are flesh-toned and perfect to the tiniest scar.

Japanese Paper Says Dinner Speeches OK

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese politicos are exhibiting an unseasonal frost towards an American-style fund-raising dinner, cooked up to finance a merger of the three conservative political parties.

In money-tight Japan, where Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party (conservative) sponsors a stark austerity plan, the $31-a-plate dinner with a $6 rebate gimmick is on the hot griddle.

But it's not so much the cost that fries the critics. It's the frivolity of such lagniappe as cocktails and night club acts which one newspaper charged would turn the dinner into a "cabaret Christmas party."

For $31 less the $6 refund, the Japan News said, people want to hear speeches, preferably profound.

Japan Will Purchase Guided Missiles

TOKYO (AP) — Japan is in the market for a good secret weapon — if someone has one for sale.

Director Tokutaro Kimura of Japan's new self-defense force said today the army is interested in a guided missile and would like to buy the manufacturing license for such a weapon.

Other members of the defense board pointed out, however, that guided missiles still are rated top secret and once sold on the international market they can hardly be considered secret.

Bob Thomas in Hollywood—

Man Holds Record of Seeing 'The Drunkard' 21 Times

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I have just talked with a man who holds a unique distinction: he has been to "The Drunkard" 183 times.

"The Drunkard," that theatrical phenomenon, was 21 years old last night. Seymour Hess, an extrovert whose business is reviving ailing business firms, was there — for the 7,816th performance and his 183rd.

For the benefit of a few folks lately arrived from Siam and for some more who have learned to read since my last annual report, "The Drunkard" has astounded everyone by running so long. It is not improbable that a play would go on for 21 years; it is impossible. But "The Drunkard" has done it. It paints in the broadest melodramatic terms the evils of drink. Hard drink, that is. Beer is served free throughout the performance to all spectators over 21.

I will not try, again, to explain "The Drunkard." Maybe champion Hess can:

"There is nothing else like it in the world. It is a play in which the audience takes part by cheering the heroine and hissing the villain."

After Hess paid his way into 150 prformances, producer Mildred Ilse gave him a gold lifetime pass. Now he gets in for free, but he always takes guests. Last night, he got in for free but bought 48 tickets for his friends.

Why does he go so often? Because, more than any other spectator, he takes part in a large and loving way in the goings-on. Through the years he has devised 11 ways to cheer the actors and amuse the other spectators. When the heroine spreads a shawl over her baby, Hess yells: "Don't smother it!" When the same girl, in dismay, clasps a hand to her breast, Hess pops a paper bag. To the hero taking a final drink, he shouts: "You'll be sorry!" Everyone, including players, likes Hess' comments so much that an actor delivers his once-spontaneous lines when Hess isn't in the audience. It occurs to me in writing this that this innocent fun must seem awfully childish. If Hess were younger and indulged in the same fun at a movie, he'd likely be thrown out on his ear. But "The Drunkard" is different.

New Pool Has No Water

NORTON, Kan. (AP)—Norton has a new $90,000 municipal swimming pool — minus the water.

The pool was completed in time for the usual Fourth of July swimming rush but because of the hot dry weather this northwest Kansas town has a water shortage.

The city expects to overcome the shortage later this week through an expanded water system.

TV Union Meets For Strike Date

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Executive Board of the Television Writers of America says it will meet tonight to set a strike date unless the TV networks grant a union shop and make a satisfactory offer for scripts.

Negotiations between TWA and the three networks have been under way since October 1953. Union officials say the networks and TWA still are far apart on minimum rates for scripts.

The union seeks $715 for a half-hour commercial show, $500 for a half-hour sustaining show and $425 for a half-hour sustaining adaptation. TWA says the network offers $425, $345 and $215 respectively.

Sylvia Lea Tinta Exchanges Vows With Bill Eddy

Regal lilies, ferns and large baskets of white gladioli formed the altar setting for the marriage of Miss Sylvia Lea Tinta, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Cooper of Stover, to Mr. Bill E. Eddy, son of Mr. James Eddy of Versailles, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Tuesday, June 20, at the Methodist Church in Stover. The double ring service was read by the Rev. J. H. DeVries.

Mrs. Jewell Stevenson of Stover played the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Mary Lou Kraxberger of Columbia, who sang "Only a Rose" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, whose stepfather, Mr. Kenneth Cooper, gave her in marriage, wore a gown of ivory satin. The fitted bodice was styled with a Peter Pan collar which was embroidered with seed pearls, long tapered sleeves and buttoned down the front with satin buttons. The skirt, gathered at the waist, had a wide pleated panel down the front and in the back lengthened to an aisle-wide train. A bandeau of woven satin embroidered with seed pearls held in place her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of Sweetheart roses and stephanotis entwined with ivy.

Miss Thelma Schupp of Stover, as maid of honor, wore a gown of light blue embroidered organdy over taffeta, ballerina length, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Mildred Wilson of Kansas City, as bridesmaid, was in a gown of yellow organdy over taffeta, styled like that of the maid of honor and her bouquet was of yellow roses and white carnations.

Mr. Dean Courtney of Hutchinson, Kan., served as best man for Mr. Eddy.

Ushers were Mr. Phillip Small of Stover and Mr. Jim Eblen of Hutchinson, Kan.

The bride's mother was attired in a dress of light blue shade, with which she wore pink accessories, and her corsage was of pink roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue dress and white accessories, and her corsage was also of pink roses.

The reception was held at the church parlors following the ceremony, with approximately 150 guests attending. On the bride's table in the center of the room was a three-tiered, all-white wedding cake on which were a miniature bride and bridegroom. Encircling the cake was ivy and roses and over it was an arbor with roses and ivy from the top of which was a pair of love birds in a heart-shaped cage.

The refreshment table and the gift table were also decorated with roses and ivy. Serving were Miss Thelma Schupp, Miss Mildred Wilson, Miss Judy Stevinson and Miss Martha Martin. Mrs. Donald Case had charge of the guest book.

The couple left after the reception for a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake and are now at home at 521 East Seventh, Hutchinson, Kan. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of pink nylon, and her flowers were white carnations.

The bride was graduated from Stover High School in the class of 1953 and attended the University of Missouri, Columbia, the past year.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Stover High School and is now in the United States Navy, stationed at Hutchinson. He entered the service right after graduation.

Guatemala Lifts State Of Seige

GUATEMALA, (AP)—Guatemala's new military government last night lifted the state of siege proclaimed by ousted President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

Pushing ahead with its anti-Communist, back-to-normal program, the ruling five-man junta also:

1. Barred all illiterates — an estimated 65 per cent of the country's three million population — from voting;

2. Froze the assets of Arbenz, ex-Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello and other persons prominent under the former Communist-backed government;

3. Continued the roundup of suspected Reds;

4. Announced restrictions on civil rights would continue in effect until Aug. 8. However, the junta has already ended the Arbenz-imposed strict censorship of the local and foreign press.

Arbenz had proclaimed the state of siege just before the outbreak of the revolt which forced his resignation on June 27. Cancellation of the order was expected to end permanently the all-night curfew and other military controls.

The ban on voting by illiterates struck at wide support which the Communists have whipped up among the uneducated peasantry. Under the 1945 Constitution which ex-President Juan Jose Arevalo and Arbenz sonsored, all men — literates and illiterates — over 18 and all literate women of that age could vote.

The new junta decree limited balloting to those able to read and write.

Thieves Rob Priests; Throw Pepper in Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police today sought three men who tossed pepper into the eyes of two Catholic priests and robbed them of collection money totaling $1,931.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Gallagher of St. Thomas Church and his assistant, the Rev. John J. Ward, were taking the money to a bank yesterday, officers said.

They were stopped at a traffic light and the trio tossed pepper into their eyes, grabbed the bag of money, hit Father Ward when he protested, and fled.

Dick Haymes Appears In Deeper Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The monetary blues of crooner Dick Haymes had more sour notes today after a second ex-wife obtained a bench warrant for his arrest.

Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes charged the singer owed her $3,800 in alimony.

It was the second such warrant for Haymes, who also is having troubles with both the immigration and internal revenue arms of Uncle Sam.

Last Friday in Santa Monica Superior Court, Judge Orlando H. Rhodes issued a bench warrant for Haymes on charges of another ex-wife, Joanne Dru, that he is in arrears $4,800 in payments for support of their three children.

Haymes is reported at Lake Tahoe vacationing with Rita Hayworth, wife No. 4.

New Jet Plane Passes Trials at 1500 MPH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says a new daylight jet fighter — which reportedly has flown up to about 1,500 miles an hour — has passed flying tests at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Yesterday's cryptic announcement disclosed that the Lockheed XF104, an "air superiority" fighter, had made its first flight last February.

The Air Force gave out little specific information. However, other reliable sources have said the ship weighs only about half as much as jets now in the air, but is twice as fast as the swiftest of them.

Teen-Age Minority Has Become Increasing Problem Over Nation

By STAN REDDING
Houston Chronicle Reporter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Should you decide to check, your eyes might be opened a bit at the activities of Houston's teen-agers.

You might find your teen-age son—as I found somebody's teen-age son—dancing drunkenly around the floor of a tavern, a half-empty bottle of gin clutched tightly in his arms in lieu of a girl.

You might find your young daughter — as I did someone's — slumped in the arms of a known teen-age law breaker, her eyes dazed by drink.

You might find them "slumming" in any one of hundreds of Houston and Harris County taverns, as I did.

Or maybe you'll find him, her or them packed tightly in an automobile—its trunk full of iced beer—speeding madly down a highway. Or perhaps, an ideal place for "drinking and necking."

These children represent a very small minority of the teen-agers in Houston and Harris County. For each child I saw there are dozens of others who are content to follow accepted behavior standards.

But this "minority" is becoming an increasing problem across the land. For want of a better word they call it the problem of our "juvenile delinquents."

And your child is eligible to join this "minority." I know. I have seen them.

There are some 5,000 retail outlets for beer in Harris County. There are 700 retail liquor stores in the same area. To police these places and similar establishments in 13 other counties, to enforce the law, the state furnishes a grand total of 12 liquor agents.

"Sure, we investigate a lot of complaints concerning juveniles frequenting these taverns and buying beer," says Tom McPhaul, agent in charge of the Houston District Liquor Control Board. "But it is virtually impossible to make a case concerning a juvenile."

"I don't know where this juvenile situation will end up," McPhaul says tiredly, "unless the parents take a hand in it with us."

A study of Houston police records shows that juvenile cases handled by the Crime Prevention Division are on the increase. Of these, 2,428 were handled last year as juveniles who committed an offense punishable by jail or prison terms on the adult level.

Thus the "juvenile delinquents" compose less than 2 per cent of all the children in Houston. Assume that an equal number go astray but are not caught or are straightened out by other than police agencies. Officials agree that is a more than "fair assumption."

That means that less than 4 per cent of Houston's children are delinquent. But before you begin thinking the situation isn't so bad after all, listen to Lt. Leo Horton of the Crime Prevention Division:

"Those 2,428 kids are a serious problem on any scale. They are worthy of all the attention we can give them."

What can be done in this city about juvenile delinquency?

There is no one solution, no more than there is one cause. But there are things that can be accomplished.

The U.S. Children's Bureau estimates that 5 per cent of a community's total police force should be assigned to work with children. The Houston force is nine men and women short of that standard.

The USCB says a probation department should have one counselor to work with every 30 children handled. The Harris County department has 11 probation case workers, each with 80 active cases to handle!

But the big item is an institution for boys within Harris County. Such an institution for younger boys, 10 to 14, will soon be available. Pushing the fight for this project was Domestic Judge J. W. Mills, one of the leading figures in the fight against delinquency.

Judge Mills, who thinks that broken homes contribute much to delinquency, is seeking legislation to drop hasty marriages and to stop the trial of divorce cases where the husband and father does not appear to contest divorce or seek child custody.

He also urges citizens as a whole to interest themselves more in the various social agencies, civic groups and community organizations coping with juvenile delinquency.

Congress Highlights . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Still shooting for congressional adjournment by July 31, Senate and House Republican leaders head for their weekly huddle with President Eisenhower at the White House.

INDOCHINA — Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, says he hopes Eisenhower will promise to recall Congress if the United Nations should vote to admit Red China as a member this fall.

FARM — The Senate Agriculture Committee, which already has voted for a year's extension of high, rigid farm price supports, meets for further consideration of general farm legislation.

MCCARTHY — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), just back from an 18-day vacation, says he "would be glad" to turn over to a Hoover Commission "task force" evidence he contends will show Communists have worked their way into the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency.

New Ventilator Fans Are Being Installed At Town & Country

Work is progressing on the installation of nine large ceiling ventilators for the Sedalia Town and Country factory. They are designed like those recently installed on the roof of the heel plant and stripping department building.

Installation and wiring is nearing completion, and it is planned that all of the ventilators will be in full operation after the summer vacation.

The Sedalia factory contains some 300,000 cubic feet of air that will be completely changed every two minutes by the new fans.

The present window fans on the north side of the factory will be removed and new window panes installed. It will now be possible for anyone to open any of the windows to suit their individual desires, without disturbing the complete change of air every two minutes.

German Battalion Wants Buffalo

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A U. S. Army battalion in Germany wants a buffalo for mascot. It probably won't get one, though.

In a letter to Gov. Howard Pyle, soldiers with the 510th Havy Tank Battalion asked for one of Arizona's remaining bison to go with the outfit's buffalo crest.

"It would really help morale," one soldier said.

Pyle passed the request on to the Arizona Game and Fish Department, where a spokesman said shipping a Buffalo to Germany would be "too expensive."

Boy Keeps His Promise, Has Overseas Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—For 14-year-old Peter Devlin Smith there is no place like home, even if this home is in hot, muggy New York.

His parents, however, thought it would be a good idea if the boy spent the summer in Norway, where he goes to school.

This idea Pete didn't like at all. And the tall, blond boy had made it quite clear.

"If you don't send me passage money to come home, I'll stow away," he warned in a letter. But his mother and stepfather, Nora and Kendall Smith, apparently had underestimated this grim determination. Pete didn't get the money.

Yesterday, when they returned from a Fourth of July weekend trip, the telephone rang and the stepfather picked up the receiver.

"Hallo, Papa," he heard. "Papa, here I am."

It took some time for Papa to figure out what was going on. Finally an immigration official got on the phone and explained. Yes, Pete was here waiting to be picked up.

Later, at his Manhattan home, Pete explained everything.

He and 15-year-old Jon Eric Jo Hannsen decided to come over. So they walked aboard the Norwegian American Line flagship Oslofjord on the crew gangplank, and that was it.

"I traveled on that ship before, you know," Pete said.

He had with him $10 and a bag containing pants, shirt, shoes, socks and underwear.

The two spent nine days aboard the ship, mixing with the paying passengers, playing deck games and sleeping in shower rooms.

As for food — it was simple, explained Pete.

The first day out when the ship docked in Copenhagen they got landing cards like any other passenger and had sandwiches ashore.

"The rest of the time we ate cookies mostly," said Pete. "We'd ask the cook for some and he thought we were passengers."

The pair was discovered in the luggage room, only five hours before the ship docked last Friday.

Jon, Pete's companion, was detained aboard to be returned to Norway.

Pete's parents, however, could not be located as they were out of town, and the immigration service offered him a shelter at Ellis Island. He stayed there for five days —compliments of the U.S. government, of course.

Pete's parents know now that when he makes a promise he keeps it.

Pilots Will Determine Winner of Women's Powder Puff Derby

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A group of pilots met today to determine which of 46 finishing women pilots won the four-day Powder Puff Derby.

The straggling order of finish means little. Each plane flies against an individual handicap and it takes some complex arithmetic to determine the winner. Prizes total $2,000 with $800 for first.

The last plane crossed the finish line in Knoxville yesterday at 4:28 p.m. — just 32 minutes before the deadline. The daytime-only race began at Long Beach, Calif., Saturday.

The 46th arrival was piloted by Loretta Foy of Van Nuys, Calif., with Jean Bartel of Los Angeles, Miss America of 1943, as copilot.

By the time the race ended yesterday, five planes had been disqualified for various reasons.

Green Ridge Scouts Get Official Charter

Green Ridge Boy Scout Troop No. 152, sponsored by the Green Ridge Chamber of Commerce, received its official chapter at the regular meeting Monday night, June 28, at the school building.

Abe Silverman and Julius Stohr, Sedalia, presented the charter to the troop.

Local men who are working in the interest of the troop are: C. M. Purchase, who represents the Chamber of Commerce, and the troop committee members, J. A. Gordon, chairman, Carl Spickert, Royal Ragar and William F. Heibner.

James M. Durrill is the scoutmaster and the Rev. Lewis Dunlap, pastor of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church, is assistant scoutmaster.

The following members received their tenderfoot badges and scout caps at this meeting: Jerry Lee Perdue, Kenneth Bruns, Russel Pace, Clifford Carlson, Danny Ridenour and Wayne Lett. Gary Edmundson, who was unable to be present, will receive his badge and cap at the next meeting.

Indicates Employent And Unemployment Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new government report on the nation's job situation was due today, and advance indications were it would reflect increased employment—and also increased unemployment.

The report for June was prepared for issuance by the Commerce and Labor departments.

The summer months traditionally bring out students looking for vacation-time jobs and adults seeking work in outdoor activities. More jobs open up, but there also are more people looking for them.

This explains why in each of the past 14 years both employment and unemployment have increased between May and June. Employment usually increases by about 1½ million and unemployment rises by approximately 350,000.

Looking over Missouri with Joe Marsh

Diversity Makes Missouri Great

When most folks think of crops grown in Missouri, they have in mind corn, wheat, oats, soy beans and cotton.

There's a million-dollar tobacco industry in Missouri with most of it centered in Platte County, where the growing of white burley leaf is the major crop. Weston is the biggest loose-leaf tobacco market west of the Mississippi River.

During the summer, you'll see field after field with the big tobacco barns scattered around waiting to do their yearly job of drying the leaves to a golden brown.

From where I sit, diversity is what makes Missouri and America great. Some people are experts at raising tobacco while others are top-notch plumbers or wheat growers. Although we may be experts in our own business, most of us try not to tell the other fellow how to run his business. He is an expert, too. Whether it's raising tobacco, plumbing or a simple thing like choosing, say, beer or milk with a snack, we live and let live.

Jury Ponders Use of Poison In Thorne Case

CHICAGO, (AP)—The possibility that Montgomery Ward Thorne was poisoned confronted a coroner's jury today as it resumed its investigation of the death of the 20-year-old heir to a multimillion-dollar mail order fortune.

Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's pathologist, testifying at yesterday's inquest, said he thinks Thorne may have been poisoned.

"This is still a suspicious death," he said.

Leon read a report to Coroner Walter T. McCarron by Dr. W. J. R. Camp, state toxicologist, showing an "insignificant trace quantity of barbituate, a trace quantity of alkaloid giving color reactions indicating morphine" were found in the youth's brain.

Combination of enough alcohols such as were found in Thorne's body and more dope could have caused his death, Dr. Leon declared. The alcohol, he said, may have evaporated or been dissipated in the body before the atuopsy was performed.

A conflicting picture of Thorne was painted yesterday at the inquest centering on these questions:

1. What was the relationship of the dead youth and his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne?

2. Was Thorne a "drunk" and a "dope addict?"

3. Why was he living in a $75-a-month apartment on Chicago's North Side out of touch with his family when he was found dead June 19?

4. Why did he change his will leaving half his estate to his fiancee Maureen Ragen and one-quarter to her mother Aleen nine days before his death?

5. Was Thorne being blackmailed?

His mother entered the jammed courtroom with stoic determination. Her chalk-white face contrasted with her black crepe dress and the diamond-crusted cross at her throat.

Bordering on collapse as the barrage of questions wore on, she made these points:

1. She claimed she "barely knew" he. son's 18-year-old fiancee who displaced her as chief heir in his last will.

2. She openly doubted that the pair meant to marry, saying, "He certainly had a lot of girls for an engaged boy."

3. She charged that Thorne was being blackmailed when he died and didn't come home for that reason. No details of the blackmail were given.

4. She said Thorne had come home "drunk" once and she had heard rumors he was taking dope but strongly denied she ever had him arrested, accusing him of alcoholism or narcotics addiction.

At one point in the questioning, Mrs. Thorne said: "I was praying for God to send him home. He did, but He sent him to his real home. For two years I traveled the road to Calvary, and now I am at the foot of the cross, and it is up to you people to take over.

"Thank God, I know where he is now," she said, nervously fingering a rosary.

In sharp contrast with her testimony, Sgt. Michael Murphy had told the court that Thorne told him and Detective Walter Binder:

"I don't like to say it, but I am living away from home because I don't like my mother."

Thorne had been picked up at his mother's request, Murphy testified, after a parking ticket issued to Thorne was found in a doctor's car. A medical kit containing narcotics had been stolen from the car.

Will Ask Assembly To Approve Drafting French for Indochina

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today he will ask the National Assembly to approve the sending of draftees to reinforce French forces in Indochina if the Geneva negotiations end in failure.

The Premier also told the lawmakers he would be leaving soon to take personal charge of the French delegation at Geneva.

"I have already said that the reasons to hope for a favorable and honorable outcome are present," he declared. "That is still my opinion today."

The Premier told the Assembly there would be no means of assuring the safety of French soldiers already in Indochina if conscripts were not sent.

Since the war started in 1947, all the fighting in Indochina has been done by French volunteers, North African troops, and Foreign Legionnaires. The dispach of draftees to a combat zone was specifically forbidden by the National Assembly.

Mendes-France reminded the deputies he has promised to resign unless he can bring an end to the fighting by July 20. He also reminded them he has promised to take all necessary measures in the meantime to provide for the safety of French forces already on the scene.

The Premier said French military leaders concurred in his decision to call on conscripts if the attempts for a negotiated settlement fail. The Premier recently conferred with Gen. Paul Ely, France's new commander in chief in Indochina.

Overproduction would have been a serious problem a long time ago if it hadn't been for second breakfasts, coffee breaks, and smoking periods. ®NEA®

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Jennie M. Hull

Mrs. Jennie M. Hull, 81, 513 East 13th, died at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the Bothwell Hospital. She had been a patient there for a week, following a fall at her home in which she fractured her hip.

Mrs. Hull was born Dec. 30, 1872 in Franklin County, Mo., near Chamois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Johnson.

She was married to Rudolph A. Hull at Alton, Ill., July 9, 1902. They were the parents of two children: Robert Hull of the home, employed in the circulation department of the Sedalia Democrat, and Mrs. Russell Reavis, Des Moines, Ia., who had been visiting with her mother the past few days.

Mr. Hull preceded her in death May 23, 1928.

Mrs. Hull was a member of the First Christian Church and the Auxiliary Railway Trainmen, Mayflower Lodge 141.

She is survived, in addition to her two children, by: one brother, J. E. Johnson, Centertown, Mo., and two grandchildren, Virginia Reavis, and James Reavis.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Gillespie Funeral Home, with the Rev. David M. Bryan, officiating.

Music will be by Mrs. H. O. Foraker, at the organ.

Pallbearers will be Orville Shaw, Roy Eding, Emmett Turner, George Esser, Walter McMillan and Homer Ruffin.

Burial will be in the Crown Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Bessie Sumner

Mrs. Bessie Sumner, 69, wife of Col. Lee Sumner, and a sister of Mrs. John Boyd, Knob Noster, died at her home in Hollywood, Calif., Friday.

Funeral services were held in Hollywood Tuesday afternoon, July 6.

Mrs. Sumner was the former Bessie Brendel, daughter of Gideon and Mary Alice Brendel, and was born in Aulville Oct. 30, 1884, being one of six children.

Her parents moved to Knob Noster when she was a small child and she attended school there.

She married Col. Lee Sumner May 30, 1904, in Eureka, Kan. In military service her husband was assigned to various posts in many countries where they had resided.

Surviving are her husband, four daughters, seven grandchildren, and the one sister, Mrs. Boyd.

Reuben B. Faircloth

Knob Noster friends have been advised of the death of Reuben B. Faircloth, 71, at St. Mary's Hospital, Roswell, N. M., after an illness of two weeks.

Funeral services and burial were at Roswell June 30.

Mr. Faircloth was born in Knob Noster Aug. 3, 1882, attended schools there and married Miss Everna Moore at Elkins, June 25, 1919. The past four years they had resided in Roswell.

Surviving are his wife of the home, and a niece, Mrs. G. D. Prentice, Albion, Mich., the former Etta Collins, Knob Noster.

John Snyder

John Snyder, 75, La Monte, died Tuesday afternoon, July 6, in a Kansas City hospital.

He was a retired farmer and lived in the Dresden community for a period of 35 years before illness brought on inactivity in that pursuit. About six months ago he went to the home of a son in Kansas City.

He was a member of the Dresden Methodist Church and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sallie Norris Snyder, a son, Jack Snyder, Mission, Kan., and a grandlaughter, Linda Snyder.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Blackman Funeral Home, Kansas City.

Frank Hirtl Services

Funeral services for Frank Hirtl, longtime resident of Sedalia, will be conducted at 9 a. m. Thursday at Sacred Heart Church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Hirtl, 71, died Tuesday at Bothwell Hospital after an illness of six months. He leaves a daughter, Miss Helen Hirtl, of the home address, 408 North Grand Avenue, and a son, Leo Hirtl, on the news staff of the Cincinnati, O., Post. His wife, Mrs. Mary Hirtl, died in 1932.

He was a native of Austria and came to this country shortly after the turn of the century. For many years, he operated a shoe repair shop at 114 East Main. Until his illness, he was employed by the Quinn Shoe Store.

The body will lie at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel from 6 p m. Wednesday. The rosary will be said at 8 p. m.

George M. Thomas

George M. Thomas, 59, several years ago manager of a Sears-Roebuck Co. store in Sedalia, died at a hospital in Los Angeles, Calif., Sunday, according to a message to his mother, Mrs. George Thomas, at Pilot Grove. He had been residing at Laguna Beach, Calif. Burial was in California.

Mr. Thomas was born at New Lebanon Sept. 22, 1894, son of the late George and Ida M. Thomas.

Surviving are: his wife of the home; his mother, Mrs. George Thomas; three sisters, Mrs. William Schlotzhauer, Uniontown, Kan., Mrs. Fulton Todd, Columbia, and Mrs. Carl Polh, Boonville; and a brother, Ray Thomas, Jefferson City.

Mrs. Eliza J. Cantrill

Mrs. Eliza J. Cantrill, 84, died at 3 a.m. Tuesday at her farm home four miles northwest of Versailles. She had been ill for several years.

She was born April 7 1870, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson LaFever.

Mrs. Cantrill is survived by: her husband; and three sons, John and Cecil of California, Mo., and Orville of Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Assembly of God Church in Versailles, with the Rev. Nelson Sachs, officiating.

Burial will be in the Holft Cemetery, south of Versailles, under Kidwell service.

The body is at the Kidwell Funeral Home in Versailles.

Death of Infant

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Jenkins, route 2, Sweet Springs, died at 6 a. m. Wednesday at Bothwell Hospital, where the child was born July 4.

Besides the parents, she is survived by two brothers and a sister.

Graveside services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Mt. Zion Cemetery northwest of La Monte, the Rev. William Thomas, pastor of Mt. Zion Church, to officiate.

The body was taken to the Parker-Moore Funeral Home, La Monte.

St. Louis Grand Jury Indicts Two Aldermen

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—The Circuit Court grand jury has indicted two St. Louis aldermen on charges of soliciting a bribe to get passage of a bill.

Following return of the indictments yesterday the circuit attorney's office announced that arrest orders had been issued for Ben Oliver and Waler Ziegenbalg, both Democrats. Ziegenbalg is vice president of he Board of Aldermen.

tOliver laer was freed on $2,500 bond.

Ckt. Atty. Edward L. Dowd said the indictment naming Oliver accused him of seeking $250 to arrange passage of an ordinance permitting installation of a power line to river front propery owned by the Steamer Service Co., which operates the excursion boat Admiral.

Details of the other indictment were suppressed pending the arrest.

The bill died in committee when the Board of Aldermen ended a session in April.

Dr. Holdren Is Installed By Optimists

Dr. K. L. Holdren was installed as president of the Optimist Club at the noon meeting of that organization Tuesday at Bothwell Hotel, with Charles W. Hanna, past president, as installing officer.

Other officers installed were Charles Hurtt, first vice-president; Dr. K. C. Snyder, second vice-president, and Dr. J. W. Bryden, secretary-treasurer.

Harold Barrick, retiring president, told the group that it was only through the cooperation of all that an organization could be successful and reach its goals. He went on to say that he felt that the Sedalia club the past year had done its share of boys work, which is its main purpose.

Dr. Holdren, in accepting his office, told the club members that every member of the club should ask himself "Am I being an Optimist?" He said at the recent Optimist International convention he attended in Houston, Tex., one really felt that these men had Optimism in their souls.

Dr. Holdren then announced his committee chairmen: Program, Dr. Ben Klein; membership, Dr. Donald K. Kirby; boys work, Dr. Chester Kirkpatrick, chairman, John Straka and Fred Arbogast; publicity, Claude L. Boul and Frank Mehl; attendance, Dr. Russell K. Drenon; club bulletin, the Rev. J. W. Watts and Harry Wimer; new clubs, Charles Hanna and Dr. H. O. Wilbur; magazine, Larry Wanserski; finance, Maurice Hogan, Charles Hurtt and Bob Jones; life membership, Dr. K. L. Holdren.

Directors are Harold Barrick, Tom Hurley, Larry Wanserski and Fred Arbogast, Lee Deason, Dr. D. K. Kirby and Dr. J. W. Bryden.

The meeting was opened by Harold Barrick, with group singing led by Charles Hanna, and Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Invocation was by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman.

Police Push Their Search For Killer

DELTA, Mo. (AP) — Police, with only a description of a speeding car to help, continued their intensive search today for the killer of Miss Bonnie Loretta Huffman, 20-year-old rural school teacher.

The decomposed condition of her body, found Monday night in a culvert prevented determining during an autopsy whether she had been raped, but Sgt. P. R. Little of the Missouri Highway Patrol said the general belief was that it was a sex case.

She couldn't have been expected to be carrying much money, he added.

The body was found a little more than two days after she was reported missing. Her car, with the lights burning, was found in the middle of a country road a few miles from the body.

The 450 residents here were highly excited over the slaying of the attractive 5-foot-10inch girl. She had been popular here.

Her neck was broken and her jaw dislocated. Sergeant Little said a blow could have caused that or she might have been thrown from a car.

"I think she was forcibly taken out of her car and put into another car and then transported about two miles."

Three Delta residents have told of seeing a rapidly moving car on the road Friday night near the point where Miss Huffman's abandoned car later was found by her brother.

The driver sounded his horn several times, as if trying to halt another car, shortly after passing the witnesses. The car later was seen speeding through Delta.

Lions Club Meets. Herrick Speaks

The Sedalia Lions Club held its meeting in the Bothwell Hotel Wednesday noon, with Dr. D. H. Robinson, newly installed president, presiding.

Richard Truman was the program chairman for the day's meeting.

Lion Virgil Herrick presented the program which consisted of an outline of the club's activities and committee reports and spoke of an ice cream social which the Lions will sponsor at the Mike O'Connor Chevrolet - Buick used car lot between Osage and Kentucky on Fourth Street.

It was announced by Robinson that a Lions board meeting will be held tonight at the Bothwell Hotel.

William J. Jernick

New Jersey Man Is Named Elks Leader

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—William J. Jernick of Nutley, N. J., 53-year-old corporation executive, was elected Grand Exalted Ruler of hte Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at its 90th Grand Lodge convention here on Monday.

Jernick, elected unanimously without opposition, will be installed at the closing session of the convention Thursday morning, succeeding Earl E. James of Oklahoma City.

Born in Newark, N. J., Jernick is the second resident of that state and the 79th man to head the Order of Elks since its founding 86 years ago. The late Joseph G. Buch, Trenton, N. J., served as Grand Exalted Ruler in 1940-41. Jernick, production manager of the primary battery division of Thomas A Edison, Inc., was the first man elected to two terms as mayor of Nutley, after having been drafted as a candidate both times. He has been active in the affairs of the Nutley Symphony Society and numerous other civic organizations.

The new ruler of America's Elks for many years headed the youth program and crippled children's activities of the New Jersey State Elks Association. He has been prominent in national affairs of the order since 1940, having served as grand treasurer from 1950 to 1952 and a member of the board of Grand Trustees from 1952 to the present.

Retiring Grand Exalted Ruler James informed delegates at the opening business session Monday morning that the order's membership showed a gain for the 15th consecutive year. The year's gain of 25,800 carried Elks membership to the record high of 1,122,803 as of March 31, James reported. Thirty-five new lodges organized during the year brought the total to 1,685.

Convention officials predicted an attendance of 50,000 would make it the largest convention in the order's history.

Weather Promises Small Hope of Relief

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The weatherman holds out the promise of a little cooler weather ahead for Missouri.

He sees a little cooler in the north and central tonight and in the southeast Thursday, but even at that it won't be anything like a complete relief for tomorrow's highs are expected to range from 90 in the northeast to 100 in the extreme southwest.

Maryville got a breather from the heat last night after the mercury had jumped to 102, breaking a 54-year record of 98 for the date. About 10 P. M. a cool front came through, with .03 of an inch of rain, that dropped the mercury to 70. However, the temperature was up to 78 at 7 a. m.

Carrollton had a high of 107 yesterday and Brookfield a high of 106, with a low during the night of 80.

Other hot spots in the state were St. Joseph and Butler with 104, Kansas City 103, Joplin 102, and Columbia, St. Louis and Malden 100.

Highway Dept. Gives Second Year Report

The State Highway Commission has taken over for maintenance as temporary state roads 3,312.2 miles of existing local roads during the first two fiscal years of the 10-year highway modernization and expansion program. The second year ended June 30, with 1,797.7 miles having been taken over during the year, to add to the 1,514.5 miles taken during the initial year.

The taking over of local roads for maintenance as temporary state roads is one phase of the 10-year program. Therefore, when and if right of ways needed to permit development of the roads to supplementary standards are made available without cost to the state they are given permanent status. If right of ways are not forthcoming within a reasonable time the roads are turned back to the individual counties.

During the two-year period just ended 1,005.5 miles of the 3,312.2 miles taken over for maintenance have been given permanent status in the state highway system after right of ways were forthcoming. Another 41.5 miles have been returned to counties when it became evident that right of ways would not be available for them.

Tentative plans of the Commission are to take another 1,800 miles of existing local roads for maintenance during the third year of the program, July 1, 1954, through June 30, 1955. It is expected that a large part of this mileage will be placed under maintenance between July 1 and October 1. The taking over of these roads by the state relieves the counties of cost of their upkeep.

The supplementary phase of the 10-year program calls for adding some 12,000 miles to the state's supplementary system of highways, as it existed at the beginning of the program period. The goal is to bring about 95 per cent of the rural units (a rural unit is farm home, school, church cemetery or store) within at least two miles travel distance of a state-maintained road.

To attain this goal, plans are to take over for maintenance, then develop later, some 8,500 miles of existing local roads, and to add some 3,500 miles by new construction. It is the plan to complete the takeover phase during the first six years of the program period, with all takeover roads then to be advanced to supplementary standards by the end of the period.

The Commission had fixed a goal of 1500 miles taken over during the fisst year and 1,800 miles during the second year, both of which were reached.

Mileages of roads taken for temporary maintenance during the first two years of the program, by districts, have been:

District 1, St. Joseph, 319.8 miles; District 2, Macon, 286.2 miles; District 3, Hannibal, 340.9 miles; District 4, Kansas City, 393.3 miles; District 5, Jefferson City, 374.2 miles; District 6, Kirkwood, 292.6 miles; District 7, Joplin, 351 miles; District 8, Springfield, 296.3 miles; District 9, Willow Springe, 358.1 miles; District 10, Sikeston, 303 miles.

Oil States

Texas produces more crude oil than any other state in the Union. With California and Oklahoma, it produces almost six times as much as all the other states combined.

Lexington Man Dies In Car-Truck Wreck Near Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., (AP)—One man was fatally injured and another critically injured in the collision of a car and a tractor-trailer last night on U. S. 24.

The dead man was identified as William Herschel Williams, 24, of Lexington, Mo.

James Edwin Hill, 26, also of Lexington, suffered a fracture of the right leg, a compound fractureof the left leg, chest injuries and lacerations.

Both men were taken to the Independence Sanitarium. Williams died about two hours after arriving at the sanitarium.

The driver of the tractor-trailer, Robert Gregory Evans, 25, of Griggsville, Ill., escaped unhurt. He said he saw a motor car approaching on the wrong side of the road while passing a line of four cars and that he attempted to swerve out of the car's path to avoid the collision.

Hospital Sheets Feel Good After Creek Mud

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Those soft, white hospital sheets felt mighty good to Levi Black, 39, today.

The 200-pound, 6-foot Black was resting up after being stuck for perhaps 24 hours in the gooey mud of Beargrass Creek.

He said he fell into the creek from a railroad trestle.

He thought he fell Saturday, he said at first. Then he wasn't sure. Hospital attendants said they thought it must have been Monday.

In any event, it was a "long time" before some children found him yesterday, Black said.

Robbed in Daylight

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ben Cohn, 54-year-old insurance collector, lost $155 and some of his faith in the fellowship of man here yesterday.

Cohn said he was robbed by two hoodlums who attacked him on a sidewalk at 2:30 p.m. while passers-by ignored the whole thing.

"I could see people across the street," he said. "They saw me struggling. I can't get over it. If they only had called the police."

The insurance collector couldn't call police. One of his attackers had his throat caught in an elbow vise. Cohn said he lost $125 of company money and $30 of his own money.

Judge Orders Fire Escape for Apartment

BOSTON (AP) — An apartment house owner protested in court yesterday that building a fire escape would "just make it that much easier for crooks" and suggested a tree outside the building as a substitute.

The judge did not accept the substitute and found the defendant, Nishan S. Bagdigian, guilty of failing to provide a suitable fire exit. The judge ordered him to provide one within a week.

Police Chief Arrested On Traffic Charge

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) —As soon as Police Chief George W. Scholer reported back to work yesterday, after sick leave, he was arrested. The charge was failure to yield right of way during a two-car collision here June 14.

The chief had been recovering at his home from five fractured ribs received in the accident. He was released on $25 bond and ordered to appear next Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Policeman Gerald H. Malone, 29, the driver of the other car, received a fractured skull. The car crashed as both men were returning home from their day's police duties.

Search Lake Ontario For Burning Vessel

TORONTO (AP)—A police cutter and a number of small craft searched a wide area of Lake Ontario today for a vessel believed afire, but police said at dawn no trace of the craft had been reported.

A resident of Pickering, about 20 miles east of here, telephoned the town police shortly after midnight to report seeing something burning on the lake. Several other persons said they saw distress flares.

The Pickering police asked Toronto harbor police for assistance and a cutter was rushed to the area.

Fox "Bat"

The flying fox really is a huge bat, with the peculiar habit of sleeping while hanging head downward from the branches of trees. It destroys large quantities of fruit every year.

Beirut Traffic Heavy

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Beirut may lose its reputation as the "garage of the Arab world" if a bill to curtail automobile imports passes the Lebanese parliament. The bill aims at saving foreign exchange for Lebanon, which spent 4 million dollars on imports of automobiles, spare parts, and gasoline last year. This represents 11 per cent of Lebanon's expenditure on imports.

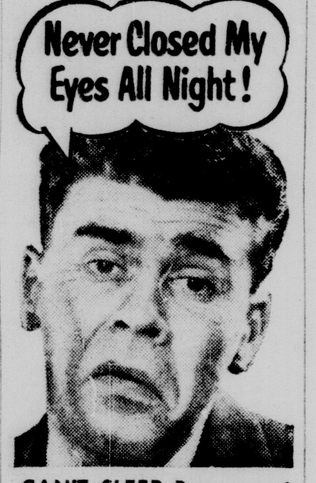

Beiruts narrow streets designed for slower traffic of another age, are jammed with shiny new automobiles. Beirut's taxi drivers boast that theirs is the most modern fleet of cabs in the world.

Woman Dies at 104

IVA, S.C. (AP)—"Aunt Anna" Hatten, 104, who was Anderson County's oldest citizen, was buried here today.

Nearly 400 living great-grandchildren and grandchildren attended the funeral.

Chou's Sweet Talk Charms Nehru

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Here is the inside story behind Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai's secret talks with Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Burmese Prime Minister U. Nu.

Technically, Chou En Lai was invited to both countries. But actually the Chinese Communists slipped around in advance, hinted that Chou would like to pay a visit, and fished for the invitation. It was then given.

The chief object of Chou's visit was a non-aggression pact with India and Burma before we can get them signed up in a Southeast Asia defense pact.

The American embassy reports that Nehru was simply charmed by the Chinese premier's sweet talk about peace.

Note—One of the most tragic mistakes of the Eisenhower administration in the Far East was the removal of Chester Bowles as ambassador to India on the eve of some of the most important discussions we have ever had with that country. Bowles, an intimate friend of Nehru's was by all odds the most popular ambassador the U.S. has ever sent to India. George Allen, who replaces him, was doing an A-1 job in Yugoslavia. But it takes entirely different tactics to deal with Tito, the dictator, than with Nehru, the philosopher and mystic.

Senator Thye Acts

Some senators don't like to tangle with big business in their home states, but Senator Thye of Minnesota has been pressuring the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the big flour and soap companies, including one of his own supporters, General Mills of Minneapolis.

Some of the big flour and soap companies have been promoting each other's products by cross-couponing. In other words, a box of soap will contain a coupon good for a 10-cent reduction on a bag of flour. As a result, small soap and four producers complain that they were being squeezed out of business by this cross-couponing between the big companies.

As chairman of the senate small business committee, Thye was all set to demand an FTC investigation when his staff pointed out that General Mills is one of the worst offenders. But even though General Mills has been one of his big backers, Senator Thye refused to pull his punches and wrote to the trade commission demanding the investigation.

Molotov To Malenkov

Here is the latest story going the rounds of Capitol cloakrooms.

Foreign Minister Molotov asked Premier Malenkov:

"What do you think of this fellow McCarthy?"

"I don't think much of his aims," replied Malenkov, "But I sure like his methods."

Russian Bear Growls

U.S. Ambassador Bohlen in Moscow has warned the Penatagon that the Russian high command may order destroyers to escort all Soviet tankers and merchantmen in Far East waters.

The Russians are furious because Chinese Nationalist warships intercepted and seized one of their best tankers, and they probably will retaliate by daring the Nationalists to take on the Russian destroyers which will accompany them from now on.

The Russians know that the United States had a naval seaplane circling over the Russian tanker most of the time before it was seized. The plane was in direct contact with the Chinese Nationalists and tipped them off where to pick up the tanker. However, the United States did not have one of its own warships involved.

Heyday for Power Boys

The Federal Power Commission is now so anxious to please the private power companies that it actually threw out 10 hours of testimony by its former chairman, Leland Olds, when he opposed the Idaho Power Company's plan for damming the Snake River.

Ex-Chairman Olds testified that the government should construct a high dam at Hells Canyon, which in the end would be cheaper for the taxpayers and would mean cheaper power rates for Idaho-Oregon users. After testifying for two half days, however, all he was able to get into the record was his name and address. Everything else was struck out by the presiding examiner, William J. Costello, at the request of the Idaho Power Company. They claimed it was irrelevant.

Costello also threw out the heart of the testimony by Clyde Ellis, manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. Ellis also supported government development of Hells Canyon and opposed the Idaho Power Company.

This is another example of why the Federal Power Commission now has the worst reputation in Washington for selling out to the private interests.

Note—The electric power lobby spends more money in Washington than any other to influence Congress—a total of about half a million dollars a year.

Inside the White House

Assistant President Sherman Adams sent a scorching message to Assistant Secretary of Defense John Hannah, raking him over the coals for prematurely announcing the new reserve military program.

What Hannah let out of the bag is, in effect, a new universal military training, though it's called by another name.

UMT is politicaly unpopular, so Adams castigated the conscientious assistant secretary of defense for letting out the announcement before the elections. Nothing was supposed to be said until after November.

Not News

On the first day of Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes' visit to Washington, it was noticed that some of the Turk reporters accompanying him were not following him around and weren't filing any stories on his activities. When asked about it, one of them replied:

"That would be silly. His visit here is an official holiday back in Turkey and they aren't publishing any papers. Even if he were to die we couldn't get the story printed.

Globe Circler

Eisenhower Spoke Wisely On the Problem of Japan

By Bruce Biossat

It was no accident that President Eisenhower singled out Japan's economic plight in a recent off-the-cuff speech. The Japanese are getting close to the ragged edge.

The President put the matter bluntly when he said Japan will fall to the Communists if the United States denith that countr yaid and opportunities for trade. In that eventuality, he emphasized, the Pacific Ocean would become a "Communist lake."

As everyone knows, before World War II Japan had a vast trading empire in China, Southeast Asia, and other ares of the world. The Japs drew in rw materials and sent out finished manufactures.

Today China, under Communist heel, is largely closed to Japanese traders. Barriers of resentment, raised by Jap depredations in wartime, remain high in Southeast Asia, though there is some hope for better relations there. As for America, tariff walls and changing tastes and habits have robbed Japan of many old outlets for goods.

The bitter day of reckoning was put off first by direct American financial aid and then by the indirect benefits flowing from our use of is still some hangover from this effort, but the advantage is dwindling fast.

Some might say: "Well, Japan lost the war. Why shouldn't it suffer?" But such an attitude Japan as a staging base in the Korean war. There would reflect only the greatest shortsightedness on our part. Japan seems to have made a genuine conversion to democracy and the ways of freedom. It still has the greatest industrial potential in the Orient, and as such is a crucial prize. For us and all the West, it is a bulwark against communism.

These are the considerations which must rule when we decide what to do about Japan.

At the very least, we must strive to work out arrangements for the security of Southeast Asia, both for the safety of the immediate countries involved and for the sake of preserving as free an area which can perhaps be drawn gradually into a healthy economic reltionship with Japan.

But obviously it is the view of the President and others of his official family that we must go beyond this and make tariff concessions which will allow Japan to do more business in America. Like Britain, Japan must trade or die. We cannot expect it to remain our good and true friend for long if we deny to it the means of life.

It would be pleasant if Japan were already on its feet. But it is not. As in so much of our affairs today, we have only a choice among prospects of varying degrees of unpleasantness. We can all readily understand why the President thinks in this case that by all odds the most unpleasant would be to have Japan go Communist.

Many Death Dealing Brain Tumors Yield to Surgery

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

About one person out of 100 dies as a result of a brain tumor. As soon as this danger became fully realized, the resources of medical science were thrown into the battle. As a result, today many brain tumors can be discovered early and can be successfully removed by the highly skilled surgical methods which have been developed.

Tumors of the brain may lie almost anywhere inside the sull. The symptoms, therefore, depend on where the tumor is located, and its size.

In some cases, it may produce difficulties in swallowing. In other cases, the symptoms may involve the hearing, the eyesight, or muscular coordination in one part of the body or another. Headache is a fairly common symptom of brain tumor and so is persistent vomiting. Of course a person can have any of these symptoms from some other cause.

* * *

If a brain tumor is suspected, the nervous system must be carefully examined to find out exactly where the tumor is before an operation is even thought about. Such tests include examining the muscular strength, the vision and hearing, and the nerve reactions.

Fluid must be removed from the spinal canal or the openings in the brain and examined. Other fluids may be injected into the canal which will show up in X-rays and thus help in locating the tumor.

Air can be injected into the spaces in the brain this sounds rather fearsome but is not—and this too helps to locate the area of the tumor. In some cases, measuring the electrical waves which pass through the brain is also of great value.

* * *

There are several kinds of tumors as well as many locations. Some are very slow growing and "benign"; others are rapidly growing and "malignant." In spite of all these difficulties, however, a great many tumors can be found and successfully removed surgically.

Needless to say this success, even though it is not yet perfect, represents a tremendous triumph for the nerve specialist and the surgeon dealing with that field.

Today, most of the large cities boast of brain and nerve surgeons who are extremely expert and whose ingenuity and skill cannot be surpassed anywhere on earth.

V.P.'s Galore at Pentagon

WASHINGTON—The Penatagon will have the equivalent of 30 civilian vice presidents if new proposals by Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson are approved by Congress. Mr. Wilson wants Army, Navy and Air Force to have two more assistant secretaries apiece—for a total of six more "v.p.'s"

Each service now has a secretary, an undersecretary and two assistant secretaries—a total of 12.

The Department of Defense now has an undersecretary and 11 assistant secretaries.

Every one of these civilian vice presidents, of course, has his deputies and assistants, plus equivalent military men in uniform to tell them what it's all about. The result is that there is now proportionately more top bureaucracy around the Pentagon than there ever was.

This explains in part why sessions like Secretary Wilson's big conference and clambake at Quantico over a recent weekend seem like a good thing. They help everybody get acquainted with everybody else on a first-name basis. The official attendance was around 150. Call 'em vice presidents and you won't be far wrong.

The World Today—

Mac Shies From CIA Probe

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy, with time for meditation on his 18-day vacation, seems to have decided to back away from the Central Intelligence Agency, the American superspy agency.

He knows, if he didn't, he'd have to knock heads with President Eisenhower, a contest in which he might not win and for which he may not feel himself ready yet.

Besides, coming on the eve of the congressional elections in November, a fight between McCarthy and the White House could hardly do the Republicans any good.

If the Wisconsin senator had tried to hold public hearings on the CIA, which he has charged was infiltrated with Communists, the President is almost certain to have refused to let any CIA employes testify.

A public exploration into CIA would be more than the Russians had any right to hope for. CIA's operations are so secret the money it gets is concealed, even from all but a handful of the members of Congress who have to vote for it.

McCarthy, never a man to use up all his energy on one fight at a time, said during the hearings on his dispute with Army officials that Communists had crawled into the CIA. It wasn't the first time he mentioned something like that.

In fact, he said his staff had been investigating CIA since last October. CIA Director Allen Dulles called McCarthy's charges false and said he had asked McCarthy last October for any information he had on CIA but never got an answer.

On July 4, Independence Day, former President Hoover announced he had named retired Gen. Mark Clark to head a "task force" to study CIA's structure and administration.

Hoover heads a commission which Eisenhower appointed months ago to study government operations in general. Its primary job is to suggest ways to improve efficiency and cut costs. Because of the way the commission does its work — with few public hearings— Clark's job would be carried out quietly.

It is possible the administration thought it could head off McCarthy by having Hoover's commission examine CIA, if not for Communists at least for efficiency. Clark, asked about this, said he saw "no connection."

Shortly after McCarthy returned to the capital yesterday he talked on TV and to reporters about the CIA. It was a very careful piece of talking.

He said he would turn over to the Hoover Commission the information on which he based his charge of Communist infiltration of CIA. This might seem to indicate he was going to let the Hoover Commission handle the CIA by itself.

But — McCarthy didn't say so flatly. This gives him room for maneuver in case he wants to maneuver.

The CIA is so secret it's impossible to guess all it's up to. But it's probably trying to cause all the trouble it can for the Communists overseas. The public may never know whether it had a hand in the riots of the East Germans against the Communist masters last summer or in the recent revolt of Guatemalans against their Red-tinged government.

It may be a safe bet that CIA agents around the world were mixed up in the past year's desertions to the West of Russian agents.

The CIA is the American government's cloak-and-dagger operation, set up by Congress in 1947 when it had become clear at last this country's real relationship with Russia would be at best a cold war lasting perhaps for generations.

The idea that there might be some Communist infiltration of CIA is not new. As long ago as the fall of 1952 retired Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, now under secretary of state but then CIA director, said he felt "morally certain" Communists had "infiltrated practically every security agency of the government," including CIA.

He said he didn't know of any in the CIA, had tried to find any who might have got in, but just thought that since they were "clever" you'd have to assume some got in.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

THE TV SHOW that the little boy had been watching was a thriller and he was telling his dad about it. He was telling it very dramatically too, and finally got to the most exciting part—"And they fighted under water", he said.

Father, feeling that the correction of his small boy's English was more important than listening to the story stopped him long enough to tell him that he should say fought instead of fighted.

"Yes", said the little boy's sister just a little older, "You should say fought—it rhymes."

By this time the little boy was becoming disturbed no end, his little chest began to swell out and he was getting madder by the minute. Everybody interfering with this story he was telling just didn't suit. He wanted to tell his story the way he wanted to tell it and with fire in his eye he told his family off: "Well, you say it your way, and I'll say it mine." And so, no matter what anybody else thought about it, to him they still fighted under water.—H.L.

VI

I DIDN'T go to college the fall after I left high school. I graduated all right. It is sort of hard for me to believe myself, but it helped a lot when I pitched the yearly classical game against Grover Cleveland High, named after G. C. Alexander, a great pitcher. Also it was nip and tuck whether I'd get through geometry, except that Mr. Pennypacker, my math teacher, was faculty adviser to the football squad and it was an acknowledged fact that I sparked the team.

My parents couldn't see why I didn't accept about the worst athletic scholarship ever offered a football player. To go to a Class C college with a Class D team that never got its pictures into any but the local papers would have been bad enough, but when this outfit insisted that I would really have to do some work for the scholarship, it was too much. Besides, and pardon the expression, this jerk-water institution didn't even have a wrestling team.

There was still another reason that I didn't go to college that year, if I needed any more reasons I had begun to date a very nice girl.

This also caused arguments between Milo and myself. Like a true iconoclast, he had a poor opinion of women. "I teach rassle, but no with womens," was the way he put it, but after all, there are some things in life that can't be solved by a toe hold.

Betty Jane Blane was the first girl I had ever met who didn't object to dating the best pitcher Harrison High ever produced, and pretty good at football, to put it mildly, just because I like to wrestle.

When I wasn't wrestling with Milo on the mat at the Y, it seemed like I was wrestling with Betty Jane on her folks' sofa, and she knew the defense of every hold that was ever invented.

What broke up our affair for a time was the way she talked about him. "When I see you on the street, walking with that Milo, I get the creeps," she said once. I answered that in spite of his egg-shaped head and the way it was shiny-shaved all the time, he was tenderhearted as a woman, which was true.

"He's not a man, he's a monstrosity," she said, which was no way to talk about the man whom I honestly believe to be the best wrestler and the strongest man in the world.

Along in October, when it was too late for college anyway, I found out that she was also dating a tennis player from Grover Cleveland high.

* * *

AFTER I broke with Betty Jane Blane, I continued to wrestle with Milo at the Y, and without her on my mind I progressed rapidly. Not only did I learn all kinds of offensive holds, some of which were very offensive, but I practiced bridging until I could do it almost as well as Milo, which is the reason for the slight bald spot I now have. Using your head for a pivot while you run around it wears off a lot of hair.

My parents continued to be difficult. Ma griped about what I ate and about my haircut. She never got over telling about the curls I had when I was little, which I ask you, were they my fault? Now, to add injury to insult, she started in on how handsome I'd been before I took up wrestling.

She really hit the roof when Milo broke my nose. It happened unexpectedly. He was demonstrating how to get behind your man by pulling his wrist hard, like for an old-fashioned flying mare, but then you duck to one side or the other so that your opponent goes in front, when he is your meat, so to speak. In simpie, technical language, that was just what happened, except that when Milo pulled me in front of him, his elbow broke my nose.

There was a crack that resounded all over the gym, but in my head especially. Milo asked, "Fed, me hurt?"

It was no use for me to deny it. There was my nose lying over on its side.

Milo took one look at what he had done and threw himself on the mat and began to cry. For anybody but Milo it would have looked sissified.

In spite of the way my nose hurt, I said, "It was an accident, you didn't mean it," but he just shook his head and cried louder than ever, until I was afraid Mr Dunkelberger might come down to see what was going on.

"No, Fed, is my fault. Milo sorry," he bawled. "No want hurt Fed."

* * *

BEFORE I got Milo to stop crying I had to pat him on the back and tell him it didn't hurt. He sat up, a hopeful expression on that broad, flat face of his. "Fed, I think maybe is good. Fed no look like rassler. Nose like Greek god. Ears no got bumps. Fed, for rassle is better now. Look like tough fall' No fix'um."

I was ready to promise until I saw myself in that mirror, when I told Milo I was going straight to Doc Peabody, who used to play volleyball with us fellows sometimes. "I'm sorry, Milo," I said, as gently as I could, "but if I had to follow my nose around the way it looks now, all I would be doing is walking in circles."

When I arrived home, Ma took one look at all the cotton and adhesive tape that Doc had plastered on my face and let out a cry. "Freddie, you're hurt?" Honest, it was 10 times as embarrassing having Ma begin to cry all over me as it was when Milo did.

Rev. Lewis Dunlap Ordained, Installed In Green Ridge

The Rev. Lewis H. Dunlap, Green Ridge, was ordained and installed as pastor of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church in a service at three o'clock June 27 at the church.

The ordination and installing service was conducted by the Sedalia Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. The Rev. Robert F. Stenvenson, vice-moderator of Sedalia Presbytery, was the presiding minister.

The following ministers assisted with the ordination and installation service: the Rev. Robert M. Young, the Rev. G. Scott Porter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Rolla, presented the sermon. The Rev. D. Warren Neal, Sedalia, gave the charge to the newly ordained pastor. The Rev. O. Comfort, field representative of National Mission, gave the charge to the congregation.

Several songs were sung, with Mrs. L. B. Beach as pianist.

A reception was held following the ordination ceremony in the basement dining room of the church.

Mrs. Harmon Brings Another Odd Potato Vine for Display

It wasn't just Ernest Kablers' potato vine that has been acting funny this year. Mrs. Walter Harmon, route 4, brought to the Democrat-Capital a potato vine that her husband had grown and it was just like Mr. Kabler's—potatoes all over it. She wanted the city farmer to know that the country farmer could grow potatoes on the vine as well as beneath the soil, just like the city farmer.

There wasn't just one vine that had potatoes all over it, there were lots of them, a whole patch, she said, and the kind of potato was different from Mr. Kabler's Irish Cobblers, too. The potatoes growing in the Harmon patch were Red River Ohios. But Mrs. Harmon admitted that this was the first time she or her husband had ever seen anything like that, and like Mr. Kabler, they had been growing potatoes a long time.

Drug Industry Offers Big Openings for the Graduate

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Wanted: Bright, responsible young men for indoor jobs in pleasant surroundings. Starting salaries $100-$135 weekly. Promotion possibilities unlimited."

A newspaper ad like that would sound like the answer to a college graduate's prayer.

But jobs with these advantages are practically going begging today in the nation's four-billion-dollar-a-year drug industry. It is faced with a growing shortage of trained pharmacists.

"Enrollment in the country's 75 pharmacy colleges has dropped 25 per cent," said Carl Willingham, secretary-treasurer of the National Assn. of Chain Drugstores. "They graduated 5,000 pharmacists five years ago, only 4,000 last year."

This falling enrollment has led the American Assn. of Colleges of Pharmacy to issue 150,000 booklets to high school career advisers citing the opportunities in the corner drugstore.

The United States has some 105,000 registered pharmacists—1 out of 10 is a woman—of whom about 90,000 are employed in the nation's 55,000 drug stores. The rest work in hospitals, government bureaus, research projects or for manufacturing firms.

But a steadily increasing population and growing interest in health have spurred a need for more, not fewer pharmacists. And the demand is for better trained men. It is estimated that more than half the drugs used most often in prescriptions today were unknown before the second world war.

A generation ago druggists worked an average of 60 hours a week. That has been cut to 48 hours in most areas, to 40 in a number of large cities.

"In most states a young man can become a registered pharmacist after four years of college study and a year of internship in a drug store," said Willingham, "and he doesn't have to pound the pavement looking for work.

"The jobs are there waiting. And there are plenty of openings at the top. There is a big need for drugstore managers. A man can work himself up to the $50,000 a year class, or higher, just as he can in any other field.

"Owners of pharmacies make more money on the average than either dentists or lawyers."

He cited the case of George B. Burrus, a soda fountain clerk who studied pharmacy in his spare time, now is president of the Peoples Drugstore Chain, which has 151 stores and does an annual 31 million dollar volume.

Another ex-pharmacist who rose to the top in management, Harry J. Loynd, heads Parke, Davis & Co., which manufactured $109,000,000 worth of pharmaceuticals in 1953.

While industry leaders have the welcome mat out for girl students in pharmacy, they don't expect the ladies to solve the current shortage.

"They work an average of four years—then get married," said Willingham.

Keeping the soda fountains manned is about as much of a problem as keeping the prescription counter staffed. One big reason: The operators resent the old tags "soda jerk" and "soda squirt."

One manufacturer tried to glamorize the job by creating a new title—"fountaineers." But the campaign flopped quickly.

"Another suggestion is to call them 'fizz kids,'" remarked Willingham, and asked hopefully, "Do you think it will catch on?"

As a retired soda jerk myself, I think they need a name with more military romance behind it—maybe something like "marshmallow grenadiers" or "scoop colonels."

Don't Leave Welcome Mat Out for Burglars

Before you and the family take off on that summer vacation make sure to thief-proof your home. Illustrated below are six tips on how to safeguard your home against burglars. They're from crime expert John Mosler, who predicts the public will be burglarized more than 1296 times every 24 hours during July and August.

Cancel all milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home. A cluttered porch is a come on sign to burglars.

Inform postman about your temporary change in address. A stuffed mailbox is an invitation to burglars.

Tell a trustworthy neighbor where you can be reached. Ask him to call police if he notices suspicious activity.

Don't leave gems, cash, or valuables in your home. Take them down to the bank for safe-keeping while you're gone.

Notify police as to how long you'll be away. Neighborhood policemen will watch for any strange goings-on.

Lock all your doors and windows. Don't just slam the door. Lock it with a key so that the bolt provides added security.

Nixon Urges US to Show Right Way

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Vice President Nixon last night urged the free people of the world to not only "expose Communist lies abroad" but also show 600 million uncommitted Asiatics by example that democracy is the superior way of life.

"We must make equality in fact as well as law the shining example for all the world to see," he told a Jackson Freedom Festival audience estimated at 2,800.

Speaking from notes at the week-long festival honoring the centennial of the first Republican party convention, the vice president said the future of the free world is based on the decision of the Asiatic peoples.

"The Communists know and we know that whoever wins these 600 million people will win the world," he said.

"Make no mistake about it," he said, "we are going to win because we have the resources and we have the strength but, most important we're on the right side, the side of freedom, the side of justice and the side of peace against the forces of tyranny and slavery, and the people are for us."

The Eisenhower administration, he said, will continue to oppose United Nations recognition of Red China. And then in a brief reference to Guatemala, he said:

"Every Communist dictator tonight sleeps a bit more uneasily because Guatemala's is the first Communist dictator government overthrown by the people."

Truman Home Soon

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Truman, recovering from a major operation, should be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

A Research Hospital spokesman said Truman showed considerable vigor yesterday and although he still is on a soft-food diet his doctors feel that he can return home shortly.

Truman's gall bladder and appendix were removed June 20.

Giants More Stable Than Dodger Team

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

One series, any major league manager will tell you, does not make a season, so why get so excited about the current set between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers?

But going into tonight's second game of the three-game series, the Giants were 4½ games in front of the Brooks and if they go on to sweep the series, Walter Alston and his team will be up against a mighty tough problem in their quest for a third straight pennant.

Consider the Brooks' plight:

1. The pitching has been wobbly and, worse, only Bob Milliken among the relievers has been effective.

2. Their pinch hitters have been futile. In last night's 5-2 setback by the Giants, they loaded the bases with none out in the ninth only to have George Shuba and Rube Walker, two pinch hitters, go down ignominiously.

2. They can't seem to shake the injury jinx. Pee Wee Reese, Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson among the first-liners have been having miseries.

The Giants, on the other hand, are sitting pretty. They have confidence. They've had fantastic good fortune with pinch hitters. When they're behind, they don't worry. With relief pitchers like Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom, who took over for Sal Maglie against the Brooks last night in the ninth with none out and three men on base and got away unscathed, they have two firemen they can trust.

Al Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin hit home runs last night, accounting for four of the Giants' runs. Starter Preacher Roe was the victim of two and Bob Milliken, one. Maglie weathered a two-run first inning, then settled down until he ran into trouble again in the ninth and required the services of Grissom to pull it out.

Two other National League games produced shutouts. Gerry Staley blanked the Cincinnati Redlegs for the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0, and Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies whitewashed the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0. In the other National League encounter, the Milwaukee Braves bombed the Chicago Cubs 14-3.

The Cleveland Indians held their 3½-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League. The Tribe plastered the Baltimore Orioles 11-3 and the Yanks turned back the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Virgil Trucks, the veteran right-hander of the Chicago White Sox, pitched his second one-hitter of the season as his injury-riddled mates whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-0. Johnny Schmitz of the Washington Senators also was stingy with the base hits, allowing the Philadelphia A's only half a dozen as the Nats hung a 5-2 defeat on Eddie Joost's men.

Staley was tapped for nine hits by the Redlegs, but kept them well-scattered. The Cards made only seven, but they were aided by three Cincinnati errors.

The in-and-out Braves scored 11 runs in the first three innings in handing the Cubs their fourth straight licking.

The Indians scored all 11 of their runs against the Orioles in the first inning to make Early Wynn's task easy.

Will Hold Sand Greens Tourney In Centralia

One of the state's oldest sand greens golf tournaments — the seventh annual Central Missouri meet — will be played at Centralia July 17 and 18.

Some 100 entrants are expected to compete at the sponsoring Centralia Country Club for the A. B. Chance Co., championship trophy and ten other handsome awards to flight winners and runners-up and the tourney medalist.

The list of former champions includes two-time winners Jim McKinney, the current defender of Columbia, Jack Jones, Carrollton, Dave Collins, Macon, and Lowry Henley, former M. U. star when he was in Columbia.

These men, with the exception of Henley, are among the expected entries plus a number of outstanding golfers from Columbia, Boonville, Jefferson City, Carrollton, Camdenton, Mexico, Shelbina, Moberly, Hannibal, Louisiana, Centralia, and other cities.

The entrants will be divided into five flights, according to their 9-hole qualifying scores, so all golfers will have an opportunity against others of similar ability.

The 9-hole qualifying round may be played Saturday afternoon, July 17, or Sunday morning, July 18. An 18-hole round Sunday afternoon added to the qualifying 9-hole score will determine the winners in each flight—Championship, A, B, C, and D. The medalist trophy will go to the low scorer on the first 18 holes.

Phillips 66, Brown's Auto Supply Meet In Playoff Game

Walter Jessee, Babe Ruth League commissioner, has selected July 9 as the date for the playoff between Phillips 66 and Brown's Supply Co. The playoff is necessary as the first half of the season ended in a tie between the two teams.

The original league game between Phillips and Brown's will be re-scheduled.

At 6:30 Tuesday, Taystee Bread will play Western Auto.

Babe Ruth officials announce the resignation of Bill Adams as scorekeeper and publicity director.

Marshall MFA Tops SAFB Supply Squadron

Marshall MFA softball team defeated the Sedalia Air Force Base Supply Squadron, 8-2, in a game played at Center Park Tuesday night.

Gene Barr, Marshall's right-handed hurler, was credited with the win for the visiting team.

Little League—

Newsboys Win, Adco Bows To Optimists

Tuesday night at the Little League Stadium the "never-lose" Optimists won a close encounter from Adco, 7-6, and the Democrat-Capital played one of its best games of the season as the team downed the Lions in a very close contest, 2-1.

In the first game, Adco took an early lead, 3-2, but the Optimists came back in the second to tie the score. Adco came to bat in the top of the fourth and scored again, but in the same inning the Optimists scored three runs to take the lead, which they held the remainder of the game.

Charles Case was the leading slugger in the contest, blasting two doubles. His second double broke the ice as Adco had tied the score, 6-6. Dow of Adco had the only other extra base hit, a double in the sixth.

The second game proved to be a real thriller as the Newsboys broke the "roaring" Lions' winning streak by holding the team to one run. The Democrat-Capital team was superior in the field and managed to make its two runs stick to take the win.

Steve Schultz was the leading hitter of the game as he hit safely three times and missed having a perfect night on a difficult play to the shortstop which the scorers ruled an error. The Newsboys' runs came in the top of the fifth on Schultz's double which scored Mulberry from second. The other run was scored by Schultz as Jones and Yonce became base runners.

Winters went all the way for the Dem-Cap, while Edwards pitched the entire contest for the Lions to receive the loss.

Moberly Wins First-Half BJ Pennant

Tuesday night in Boonville, before a huge crowd, the Moberly Miners beat the Boonville Lions in a play-off for the first-half pennant in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League. The score in the contest, 4-2, reflects the type of rugged contest it was. The win qualifies Moberly as the host city for the annual all-star game to be played on Friday, July 9.

Immediately after the game, the list of players who had been selected by a poll of the seven league managers was released and, although they only tied for third place in the final first-half standing, the Sedalia Chiefs placed six of their players on this squad.

Players on the first time are: first base, Jack White, Sedalia; second base, Richard Bennett, Sedalia; third base, Wayne Descombes, Mexico; shortstop, Bobby Case, Sedalia; outfielders, Clark Wing, Boonville, Harold Gilliam, Boonville, and Bill Gordon, Brookfield; catcher, Larry Mines, Sedalia; and pitcher, Jerry Cleveland, Brookfield.

Other members of the team are: Glen Vanderlicht, Bill Cleary, Bob Gabler, Floyd Roberts, Bob Hall, Bill Smith, Jim Fall, Jim Kemmer, Bob Gooch, Tom McNamara, Skip Schultz and Bill Moore.

The all-star team will be managed by Roscoe Bedell, Marshall, who will have as his coaches Bob Strub, Brookfield, and Red Hayden, Sedalia.

DeMolays Whip Engineers, T&O Defeats MPS

In Industrial League play Tuesday night, the DeMolays, behind the fine pitching of Tommy Sanders, beat National Engineers, 13-0, and the T&O beat Missouri Public Service, 14-6, in games played at Housel Park.

The first game of the evening saw Tommy Sanders have a perfect night as he pitched the first no-run, no-hit game of the season.

Sanders was supported by Rodick and Morgan, each with a homer. Sanders had ten strikeout victims.

Although Schutlz and Waterfield hit home runs for Missouri Public Service, T&C made the most of the runs they did score and were victorious in the end, 14-6.

Schultz went all the way to take the loss for Missouri Public Service while Janney found it easy going most of the game with the exception of two homers he gave up.

US Still Has Six in British Golf Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The shooting that counts starts in the British Open Golf Championship today as 97 qualifiers, six of them Americans, go out in 72-hole championship play over the 6,837-yard par-73 Birkdale course.

They made the grade with qualifying totals of 151 and better as 320 golfers participated in the two preliminary rounds.

Australia's Norman Van Nida set the pace yesterday in the tourney that saw three of the nine-man American delegation eliminated. Von Nida shot a 70-67—137 for the low score in the qualifying round.

The Americans stayed close to the little Australian. Veteran Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo were tied for second place in the 36-hold qualifying round.

The 52-year-old Sarazen, winner of the International Senior Pro Championship last week, shot a 67-64—141. Stranahan also had a 67-64—141.

Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y., and Tony Penna of Cincinnati finished with 151 qualifying scores. The other American qualifiers were Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., with 148 and Al Watrous of Detroit with 150.

They play 18-hole rounds today and tomorrow, with the 50 best golfers going into the 36-hole final Friday. First-prize money is 750 pounds ($2,100).

Olson Has Non-Title Bout With Gonzales

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) —Carl (Bobo) Olson, kingpin of the middleweights, stakes prestige but not his crown tonight in a scheduled 10-round fight with willing Pedro Gonzales at the Oakland Auditorium.

This will be Olson's tuneup bout before he defends his title in a 15-rounder with Rocky Castellani at the San Francisco Cow Palace Aug. 20.

While Olson is a lopsided favorite he isn't taking his Rankin, Pa., opponent lightly.

"You can't afford to let up on any of them," is the champ's observation.

In 22 battles, Gonzales has lost four, one on a TKO, but he has never been counted out.

The nontitle go will not be televised.

Giardello Risks Title In Bout With Kilgore

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello risks his almost-certain middleweight title shot in a 10-round scrap at the arena here tonight with "upsetter" Billy Kilgore of Miami, Fla.

CBS will televise the fight starting at 9 p.m., EST.

Giardello, third-ranking 160-pound contender, tentatively has been promised a full crack at champion Carl (Bobo) Olson if the latter successfully defends his crown in his coming bout with Rocky Castellani. The Olson-Giardello bout would be Oct. 22.

Post 16 Wins From Buffalo, 13-8, Tuesday

Post 16 evened things up with the Buffalo Legion team last night at Liberty Park by knocking out a 13-8 victory. Buffalo won the first game earlier in the season in the last part of the ninth inning.

Bobby Case circled the bases in the seventh with an inside-the-park home run. Matney Lane and Larry Mines hit doubles and Bobby Abney doubled twice.

Merlyn McCown went all the way for Sedalia, striking out 11 Buffalo batters and allowing 11 hits. Sedalia tok the offering of four Buffalo pitchers to 13 hits.

Tonight the Post 16 team will journey to Lebanon. Players will leave from Smith-Cotton High School at 4:30 p.m.

Town & Country Loses to Fulton, 10-9, Wednesday

Th Town & Country girls softball team met defeat at the hands of Fulton, 10-9, in a game played at Fulton.

Mary Gardener connected for two hits in four times at bat for the local Town and Country team.

For Fulton, Raines and West each hit a homer which partly accounted for the Fulton win.

Erlene Walz, Town & Country's hurler, was credited for the loss. West was the winning pitcher.

Town & Country will meet the La Monte girls team tonight at Center Park with the game scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Frank Irvin, Former Sedalian, Compiles New Racing Records

GOSHEN, N. Y., (AP) — It is going to be a long time before Frank Ervin, veteran driverout of Missouri, forgets July 6 at this hamlet's historic track.

Ervin put together five winners yesterday on the stake-studded grand circuit program. Included in his victories were triumphs in three stakes. He won the E. H. Harriman Challenge Trophy as K. D. Owen's Childs Hanover of Houston, Tex., hung up a new track record of 2:06 1-5 for 2-year-old trotters.

He also accounted for the Ladyship Stakes for 3-year-old pacing fillies with Phantom Lady from the Walnut Hall Farm of Donerail, Ky. and the Acorn 2-year-old trot with Wilda Hanover, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehle of Scottsville, N. Y. His other two victories were in overnight races.

Cardinals Look Sharp After Win Over Cincinnati

ST. LOUIS (AP — Although shy of victories in recent weeks, the St. Louis Cardinals showed a large helping of spirit last night and it paid off.

With Gerry Staley hurling shutout ball, his teammates put on a fine display of timely hitting and base running for a 6-0 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The visitors picked on Staley for nine hits—two more than St. Louis had—but they couldn't bunch them. It was Gerry's fifth triumph against seven losses.

The St. Louis runs came in the fourth and fifth innings—three each frame.

Red Schoendienst opened the fourth with a double, extending to 25 his string of games in which he has hit safely. A single by Stan Musial scored him.

As Wally Post fumbled Musial's hit, Stan took second and went to third on a single by Ray Jablonski. He tried to score on Rip Repulski's grounder but was cut down at the plate, Jablonski dashing on to third from where he scored when Joe Cunningham grounded out. A bad throw to third in a try for Repulski let the outfielder score with the third tally of that inning.

National League Seeks 5th Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League All-Stars go after their fifth straight victory next week at Cleveland with one of the best all-around crews in the history of the classic.

"I think this is the strongest squad the National League has ever had," said league president Warren Giles today. "I think we'll make it five straight."

Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers, manager of the Nationals and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, pilot of the American All-Stars, announced their pitching selections yesterday and rounded out their rosters with additions to all positions.

The starting berths, except for the pitching assignments, were selected by fans in a nationwide poll.

Alston, the first freshman manager to handle an all-star squad, named four righthanded hurlers and three lefties with a combined 67-36 won-loss record for the July 13 game.

The National League bullpen will be crowded with stars Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gene Conley of Milwaukee, Marvin Grissom of New York, all righties, and Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, Harvey Haddix of St. Louis and Johnny Antonelli of New York, the southpaws. Antonelli has the best record, 12-2.

The nine American League hurlers, including two lefthanders, have posted 80 wins and 38 losses. They are lefties Dean Stone of Washington and Whitey Ford of the Yankees, and righties Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox, Bob Porterfield of Washington, Allie Reynolds of the Yanks and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

Confederate May Have Run 'Miracle Mile' 89 Years Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—Old North Dakota archieves strongly indicate that the fastest mile ever run by a human was recorded 89 years ago this week, long before either John Landy or Roger Bannister was born, and before Wes Santee learned to talk. We are indebted to Eugene Fitzgerald, sports editor of the Fargo (N.D.) Forum, for having made available this long-forgotten page of track history.

"At a celebration at Ft. Rice, Dakota Territory, about 25 miles south of Mandan, on July 4, 1865, the Frontier Scout of July 6 that year had a report on the holiday festivities," Fitzgerald writes.

"Four companies of U.S. volunteers, infantrymen who deserted from the Confederate army, were stationed at Ft. Rice, along with a company of the 6th Iowa Cavalry. Col. C. A. R. Dimon was the commanding officer.

"The first event on the holiday celebration following the review was a mile run, three times around the fort. There were six entries for a prize of $5.

"The event was won by Cpl. W. H. Green of Co. D of the Confederate deserters in the time of 3³⁄₄ minutes, the Frontier Scout reported. Pvt. W. M. Winfrey of Co. C was second in 4 minutes.

"E. G. Adams, the editor of the Frontier Scout, in which the report was made, also was a Confederate deserter.

"Of course, someone is going to say the timing wasn't accurate. But even allowing for the accuracy of the timing, you'll admit that 15 seconds (under 4 minutes) would be a big margin of error for 225 seconds. Even conceding that the timing might have been inaccurate, there wasn't much wrong with the engineering of those days, and 12 inches was a foot.

"(The fort) was rectangular, 510 feet on its north and south sides and 500 on the east and west. Three times around that enclosure would be 6,060 feet, or 780 feet more than the regulation mile which Bannister and Lanly ran under 4 minutes. The best sprinters of our day would require more than 25 seconds to cover the 260 yards which Green and Winfrey ran after completing the mile.

"Possibly the $5 first prize (which automatically made the runners professionals) is the reason the accomplishment has never been given official recognition, because there was no shortage of spectators.

"The Frontier Scout reported that the wives of officers and soldiers and visiting ladies watched the celebration from the parapet of the fort. 'The Indians below, some only in breech cloth, wore grosteque costumes, leaning against the fort. Squaws bore their offspring pig-back. The Indians wore fringes, beads, feathers, buffalo robes and tassels and a conglomeration of everything that

Promises Vote Against Mac If Elected

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Former Rep. Clifford P. Case, Republican nominee for U.S. senator from New Jersey, said today that if elected he will vote against continuing Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) as chairman, or as a member, of the Committee on Government Operations "or for any other committee with similar functions."

In a statement issued at his campaign headquarers here, Case said he was convinced that the effort to "meet and defeat the mance of communism" would be strengthened "when the distracting and divisive effect" of McCarthy's participation is removed.

Case said committee chairmen and members must use sound judgment and restraint. They must be aware, he said, of their responsibility to investigate and expose "dereliction in the executive departments" but must also be aware that "the unwise and unrestrained exercise of their power can do incalculable harm to the effective functioning of our government."

"Sen. McCarthy, in my opinion, has shown that he lacks this awareness to a degree which disqualifies him for such service," Case declared.

Opposing Case for the seat being vacated by Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-NJ) is Rep. Charles R. Howell, the Democratic nominee.

MKT Inaugurates Piggy-Back Service In the Southwest

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad hauled three truck trailers on flat cars from here to Oklahoma City last night in the inauguration of Piggy-back service in the Southwest.

Several trucking companies are cooperating with the railroad in the venture.

The truckers will place their loaded trailers on the flat cars and the railroad will make the long haul. Then the tuckers will deliver their freight at the destination.

Donald V. Fraser of St. Louis, the railroad's president, said the "basic earning power of both agencies of transportation would be strengthened by the move."

Fraser's assistant, M. R. Cring, said, "Before too long we expect to be running trains comprised entirely of flatcars loaded with truck trailers."

Backseat Romance Can Go Too Far, at Times

STRASBURG, Va. (AP) — State Trooper William Berry doesn't frown on back-seat romancers in automobiles, as a general rule. But he sometimes makes an exception.

Like yesterday, for instance. Berry arrested the drivers of two cars on reckless driving charges when he saw a girl on the rear seat of one of the cars embracing a fellow on the back seat of the other. The cars were moving side by side at about 40 m.p.h.

Due for trial justice court hearings July 16 are drivers Allen C. Hill of Norristown, Pa., and Mrs. Cartherine Black of Alexandria, Va.

Berry didn't place any charges against the lovebirds, whom he wouldn't identify.

Earthquake in Nevada

RENO (AP)—The West's most jarring earthquake in two years spent its force on the bleak plains of western Nevada and damage was largely confined to the little community of Fallon and its neighborhood.

Fourteen sailors were injured at the Fallon Naval Auxiliary Air Station. One suffered a broken leg, the others were cut or bruised.

A series of aftershocks culminated in a heavy rolling quake in midafternoon which was felt in San Francisco and made chandeliers swing in San Diego.

Police Chief Peter Lugaski of Fallon said six downtown buildings in the town 60 miles east of Reno were severely damaged.

Segregation Faces 'Generation of Litigation'

By DOUGLAS LARKEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

RICHMOND, Va. — (NEA)— White and Negro children may sit side by side in Southern schools some time during the next generation.

But complete non-segregation, ordered by the historic Supreme Court ruling of May 17, will not be accomplished during the present one.

Meantime, Southern public education, which has been improving rapidly since the war, could deteriorate during the "generation of litigation" shaping up.

These key facts emerge from the conference here of governors and officials from 15 Southern states called to discuss the ruling.

* * *

This is the line-up of attitudes:

Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia and Oklahoma, with the smallest Negro populations, will comply, although spokesmen admit serious difficulties in working the problem out. Speaking the sentiment of this group Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia says:

"We will obey the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court."

The positions of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida, called "in-between" are typified by Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley who called the meeting. Refusing to go on record as intending to comply, he says:

"We hope to work out something acceptable to our people.'

What might be acceptable is indicated by a study Stanley made of the first 236 letters he received. Only seven suggested unqualified compliance. The rest demanded defiance. Fear of resulting racial intermarriage was at the heart of many of the objections to the decision.

The extreme positions of defiance are held by Georgia, South Carolina and Mississippi. Colorful, cigar-smoking Herman Talmadge, governor of Georgia, expresses a typical view:

"From time immemorial they've been getting around Supreme Court decisions. If necessary, to keep our seperate schools we'll abolish public schools and avert to private schools.'

Talmadge and Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi flatly say that this generation will not see segregation ended in their states. And they have doubts it will be ended during the next one. A spokesman from another Southern state says:

"What happens in the future depends on how hard the non-segregation people push it through future court action and over the other roadblocks. The people of the South don't want it and the politicians must fight it with every legal means."

* * *

Gov. James F. Bynres of South Carolina, former U. S. Secretary of State, made no public statement, but reports say he has a Talmadge stand. An education official at the meeting takes this view of the problem:

"The Supreme Court can't rule our prejudices and habits of thinking deeply ingrained in people's minds. And we can't change our schools overnight contrary to the wishes of the people who pay for them, just to satisfy the Supreme Court."

He adds:

"Unfortunately the effort we now must spend circumventing the ruling is obviously going to detract from our work to improve the school system."

Other officials also admit that none of the many plans considered as a way to defy the ruling would improve the quality of education. "And with the educational system in a turmoil," one adds, "teaching as a career is going to be far less attractive to both Negro and white youths considering entering this field which needs them so much."

* * *

Talmadge Indicates his state will force a legal showdown on segregation in every school district. The cost in time and money for this litigation would do great harm to Georgia's schools.

Georgia's tentative plan for abolishing the public schools and subsidizinz private schools, which interests the other states greatly, also lends itself to waste and lowered standards. A Mississippi plan to have children assigned to schools on the basis of health and welfare, with no mention of race, would cost extra money and not add to the standard of education.

Any private school plan, with only Negroes attending public schools, is bound to mean less entnusiasm for the school system on the part of most of the taxpayers.

* * *

Talk of amending compulsory attendance laws to cut down on Negro attendance, another idea being seriously considered by the states, would also mean a step backward for the general level of education. State education officials admit this but reason:

"The fact is we are not ready to end separate, school and the result is a blow to the progress of the schools in the South.'

Even those states which announce intentions to comply will send representatives to a meeting of Southern state attorneys generly before the Supreme Court meets in the fall to hear proposals from the states for working out details of ending segregation. This will be another session of swapping ideas aimed at circumventing the decision.

It all adds up to the fact that the legal battle for non-segregation in schools which began in Boston in 1849, is not ended. In that year abolitionist Charles Sumner argued before the Massachusetts Supreme Court that a Negro child forced to attend a Negro school, was deprived of her rights.

* * *

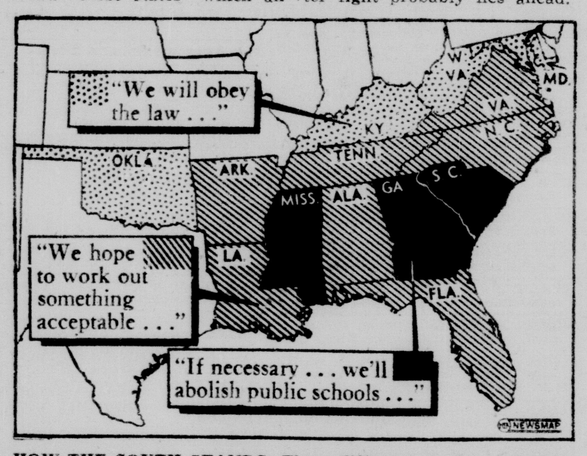

The court ruled that as long as the Negro school was as good as the white school there was no discrimination. That became the basis for the "separate but equal" doctrine which remained in effect until the May 17 decision.

Only Virginia, South Carolina, Delaware, Kansas and the District of Columbia were parties in the case. But it is obvious how it concerns the other states. Delaware, Kansas and the District Columbia all have plans for complete compliance.

However, opinions expressed at the governors' meeting make it obvious that those who fought for non-segration did not win final victory by the Supreme Cuort decision and that an even more bitter fight probably lies ahead.

NON-SEGREGATION IN ACTION: District of Columbia schools hold their first unsegregated teacher exams after historic ruling.

HOW THE SOUTH STANDS: Three different shadings of states match quotes that show lineup of the South on segregation.

It can climb trees with these claws long before it can fly and an objectionable musty odor it emits to dispel its 'natural enemies has earned it the name of "stinking preasant.'

Says Removal Is 'Penalty For Progress'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Walter F. Brookshier says his removal as assistant postmaster here is "penalty for progress."

Brookshier, who has had 34 years of service, was appointed to the job in 1946 under the Truman Democratic administration.

The Post Office Department on July 2 ordered his dismissal on a charge that he used excessive manpower in the 1952 Christmas season.

Postmaster Alex Sachs said last night that the department withdrew that order and Brookshier was allowed to retire so he could preserve his retirement benefits. Sachs said he considered Brookshier's work satisfactory.

Brookshier, in a statement, said the charge was based "on the fact that I got the Christmas job done in December 1953 with fewer manhours than in December 1952."

He said the December 1953 savings occurred because there were 200 fewer freight carloads of parcel post than in December 1952. $250,000 was spent to improve the conveyor and mail handling equipment for the 1953 Christmas and experienced workers were allowed to work overtime in 1953 while the year before the department policy was to use inexperienced workers.

"Yet in March 1954 the department belatedly used the saving as a pretext for charges against me of waste in December 1952," he said. "With the new policy of 'penalty for progress' I was adjudged guilty of waste."

Judge Favors Commie Songs and Prayers

TOKYO (AP) — Impeachment proceedings opened today against a judge accused of opening his court with Communist songs and allowing Red defendants to "pray for a Communist victory in Korea."

A Diet committee is conducting the hearing against Judge Tetsuzo Sasaki of Osaka.

The prayers for a Red victory allegedly occurred last July at the trial of persons accused of participating in a Communist 1952 May Day riot.

Reds Open Show Trial Of Nine East Germans For Killing Pigs

BERLIN (AP) — A Communist court opened a show trial today of nine East Germans charged with killing 3,350 pigs at a state-operated farm. The prosecution charged the men deliberately spread disease among the pigs.

The indictment said the defendants, eight farm supervisors and Guenter Niethe, the former deputy head of the Angermuende District Council, had also caused a million east marks (about $200,000) damage by keeping down the harvest.

HST Library Trustees Are Expected to Pick Independence as Site

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Trustees of the Harry S. Truman Memorial Library were expected to meet in Washington this afternoon and designate Slover Park in Independence as the site for the library.

That information came from a source close to the former president.

Other sites under consideration have been the Truman farm near Grandview, the University of Kansas City and the University of Missouri.

Polo Shirt Prices Bring Quick Action

MALDEN, Mass. (AP)—A haberdasher is charged with suspicion of larceny because the young saleswoman of a rival store noticed his cut-rate prices.

Miss Joan Lack, 16, spotted a sign in the store advertising polo shirts at three for a dollar.

She told her boss, Martin Bronstein, 42, that "someone's beating your prices."

Bronstein's wife investigated and found that the polo shirts resembled those stolen from the Bronstein warehouse.

The proprietor of the cut-rate store was arrested on suspicion.

Police quoted him as saying he bought the goods from several men identified as former Bornstein employes.

MOST PEOPLE GUESS HUNDREDS TOO HIGH BECAUSE

- FORD is V-8 powered
- FORD is styled over its price
- FORD is more comfortable than its price indicates
- FORD is built better than its price indicates
- FORD is worth more when you sell it, too

It comes down to this: nothing at the price compares with the '54 Ford. It is the only car in its field offering a V-8 engine. And that V-8 is the industry's most modern: a 130-h.p. Y-block V-8! Ford is the only car in its field with a truly modern suspension . . . Ball-Joint Front Suspension. No car without it can ride so comfortably . . . handle so easily. Ford is also the only truly modern-styled car in its field. You can see that at a glance. Because no other car in Ford's field can offer these features until later on, your '54 Ford will be up to date when competitive makes are old hat! That spells extra trade-in value.

Now's the best time to buy—

Says Chemical Produced Cure Of Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a chemical compound that produced permanent cure of one type of transplated cancer in 100 per cent of its trials on rats has been reported by the Sloan-Kettering Institute.

The Institute, which made the announcement yesterday, noted that "no chemical cures of any form of cancer in man have been achieved to date."

The Institute, research unit for the Memorial Center for Cancer & Allied Diseases, has the largest chemical testing program among cancer research units.

The report said the drug that routinely cured all cases of Jensen sarcoma in rats is known as TEM—triethylene melamine—and was developed at the institute.

The Institute's seventh annual progress report summed up the results of its research in chemical injection aimed at starging or poisoning cancer cells in mice and rats.

The results, the report said, "justify the hope that further study may reveal compounds capable of achieving permanent cure in man, not only of leukemia (blood cancer) but eventually of other forms of cancer now beyond control."

The Institute said its record with TEM on rats is believed to be the first 100 per cent effective cancer cure on animals with chemicals.

First Usage

The tank, an engine of war, first was used Sept. 15, 1916, by the British on the Somme during World War I. It subsequently was adopted by the French, United States and German armies.

Law of Calvage

Under Mexican law, a stranded or wrecked ship cannot be boarded for the purpose of salvaging articles of individual gain as long as there is life aboard—even if it is only the ship's mascot.

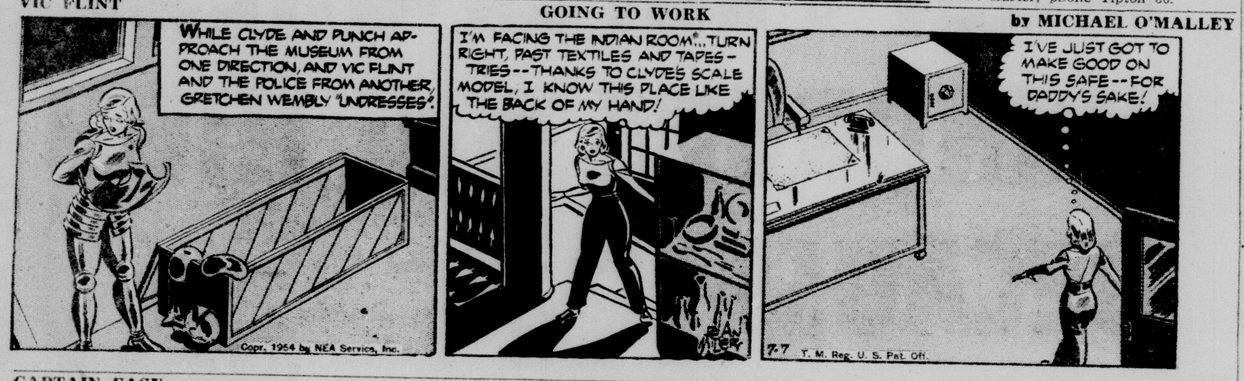

TWIN RARITIES — Albino squirrels are so rare that the capture of a pair of them at Seneca, Ill., caused much excitement. The snow-white oddities are progeny of two normal, wild red squirrels. They are pictured with Jimmie Jones, on whose parents' land they were caught when a few weeks old. The animals are very tame and are thriving.

Man Is Killed In Vasquez Treasure Hunt

SANTA SUSANA, Calif. (AP)—The daughter and son-in-law of a machinist illed yesterday in his search for buried treasure are convinced he was about to find it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hooper of Los Angeles said they will continue the hunt.

Her father, Ronald Merton Fuller, died yesterday at the bottom of a 55-foot shaft, one of many he had dug searching for three chests of gold he believed a Mexican bandit had buried more than 75 years ago.

Fuller, 45, had searched in his spare time for eight years. He had read widely about the bandit, Tiburcio Vasquez, who was hanged in 1875. The chests he sought supposedly were taken from an ambushed stagecoach and buried under a huge rock shaped like a lizard's head.

Guarding the shaft in which Fuller lost his life was a huge rock shaped like a reptile's head. Recent entries in his treasure-hunting log indicate Fuller was convinced he was nearing his goal.

Apparently he met death when dynamite fumes caused him to fall from a ledge inside the shaft to the bottom. Two sailors working with him found the body.

Sets Divorce Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Rosalyn Becker, 35, was believed to have established a record in Cook County (Chicago) yesterday when she filed a suit seeking her third divorce from the same man.

The suit accused her husband Louis, 36, an elevator operator, of cruelty, the same grounds on which she obtained two previous divorces. They have a daughter, Ina, 8.

They were married July 1, 1944; divorced Dec. 30, 1950; married Jan. 30, 1951; divorced March 1951; and married Jan. 23, 1954.

Annual Mail Fraud Costs US Millions

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield reported today that mail fraud schemes are costing the American public over $10,000,000 a year.

In discussing the record of postal crimes which resulaed in 5,977 arrests in the year 1953, Mr. Summerfield said those most frequent were burglaries of post offices, holdups of mail custodians, and theft of mail.

Other frequently occurring crimes against the postal laws, according to Mr. Summerfield, included the wilful destruction of rural mail boxes, the mailing of fraudulent(lottery, and obscene matter and the raising and forgery of money orders and Postal Savings certificates.

One hundred and twelve postmasters and postal workers a minute fraction of the more than one half postal employees, handling a gross money turnover of over $21 billion dollars in 1953, were arrested during the year for embezzlement of funds.

The investigation of postal crimes uses the time of about 200 of the 900 men in the Inspection Service who serve under the Bureau of Chief Inspector in Washington, D. C. One hundred additional inspectors are now being added to meet the ever-increasing volume of work and to afford some relief to the constantly long hours of continuous duty served by the present staff.

Records of the inspectors to date show 99 percent of all those arrested have been convicted, Mr Summerfield noted.

The Inspection Service, he pointed out, goes back to the days of our first Postmaster General on colonial times, Benjamin Franklin; is the oldest of the Federal government law enforcement arms; and is charged with protecting the mail and investigating all postal crimes.

While the Inspection Service is constantly on the trail of mail swindlers and others violating postal laws, Mr. Summerfield cautioned that the continuing tremendous losses through mail frauds—aggregating $10 millions yearly—calls for more vigilance by the public in its own self-interest.

An outstanding example of mail fraud in 1953 victimized 900 people who were swindled out of $1,000,000 on the promise of an operator they would get tax-delinquent land. He had no such land.

A woman mail box thief averaged $100 daily for five months stealing checks from apartment house boxes before inspectors caught her. Another hallboy thief stole electric bills from mail boxes. He confronted the housewives and told them their light bills were overdue and threatened to turn off the electricity unless they paid up. Collected $1,500 before he was caught.

Some other points revealed in the summary: Many mail thieves are driven to their crimes by the craving for dope. Many losses at handling points outside of postal jurisdiction — in mail rooms of private companies, for examble—are an increasing serious problem.

SOLON—E. D. "Ted" Crippa, a Republican, of Rock Springs, will fill out the term of the late Sen. Lester C. Hunt (D., Wyo.). Crippa is GOP national committeeman from Wyoming.
